Eisenhower Vetoes Two Farm Plans

Action On Wheat, Tobacco Points To Battles Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vetoes of two farm bills may well have set the stage for bitter struggles over farm issues next year, both in Congress and in the presidential election campaign.

President Eisenhower rejected Thursday bills affecting wheat and tobacco, saying they failed to meet needs of growers in expanding markets and in curbing costly surplus production.

Under the bills, he said in effect, an already bad situation would have been made worse instead of better.

Eisenhower's action—which had been recommended by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson—apparently killed all prospects of legislation for these two crops this year.

Wheat is in serious trouble because of surpluses and past failure of the present program to control production. Tobacco is losing foreign markets because its rigid support system keeps prices going up. The tobacco bill would have stopped the increase, but would not have lowered the prices.

Democratic leaders in Congress sharply criticized the President's action. Disagreeing with his conclusions, they prepared to carry to the voters their contentions that the rejected measures would have reduced wheat production and cut the cost of farm programs to taxpayers.

Backers of the bills virtually abandoned any hope of overriding the vetoes. Most of them talked in terms of trying again next year, but then on a new broad approach to the problems of farm income and supply stabilization. The House Agriculture Committee will open such long-range hearings Monday.

For wheat, time is growing short for any change in the 1960 program. Farmers are scheduled to vote July 23 on continuance of the present program embracing marketing quotas, a national allotment totaling 55 million acres and supports at 75 per cent of parity.

The vetoed bill would have reduced allotments 25 per cent but

Rain Damages Lisbon Bridge

Firemen Use Pumps To Dry Out Cellars

Heavy rain that hit the Lisbon area late Thursday afternoon flooded the cellars of many homes and business places and sent the swollen Middle Fork of the Little Beaver Creek surging over a bridge on Route 164 just south of the village limits, damaging the abutments.

The bridge, about 500 feet from the village limits, still was closed this morning until the extent of the damage could be checked and traffic was being detoured meanwhile.

Village firemen worked from 5 to 11 p. m. pumping out cellars in business places. Streets were covered with washed slag and debris. Many homes in the area also had flooded basements.

The rainfall was estimated unofficially at 2 inches. Several county roads were covered with mud and drains were clogged, according to John Neill Jr., superintendent of county roads.

Route 558 south of Salem also was closed by a flooded Pennsylvania Railroad Co. underpass. Because the radio system at the Highway Department's county garage was out of service, workers were dispatched in trucks to check on other roads and bridges. Shortly before noon, they had reported no further damage.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, reported 1.33 inches of rain but the storm centered over the Lisbon vicinity.

Lisbon Thrill Show Postponed By Rains

LISBON — Rain Thursday night forced postponement of a performance of Stoney Roberts and his All-American daredevil stunt drivers auto show at the County Fair Grounds. It will be given tonight at 8:15.

The two and one-half hour show will be presented in front of the grandstand. Eight daredevil drivers and two clowns will use convertibles, sedans and high-powered motorcycles and to make deliberate roll-overs, head-on collisions and dive bomber crashes during the show.

It is being sponsored by the County Agricultural Society.

Man Arrested, 2 Sought In Holdup At Toronto Bar

TORONTO — Police today are holding in jail a Steubenville man suspected of being a member of an armed trio which held up a tavern here Thursday afternoon.

Joseph C. DeRosa, 28, was apprehended by the Wintersville State Highway Patrol last night at 7:50 while walking along the railroad tracks near Pottery Addition.

DeRosa, on probation for an attempted breaking and entering, is accused of aiding in the armed robbery of the Savoy Cafe, 1520 Franklin Ave., yesterday at 5:35 p. m.

The trio obtained $25.31 from Premo Luzi, manager of the cafe, who was alone at the time, the patrol reported.

Police still are searching for the two other suspects who fled out the rear door of the tavern when police arrived during the holdup.

A car believed used in the holdup was discovered this morning at 9:30 on Main St.

Captured Weirton Robber Confesses

WEIRTON — A young man accused of the armed robbery of a Weirton tavern was arrested near Pittsburgh Thursday by Pennsylvania State Police with the aid of a taxicab driver.

Harold A. Grumet, 22, of Weirton admitted the $16 holdup of the Home Plate Bar on Cove Rd. Wednesday afternoon, police said. He allegedly bound and gagged a waitress with her blouse and brassiere during the stickup.

Ralph Girdano told police Grumet got into his cab, pulled out the revolver and ordered him to drive to Steubenville.

Girdano drove as far as the state police barracks in Carnegie, parking in front and pretending his motor was overheated.

When ordered to move on by a trooper, the cabbie said the accused gunman handed him $5 and began walking along the road. The cabbie told the trooper his story and Grumet was picked up half a mile away.

Grumet is accused of robbing the Weirton tavern when he pulled an automatic pistol on Mrs. Anna Malta, 36, the waitress, and bound and gagged her in a back room.

Police said Grumet also admitted that he had planned holding up a Pittsburgh delicatessan yesterday with a .22-caliber revolver purchased in a Steubenville department store. However, police quoted him as saying, he changed his mind after two customers entered the establishment.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Chaucey Burroughs of Robinson Township, Grumet was held for Grand Jury action on a charge of attempted armed robbery and taken to the Allegheny County Jail.

2-Way Mishap On North Side Hurts Woman

Broadside Collision Injures Passenger; City Has 2nd Crash

A Beechwood woman was injured Thursday at 4 p. m. when the auto in which she was riding was struck broadside by another at the right - angle intersection of McKinnon and Jennings Ave., North Side, police said.

Mrs. Margaret Curran, 113 Center St., was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the hip after a collision between 1951 two - door sedans driven by William R. Campbell, 37, of 144 Beechwood St., and Mrs. Charlotte Rettger, 30, of 1729 Idaho Ave., Pleasant Heights, police said.

Campbell told police Mrs. Rettger's auto came through the intersection and struck his car broadside. Campbell was headed west on McKinnon and Mrs. Rettger was driving south on McKinnon, officers said. The crash damaged the left side of Campbell's car and the front of Mrs. Rettger's auto.

A collision Thursday night at 6:30 on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." was blamed on blacktop pavement made slippery by rain, police said.

Jeannette L. Ketchum, 29, of Dixonville told police she was driving east about 35 to 40 miles an hour when she lost control, causing her 1956 sedan to spin around and stall on the road. James W. Smith, 22, of 634 Blackmore St., directly behind the woman driver, said he attempted to halt, but his car also skidded on the wet pavement.

2 In Burglary Pick Bad Spot To Count Loot

Suspects Go To Jail For Trespassing On Officer's Property

Two half-brothers who burglarized a Klondyke market early today had the bad luck to halt their auto on a private lane leading to a policeman's cabin on Beaver Creek to count the loot, which led to their arrest for trespassing and a subsequent charge of breaking and entering when they were unable to explain $67.25 in loose silver found on the seat of the car.

The suspects, Howard Echols, 31, and Denward Simpson, 19, are scheduled for arraignment on burglary charges this afternoon before Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw. They are accused of breaking into Martin's Market, 2111 Harvey Ave., operated by Martin Silverman. The two suspects reside in an apartment above the market, police said.

It was another case of police solving a burglary in reverse, as officers did not know the market had been entered when the two men were taken into custody at 4:58 this morning.

The strange chain of circumstances began when the half-brothers pulled their auto into a lane leading to a Beaver Creek cabin owned jointly by Patrolman Paul Carter and Roy Burson, brother of Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. The Burson brothers were at the cabin.

Because of trouble with trespassers in the past, Roy Burson approached the car to tell the two men they must leave, as they were on private property, police said. As he talked with the pair he saw the money spread on the front

Satchmo Rallies Strongly; Sits Up, Jokes With Nurse

Doctors even let him walk to the bathroom unaided.

The king of jazz appeared to have rallied strongly from a grave attack of pneumonia, complicated by a strained heart and stretched lungs resulting from 45 years of blowing on his magic horn.

Despite Armstrong's apparent improvement, doctors still were watching closely for any sign of complications.

Thursday Armstrong's temperature shot up to a dangerous 102. He survived two fever crises.

A medical bulletin shortly after 7 a.m. said his temperature was down to normal. His blood pressure was described as low and his pulse 100.

The medical bulletin said he "showed notable improvement."

That was reflected in other reports coming from Armstrong's room on the third floor of the little hospital here.

His wife left his bedside. Anna Venturini, his English-speaking nurse, said he joked with her cheerfully.

"If this continues without complications," a doctor said, "he will be all right in two or three days."

U.S. Television star Ed Sullivan called at the hospital to say goodbye before leaving Spoleto. Armstrong told him:

"Yesterday was the rough day. But now I think Pops is in the clear."

Prospects Gloomy For Steel Peace

Flurry Of Attempts To Delay Shutdown Dies Out In Hurry

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel negotiations were tangled worse than ever today with an industrywide strike looming Wednesday.

A flurry of industry and union proposals to postpone the shutdown deadline fizzled out Thursday night.

Both sides agreed, however, to resume deadlocked talks this morning with the July 1 strike deadline still in effect.

Prospects seemed gloomy that a walkout could be averted. The industry started banking furnaces.

The trouble is simple. It's a straight and classic clash of opposing economic views.

The steel industry, warned by President Eisenhower that the economy can stand no new steel price boosts, said it cannot afford any more labor costs.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union president, said the industry can boost wages and other benefits out of profits. Steelworkers averaged $3.10 hourly earnings in April, by latest government tally.

McDonald said other industries, including steel-owned coal mines, have already granted handsome pay boosts in 1959.

The steel industry said it could not take on the responsibility for setting off a new round of inflation.

The industry first proposed a strike postponement from Wednesday. It called for an indefinite extension of present contracts, scheduled to expire at midnight Tuesday.

With agreement by the union's wage policy committee, McDonald proposed a 15-day extension provided the industry dated any contract gains back to July 1.

It was on this retroactivity feature that the industry disagreed. Calling it a "red herring," the industry said it implied steel companies would eventually grant concessions they have no intention of making.

Pittsburgh Facility Of Crucible Is Struck

A maintenance men's strike spread to the production force late Thursday afternoon at the Spring Works of the Crucible Steel Co. at Lawrenceville near Pittsburgh.

The strike began yesterday morning by 20 men in maintenance and reached other sections of the mill yesterday afternoon.

Operations Resume At Jones & Laughlin

The strikers voted to end the walkout at a membership meeting of United Steelworkers Local 1272. They struck Sunday night in a dispute over incentive pay rates.

J&L said it expected little delay in getting production back to normal. In addition to the 1,800 strikers, some 4,200 other employes had been idled.

The strike resulted from what the open hearth workers said was a reduction in incentive pay rates without the company notifying the union.

J&L termed the walkout a contract violation. The union said J&L violated the contract.

Evan K. Jones, Local 1272 president, said the main factor in the decision to end the walkout was what he called repercussions in other steelmaking operations.

Fight Hopes Brightened By New Forecast

The fight was postponed from Thursday night because of rain which drenched the Yankee Stadium infield.

Promoter Bill Rosensohn also announced he had received a favorable forecast from a private source. "It's full speed ahead," he said.

Explosion Kills Two

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—An explosion Thursday night hurled two chemical plant workers to their deaths in a 13,000-gallon vat of acid. Firemen recovered the bodies of Albert Hurst and Mac Cox from the vat at the Foote Mineral Co. plant early today.

Joint Efforts Of 2 Nations Emphasized

Five-Hour Tour Of St. Lawrence Link Part Of Exercises

MONTREAL (AP) — President Eisenhower, at ceremonies formally opening the St. Lawrence Seaway today, called the new water route "a magnificent symbol to the entire world of the achievements possible to democratic nations peacefully working together for the common good."

The President joined Queen Elizabeth II here for a five-hour cruise through 31 miles of the seaway aboard the royal yacht Britannia.

In her speech the Queen emphasized that the seaway is a product of the joint efforts of the United States and Canada, a "monument to the enduring friendship of our two nations."

Both the Queen and the President spoke from brief prepared texts.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower flew from Washington to Canada's St. Hubert Air Force Base near Montreal this morning. Elizabeth and Prince Philip, who are on a six-week tour of Canada, met them there. Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and his wife were present when the presidential party arrived.

The main ceremonies took place at St. Lambert Lock, the eastern gate of the seaway, on Montreal's doorstep.

Eisenhower said Americans cherish a record of cooperation and the development of reciprocal trade with Canada.

"There have been and are still problems to solve between us," he said. "But in the past as now we never have faltered in our conviction that these must be settled by patient and understanding negotiation, never by violence."

Eisenhower saluted the architects, planners and workmen who brought the seaway to reality and said former President Herbert Hoover and Canada's former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett "helped create the sentiment for this great development."

The Queen opened her speech with a personal tribute to the President. She said thousands of

In Louisiana Court

Long Opens Fight To Win Freedom

COVINGTON, La. (AP)— Gov. Earl Long goes into a Louisiana court today—20 years to the day he took the reins as state chief executive the first time—to try to win freedom from a mental hospital.

Long and his battery of 11 lawyers will plead their case before District Judge Robert D. Jones in what promises to be a jam-packed junior high school auditorium. The school is substituting for Covington's courthouse while a new building goes up.

Missing from the dramatic hearing scene will be Long's wife, Blanche, and Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La), two of the three persons who signed the governor's original Texas commitment papers May 30.

Mrs. Long remained out of the state—leaving the governor's habeas corpus freedom plea unchallenged from her quarter.

In a surprise move, Long filed a suit for separation from his 58-year-old wife. It served to nullify any possible future commital action by Mrs. Long, but attorneys said the suit was in preparation for a full-scale divorce proceeding.

Senator Long in Washington disengaged himself from the sanity proceedings. The senator, a nephew of the governor, said the matter now rested with the court.

Long's chief counsel, Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, asked Thursday night for the resignation of Jesse H. Bankston, state hospitals director.

Sims, in a taped radio interview, charged the Long-appointed official assisted in Long's commitment. He said Bankston kept Long a virtual prisoner and deprived him of counsel.

Senate Works Into Morning On Tax Plans

Rejects Two Moves For Providing New Aid For Highways

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Senate rejected today two proposals for providing more highway building funds as it passed a bill to continue corporate and excise tax rates at wartime levels for another year.

But it wrote other amendments into the three billion dollar tax measure, making further congressional action necessary before the July 1 deadline. The Senate session lasted 15½ hours, into the early morning.

Unless the bill is signed into law by Tuesday midnight, tax rates drop on corporate income taxes and on excises on automobiles, auto parts and accessories, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer. The House bill extending them for a year had no other provisions.

Committees from the House and Senate hoped to meet today to agree on a final draft of the measure so the Senate and House can pass it early next week.

In votes taken after midnight, the Senate rejected both Esienhower's proposal for a gasoline tax increase and an alternative Democratic plan to prevent an eventual heavy cutback in the big interstate highway program.

The result was to throw in question whether any action would be taken to keep the program on schedule for the years ahead.

Both the rejected amendments would have provided more money for the special highway trust fund from which federal grants are made.

Four other amendments to the tax extender were adopted, all of them strongly opposed by the administration.

It was expected at least some of them would be thrown out in conference; some House leaders had indicated they would give a cold reception to any Senate changes.

The four were:

1. Sponsored by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla), to repeal the 10 per cent passenger travel tax, effective Aug. 1, 1959. This would slice about 235 million dollars a year from tax income.

2. Sponsored by Sen. Robert S.

2 Get Terms In Burglaries

City, Wellsville Men Due At Reformatory

A city man, charged with seven counts of burglary, and a Wellsville man, accused of two cases of breaking and enterings, were sentenced to the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield, while a West Virginian was granted probation by Judge Raymond Buzzard at Lisbon Thursday.

William E. Price of R. D. 1 received 1-15 years at the reformatory for 3 burglaries at the Super-30 Drive-In Theater, 2 at the Skyview Theater and one each at the Speedy Car Wash and the Potters Lumber Co.

William Lee Cline, 26, of 1603 Main St., Wellsville, was given a like term for an entering of the Starlite Cafe at Wellsville and for a burglary of Campbell's Market on Route 45 near Salem.

James Edward Price, 22, of Brown, W. Va., was placed on five years probation for the entering of the Campbell Market with Cline.

Judge Buzzard pointed out Price was on probation from West Virginia when the offense occurred.

Price was granted probation only two months before on a similar charge. It was indicated at the hearing yesterday Price drove an auto around while Cline and another man broke into the market.

Prospects seemed gloomy that a walkout could be averted. The industry started banking furnaces.

The trouble is simple. It's a straight and classic clash of opposing economic views.

The steel industry, warned by President Eisenhower that the economy can stand no new steel price boosts, said it cannot afford any more labor costs.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union president, said the industry can boost wages and other benefits out of profits. Steelworkers averaged $3.10 hourly earnings in April, by latest government tally.

McDonald said other industries, including steel-owned coal mines, have already granted handsome pay boosts in 1959.

The steel industry said it could not take on the responsibility for setting off a new round of inflation.

The industry first proposed a strike postponement from Wednesday. It called for an indefinite extension of present contracts, scheduled to expire at midnight Tuesday.

With agreement by the union's wage policy committee, McDonald proposed a 15-day extension provided the industry dated any contract gains back to July 1.

It was on this retroactivity feature that the industry disagreed. Calling it a "red herring," the industry said it implied steel companies would eventually grant concessions they have no intention of making.

Pittsburgh Facility Of Crucible Is Struck

A maintenance men's strike spread to the production force late Thursday afternoon at the Spring Works of the Crucible Steel Co. at Lawrenceville near Pittsburgh.

The strike began yesterday morning by 20 men in maintenance and reached other sections of the mill yesterday afternoon.

Operations Resume At Jones & Laughlin

The strikers voted to end the walkout at a membership meeting of United Steelworkers Local 1272. They struck Sunday night in a dispute over incentive pay rates.

J&L said it expected little delay in getting production back to normal. In addition to the 1,800 strikers, some 4,200 other employes had been idled.

The strike resulted from what the open hearth workers said was a reduction in incentive pay rates without the company notifying the union.

J&L termed the walkout a contract violation. The union said J&L violated the contract.

Evan K. Jones, Local 1272 president, said the main factor in the decision to end the walkout was what he called repercussions in other steelmaking operations.

Fight Hopes Brightened By New Forecast

The fight was postponed from Thursday night because of rain which drenched the Yankee Stadium infield.

Promoter Bill Rosensohn also announced he had received a favorable forecast from a private source. "It's full speed ahead," he said.

Explosion Kills Two

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—An explosion Thursday night hurled two chemical plant workers to their deaths in a 13,000-gallon vat of acid. Firemen recovered the bodies of Albert Hurst and Mac Cox from the vat at the Foote Mineral Co. plant early today.

Joint Efforts Of 2 Nations Emphasized

MONTREAL (AP) — President Eisenhower, at ceremonies formally opening the St. Lawrence Seaway today, called the new water route "a magnificent symbol to the entire world of the achievements possible to democratic nations peacefully working together for the common good."

In her speech the Queen emphasized that the seaway is a product of the joint efforts of the United States and Canada, a "monument to the enduring friendship of our two nations."

Both the Queen and the President spoke from brief prepared texts.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower flew from Washington to Canada's St. Hubert Air Force Base near Montreal this morning. Elizabeth and Prince Philip, who are on a six-week tour of Canada, met them there. Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and his wife were present when the presidential party arrived.

The main ceremonies took place at St. Lambert Lock, the eastern gate of the seaway, on Montreal's doorstep.

Eisenhower said Americans cherish a record of cooperation and the development of reciprocal trade with Canada.

"There have been and are still problems to solve between us," he said. "But in the past as now we never have faltered in our conviction that these must be settled by patient and understanding negotiation, never by violence."

Eisenhower saluted the architects, planners and workmen who brought the seaway to reality and said former President Herbert Hoover and Canada's former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett "helped create the sentiment for this great development."

The Queen opened her speech with a personal tribute to the President. She said thousands of

In Louisiana Court

Long Opens Fight To Win Freedom

COVINGTON, La. (AP)— Gov. Earl Long goes into a Louisiana court today—20 years to the day he took the reins as state chief executive the first time—to try to win freedom from a mental hospital.

Long and his battery of 11 lawyers will plead their case before District Judge Robert D. Jones in what promises to be a jam-packed junior high school auditorium. The school is substituting for Covington's courthouse while a new building goes up.

Missing from the dramatic hearing scene will be Long's wife, Blanche, and Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La), two of the three persons who signed the governor's original Texas commitment papers May 30.

Mrs. Long remained out of the state—leaving the governor's habeas corpus freedom plea unchallenged from her quarter.

In a surprise move, Long filed a suit for separation from his 58-year-old wife. It served to nullify any possible future commital action by Mrs. Long, but attorneys said the suit was in preparation for a full-scale divorce proceeding.

Senator Long in Washington disengaged himself from the sanity proceedings. The senator, a nephew of the governor, said the matter now rested with the court.

Long's chief counsel, Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, asked Thursday night for the resignation of Jesse H. Bankston, state hospitals director.

Sims, in a taped radio interview, charged the Long-appointed official assisted in Long's commitment. He said Bankston kept Long a virtual prisoner and deprived him of counsel.

Senate Works Into Morning On Tax Plans

Rejects Two Moves For Providing New Aid For Highways

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Senate rejected today two proposals for providing more highway building funds as it passed a bill to continue corporate and excise tax rates at wartime levels for another year.

But it wrote other amendments into the three billion dollar tax measure, making further congressional action necessary before the July 1 deadline. The Senate session lasted 15½ hours, into the early morning.

Unless the bill is signed into law by Tuesday midnight, tax rates drop on corporate income taxes and on excises on automobiles, auto parts and accessories, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer. The House bill extending them for a year had no other provisions.

Committees from the House and Senate hoped to meet today to agree on a final draft of the measure so the Senate and House can pass it early next week.

In votes taken after midnight, the Senate rejected both Esienhower's proposal for a gasoline tax increase and an alternative Democratic plan to prevent an eventual heavy cutback in the big interstate highway program.

The result was to throw in question whether any action would be taken to keep the program on schedule for the years ahead.

Both the rejected amendments would have provided more money for the special highway trust fund from which federal grants are made.

Four other amendments to the tax extender were adopted, all of them strongly opposed by the administration.

It was expected at least some of them would be thrown out in conference; some House leaders had indicated they would give a cold reception to any Senate changes.

The four were:

1. Sponsored by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla), to repeal the 10 per cent passenger travel tax, effective Aug. 1, 1959. This would slice about 235 million dollars a year from tax income.

2. Sponsored by Sen. Robert S.

26 From City Will Join River Tour Of Ohio Valley

A 26-member delegation of East Liverpool business and professional men and civic leaders will cruise up the Ohio River from Brilliant Tuesday on the final leg of a three-day tour to show off the resources of the Upper Ohio Valley to a large delegation of visiting industrialists, financiers, rail and utility executives and writers.

The all-day cruise and program aboard the excursion boat Chaperon will end at the Broadway wharf, where the visitors will board chartered buses to take them to the Greater Pittsburgh Airport and destinations in Steubenville and Wheeling.

East Liverpool's delegation will board a special bus at the Bus Terminal at 6:30 a. m., scheduled to arrive at the Ft. Steuben Hotel in Steubenville at 7:30. They will join the tour at the Ft. Steuben, where the tour guests will spend the preceding night.

Buses will take the group to Brilliant, where it will board the Chaperon at 8 for breakfast and the start of the last leg of the upriver cruise.

The local delegation will include:

J. Nessly Porter, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Mrs. Evelyn W. Popp, Councilman W. E. Kaiser, David E. Beatty, W. Leland Thompson, Arthur Simmers, Malcolm W. Thompson, Don Eckert, C. V. Hughes, Arthur T. Thomas, George A. Shaw and Robert F. Popp.

Wellsville will be represented by Mayor William J. Shoub and Councilman J. Frederick Russell.

The tour is being arranged by the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council with the co-operation of other industrial development

City, Wellsville Men Due At Reformatory

A city man, charged with seven counts of burglary, and a Wellsville man, accused of two cases of breaking and enterings, were sentenced to the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield, while a West Virginian was granted probation by Judge Raymond Buzzard at Lisbon Thursday.

William E. Price of R. D. 1 received 1-15 years at the reformatory for 3 burglaries at the Super-30 Drive-In Theater, 2 at the Skyview Theater and one each at the Speedy Car Wash and the Potters Lumber Co.

William Lee Cline, 26, of 1603 Main St., Wellsville, was given a like term for an entering of the Starlite Cafe at Wellsville and for a burglary of Campbell's Market on Route 45 near Salem.

James Edward Price, 22, of Brown, W. Va., was placed on five years probation for the entering of the Campbell Market with Cline.

Judge Buzzard pointed out Price was on probation from West Virginia when the offense occurred.

Price was granted probation only two months before on a similar charge. It was indicated at the hearing yesterday Price drove an auto around while Cline and another man broke into the market.

groups from Pittsburgh to Marietta and Parkersburg. It will begin Sunday afternoon at 1:55 when the visitors from outside the district board an Allegheny Airlines plane at Greater Pittsburgh Airport to fly to Marietta-Parkersburg Airport. They will stay overnight at the Lafayette Hotel in Marietta.

East Liverpool will have three representatives on the entire three-day tour — T. Fred Edwards, president, and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager, of the Chamber of Commerce, and Lawrence W. Black, a member of the local UOVDC committee.

The upriver cruise on the Chaperon will start Monday at 7:30 a. m. A highlight of the first day's cruise will be a 30-minute talk on "Resources of the Ohio Valley" by Dr. Paul Craig of Ohio State University. Lt. Col. Harold Beatty of the Huntington District Corps of Engineers will discuss Ohio River flood and navigation modernization.

The first day cruise will end with a dinner and program at Wilson Lodge in Oglebay Park, near Wheeling. Dr. Pat Gainer of West Virginia University will entertain with West Virginia mountain folk lore.

Representatives of the West Virginia and Ohio state governments will deliver official greetings from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Gov. Cecil Underwood. The host committee at the Wilson Lodge will include Winston Porter, J. N. Porter, and Ashbaugh. Also attending the dinner from East Liverpool will be Brian Donley and Simmers.

Following the dinner, the group will leave for the Ft. Steuben Hotel.

Dr. Craig also will discuss the valley's resources on Tuesday's cruise. Another speaker will be Col. W. W. Smith Jr. of the Pittsburgh Corps of Engineers, who will discuss the new "super-dam" under construction at Stratton.

Mayor Lawrence will extend an official welcome to East Liverpool as the Chaperon locks through Dam 8 at Newell and heads for the Broadway wharf. The boat will be met near Dam 8 and escorted to the wharf by a flotilla of small boats led by S. C. Porter Jr. The boat is scheduled to dock about 3:30.

As the guests disembark, they will be greeted by calliope tunes played by Robert Corbin of Barnesville. Corbin, whose calliope is mounted on a pickup truck, will play at several points along the tour. His East Liverpool concert will start about a half hour before the boat docks.

When the visitors alight from the Chaperon, their baggage will be loaded aboard buses there by members of the Chamber, UOVDC and Junior Chamber. William Webber is in charge of recruiting Jaycees for the project.

City officials have been asked to provide a police escort to speed the departing special buses to the city limits on their way to Pittsburgh, Steubenville and Wheeling.

Blaze Blamed On Bolt Destroys Barn, Cattle

EAST PALESTINE — A barn and its contests — including a bull and heifer — at the farm of George Sweitzer north of New Waterford, were destroyed Thursday afternoon in a fire apparently ignited by a lightning bolt.

New Waterford volunteer firemen battled the blaze, but could only prevent the flames from spreading to nearby structures. The fire, which began aboout 3 p. m., also destroyed a tractor and other equipment.

Wellsville's Parade Set Despite Showers

Despite a forecast for showers and thundershowers through Saturday, the Wellsville volunteer fire department's homecoming parade will be held tonight if at all possible.

Bands drill squads and floats will parade at 8 as scheduled unless the weather makes it impossible, Jack Phillips, homecoming chairman, announced.

Phillips pointed out that rain fell before other parades in the past, but few had been postponed.

Seaway

British Commonwealth fighting men were "proud to serve under your leadership until the ultimate victory was won. We have a special welcome for you as Gen. Eisenhower."

Elizabeth recalled centuries-old dreams and plans for a deep-water route to the Great Lakes and praised the common efforts of Canada and the United States in bringing them to reality.

"The two nations built it together and the two nations will share its benefits," she said. "More than all this, it is a magnificent monument to the enduring friendship of our two nations and to their partnership in the development of North America."

For President Eisenhower, it was the mark of his success in getting U. S. participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway approved by Congress—after other presidents before him had failed.

For Elizabeth, it emphasized her place as Queen of Canada, and was the high point of her current tour across her North American territory. The Seaway has been in actual operation since April, but the ceremonial opening was delayed for the Queen's participation.

The Queen's six-million-dollar yacht Britannia was polished for the five-hour trip carrying the President and Elizabeth from the St. Lambert Locks, at Montreal's doorstep, to the Beauharnois Locks upstream.

The President's schedule in Canada covered 7½ hours beginning with Elizabeth's greeting at nearby St. Hubert Air Base, where U. S. and Canadian defense units operate. President and Mrs. Eisenhower were flying in from Washington to meet the Queen, her husband, Prince Philip, and Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and his wife at the air base.

After a 21-gun salute to the President, he and the Queen were to make an eight-mile automobile ride through crowds of cheering Canadians to the St. Lambert Locks for the ceremonies.

More than 500 guests, including officials and dignitaries of 50 nations, were invited to the St. Lambert ceremony.

Warships of the United States, Canada and Britain were to escort the Britannia through the St. Lambert Locks, the seaway's eastern gate.

Aboard the yacht, after another 21-gun salute, the Queen and Prince Philip were to entertain at a luncheon.

After the cruise to Beauharnois Locks, the President was to make an evening flight back to Washington. The Queen was to continue on the yacht to the area of the St. Lawrence lying between Cornwall, Ont., and Massena, N. Y.

This is the site of a joint U. S.-Canadian power project using the power behind the St. Lawrence's cascading waters. Vice President Richard M. Nixon will meet her there Saturday.

Farm Bills

would have raised support to 90 per cent of parity.

No Eisenhower veto has been overridden since he took office in 1953.

Eisenhower predicted that if he had signed the bill, wheat production would have increased despite the acreage cut. He said that in the 1954-58 period, acreage was reduced 25 per cent but the yield per acre went up 30 per cent and that the same situation would be likely to happen in 1960 and 1961.

The tobacco bill would have kept price supports at their present level for the next five years. Eisenhower conceded it might save the government 15 million dollars in the first year in support costs, but said" it certainly will not regain any lost markets, because the level of price supports it requires would still be too high."

Minor Progress Seen In Lisbon Firm Strike

LISBON — Some minor progress toward settlement of the 22-day-old strike at the Thomas Works of the H. K. Porter Co. was reported in a meeting Thursday between management and workers.

Mrs. Roberta Calugar, president of Local 797 of the United Brick and Clay Workers, said some progress was made at yesterday's session, and another meeting is to be held Tuesday morning at 10 at the plant.

A spokesman for the firm — which manufactures electric insulators — also said some progress was made in settling the dispute which stems over a new contract on such issues as working conditions and a proposed pay increase.

New For Noodles

CHICAGO (AP) — A new do-it-yourself noodlemaker will enable Americans, who eat adout 630,000 tons of noodles annually, to cut the cost of the Italian favorite. By using the gadget, anyone can turn out home-made noodles. A twist of a dial and an additional trip through it produces square, rectangular or diamond shaped noodles.

Weirton Driver Cited In Crash Injuring 2

A Weirton motorist was cited by the Wintersville State Highway Patrol following a crash Thursday night on Jefferson County Rd. 36 near Bloomingdale on Route 22 in which 2 Bergholz men were injured slightly.

Caldwell's auto collided with another driven by Lee Laubacher, 20, of Malvern at 7:45 p. m., the patrol said.

Injured passengers in Laubacher's auto were John Kolesar, 20, and Paul Herbich, 38, who were treated for bruises of the nose and forehead at the Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville.

Fair Plans Advanced By Chester Lions Club

About 18 attended a meeting of the Chester Lions Club Thursday night at the clubhouse when further plans were made for the annual fair to be held at the City Park July 27-Aug. 1.

Bill Yokum, who attended Camp Horseshoe under the sponsorship of the club, spoke briefly about the youth camp. Dino Rossi of the Chester Lumber Co. will be the club delegate to the International Lions Club convention at New York next week.

Salem Cyclist Hurt

SALEM — William Faulk, 22, of N. Ellsworth Ave. is in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital today with injuries suffered when his motorcycle crashed into a mailbox and signpost on Route 62 four miles west of here Thursday night. The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon still is investigating.

Man Shown Leniency In Old Gun Threat Case

LISBON — Roy Rowe, 47, of Salineville R. D. was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 6 months in the County Jail for pointing firearms and $100 and costs and 30 days for resisting arrest at a hearing Thursday on old charges before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Rowe was convicted by a jury on Oct. 8, 1957, but had never been sentenced.

Judge Sharp suspended the fines and jail sentence pending good behavior but Rowe must pay the costs.

Rowe was indicted by the September grand jury in 1957 after Police Chief Cleo Mallott and Marshal Stanley Fitch went to Rowe's home to arrest him on an affidavit filed by John Tsemilles that Rowe had threatened him. He pleaded not guilty at arraignment.

When the visitors alight from the Chaperon, their baggage will be loaded aboard buses there by members of the Chamber, UOVDC and Junior Chamber. William Webber is in charge of recruiting Jaycees for the project.

City officials have been asked to provide a police escort to speed the departing special buses to the city limits on their way to Pittsburgh, Steubenville and Wheeling.

Blaze Blamed On Bolt Destroys Barn, Cattle

EAST PALESTINE — A barn and its contests — including a bull and heifer — at the farm of George Sweitzer north of New Waterford, were destroyed Thursday afternoon in a fire apparently ignited by a lightning bolt.

New Waterford volunteer firemen battled the blaze, but could only prevent the flames from spreading to nearby structures. The fire, which began aboout 3 p. m., also destroyed a tractor and other equipment.

Sweitzer is employed at the Murray Feed Mill here.

Wellsville's Parade Set Despite Showers

Despite a forecast for showers and thundershowers through Saturday, the Wellsville volunteer fire department's homecoming parade will be held tonight if at all possible.

Bands drill squads and floats will parade at 8 as scheduled unless the weather makes it impossible, Jack Phillips, homecoming chairman, announced.

Phillips pointed out that rain fell before other parades in the past, but few had been postponed.

Seaway

British Commonwealth fighting men were "proud to serve under your leadership until the ultimate victory was won. We have a special welcome for you as Gen. Eisenhower."

Elizabeth recalled centuries-old dreams and plans for a deep-water route to the Great Lakes and praised the common efforts of Canada and the United States in bringing them to reality.

"The two nations built it together and the two nations will share its benefits," she said. "More than all this, it is a magnificent monument to the enduring friendship of our two nations and to their partnership in the development of North America."

For President Eisenhower, it was the mark of his success in getting U. S. participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway approved by Congress—after other presidents before him had failed.

For Elizabeth, it emphasized her place as Queen of Canada, and was the high point of her current tour across her North American territory. The Seaway has been in actual operation since April, but the ceremonial opening was delayed for the Queen's participation.

The Queen's six-million-dollar yacht Britannia was polished for the five-hour trip carrying the President and Elizabeth from the St. Lambert Locks, at Montreal's doorstep, to the Beauharnois Locks upstream.

The President's schedule in Canada covered 7½ hours beginning with Elizabeth's greeting at nearby St. Hubert Air Base, where U. S. and Canadian defense units operate. President and Mrs. Eisenhower were flying in from Washington to meet the Queen, her husband, Prince Philip, and Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and his wife at the air base.

After a 21-gun salute to the President, he and the Queen were to make an eight-mile automobile ride through crowds of cheering Canadians to the St. Lambert Locks for the ceremonies.

More than 500 guests, including officials and dignitaries of 50 nations, were invited to the St. Lambert ceremony.

Warships of the United States, Canada and Britain were to escort the Britannia through the St. Lambert Locks, the seaway's eastern gate.

Aboard the yacht, after another 21-gun salute, the Queen and Prince Philip were to entertain at a luncheon.

After the cruise to Beauharnois Locks, the President was to make an evening flight back to Washington. The Queen was to continue on the yacht to the area of the St. Lawrence lying between Cornwall, Ont., and Massena, N. Y.

This is the site of a joint U. S.-Canadian power project using the power behind the St. Lawrence's cascading waters. Vice President Richard M. Nixon will meet her there Saturday.

Farm Bills

would have raised support to 90 per cent of parity.

No Eisenhower veto has been overridden since he took office in 1953.

Eisenhower predicted that if he had signed the bill, wheat production would have increased despite the acreage cut. He said that in the 1954-58 period, acreage was reduced 25 per cent but the yield per acre went up 30 per cent and that the same situation would be likely to happen in 1960 and 1961.

The tobacco bill would have kept price supports at their present level for the next five years. Eisenhower conceded it might save the government 15 million dollars in the first year in support costs, but said" it certainly will not regain any lost markets, because the level of price supports it requires would still be too high."

Minor Progress Seen In Lisbon Firm Strike

LISBON — Some minor progress toward settlement of the 22-day-old strike at the Thomas Works of the H. K. Porter Co. was reported in a meeting Thursday between management and workers.

Mrs. Roberta Calugar, president of Local 797 of the United Brick and Clay Workers, said some progress was made at yesterday's session, and another meeting is to be held Tuesday morning at 10 at the plant.

A spokesman for the firm — which manufactures electric insulators — also said some progress was made in settling the dispute which stems over a new contract on such issues as working conditions and a proposed pay increase.

New For Noodles

CHICAGO (AP) — A new do-it-yourself noodlemaker will enable Americans, who eat adout 630,000 tons of noodles annually, to cut the cost of the Italian favorite. By using the gadget, anyone can turn out home-made noodles. A twist of a dial and an additional trip through it produces square, rectangular or diamond shaped noodles.

Weirton Driver Cited In Crash Injuring 2

A Weirton motorist was cited by the Wintersville State Highway Patrol following a crash Thursday night on Jefferson County Rd. 36 near Bloomingdale on Route 22 in which 2 Bergholz men were injured slightly.

Caldwell's auto collided with another driven by Lee Laubacher, 20, of Malvern at 7:45 p. m., the patrol said.

Injured passengers in Laubacher's auto were John Kolesar, 20, and Paul Herbich, 38, who were treated for bruises of the nose and forehead at the Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville.

Fair Plans Advanced By Chester Lions Club

About 18 attended a meeting of the Chester Lions Club Thursday night at the clubhouse when further plans were made for the annual fair to be held at the City Park July 27-Aug. 1.

Bill Yokum, who attended Camp Horseshoe under the sponsorship of the club, spoke briefly about the youth camp. Dino Rossi of the Chester Lumber Co. will be the club delegate to the International Lions Club convention at New York next week.

Salem Cyclist Hurt

SALEM — William Faulk, 22, of N. Ellsworth Ave. is in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital today with injuries suffered when his motorcycle crashed into a mailbox and signpost on Route 62 four miles west of here Thursday night. The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon still is investigating.

Man Shown Leniency In Old Gun Threat Case

LISBON — Roy Rowe, 47, of Salineville R. D. was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 6 months in the County Jail for pointing firearms and $100 and costs and 30 days for resisting arrest at a hearing Thursday on old charges before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Rowe was convicted by a jury on Oct. 8, 1957, but had never been sentenced.

Judge Sharp suspended the fines and jail sentence pending good behavior but Rowe must pay the costs.

Rowe was indicted by the September grand jury in 1957 after Police Chief Cleo Mallott and Marshal Stanley Fitch went to Rowe's home to arrest him on an affidavit filed by John Tsemilles that Rowe had threatened him. He pleaded not guilty at arraignment.

It's All Collective Bargaining

Nerve-cracking suspense about the 1959 showdown on the steel industry's pace-setting negotiations for a labor contract will get tighter every day until the matter is settled.

As has happened before, the deadline for reaching agreement may turn out to be only an incident in the buildup of suspense. A shutdown, if one happens, will become part of a continuing strategy of pressure and maneuver between the employers and the union.

It's all collective bargaining — the bitter with the better.

One must be taken with the other as long as collective bargaining is the practice of the land — and no one is suggesting that it should not be.

THERE WILL CONTINUE to be charges and counter-charges of unfairness and misrepresentation.

The propagandists will continue to be just as important as the negotiators.

There will be an endless barrage of statistics, most of them fashioned to suit the purpose of the side that fires them.

Politicians and public officials will scurry hither and yon, trying to get themselves into a position where they can jump at any advantage that offers itself.

Emotionalism will be played to the limit. The flag will be waved and drums will be beaten.

Moderation will be smothered by extremism.

Wild excesses will be committed. Needless harm will be done. Spite will be commonplace. Agitators will have a big inning, and the jackals and hyenas of economic and social strife will fill their bellies and bay to the moon.

Cool heads and tempers will be hard to locate. There will be times when foreigners who do not understand either American politics or American industrial bargaining will send word home, as they have been known to do in the midst of presidential elections, that the United States finally has got in so deep it never will find its way out again.

Wounds will be inflicted. Things will be said and done that no one will recall with pride when passions have simmered down and the country has returned to something more nearly normal. Some of these already are in the record.

WHATEVER HAPPENS, it's all part of the process of collective bargaining. Only rarely does the dream of objective bargainers negotiating logically and fairly around a table materialize.

Far more often, what goes on around the table is the lesser part of what is going on outside the room where the table is situated. Collective bargaining usually turns into a wild-swinging fracas in the marketplace of popular opinion, with millions of persons involved because their personal welfare is hanging in the balance.

That is the way the 1959 showdown on steel is shaping up, with the July 1 deadline coming closer by the minute.

The Price Of Progress

Never were more symbols of human potentiality brought together in one dramatic ceremony than in the St. Lawrence Seaway dedication at the St. Lambert Lock near Montreal.

The seaway itself symbolizes the infinite power of the ideas that spring from the mind of man when his intelligence is turned to construction instead of destruction.

The staggering obstacles that had to be overcome to build the seaway are not to be overlooked either. Besides the vast mutation of natural geography represented by the creation of an eighth "ocean" in the Great Lakes of North America, there were the handicaps of conflicting man-made interests that had to be weighed and appraised for generations.

Not the least of the problems, moreover, was human doubt, which will continue as long as the seaway exists. Those who opposed its beginning warned it never would be perfect. Those who built it were second-guessed and criticized at every turn. Those now operating it are hearing, "I told you so," because experience with the seaway since it was opened for use last April has revealed shortcomings that may not be overcome for decades.

But the St. Lawrence seaway is finally a reality — one of the great achievements of mankind in the struggle to create a better world. The idea was stronger than all the doubts that were raised against it — stronger than all the opposition that tried to prevent its realization.

The dedication ceremony brought together an English queen who symbolizes the potentialities of government by consent and American president who symbolizes the potentialities of government by election.

The ceremony was held in a place symbolic of the peace that has existed between the United States and Canada — a mutual security pact so ingrained in the practices of the two countries that special consent had to be obtained to suspend temporarily the Rush-Bagot Convention of 1817 which provided for the perpetual disarmament of the Great Lakes. Otherwise, no military craft could have participated in the ceremony.

Everything that has preceded the ceremony has been part of the price that men must pay for progress. The price is always high; nothing worthwhile ever can be bought cheaply. Yet, this is soon forgotten. Those who come along later take for granted all improvements found when they arrived.

When it is their turn to pay for progress, they too wonder if the price may not be too high to bear. It isn't. Until it's paid, there can be no progress.

Whether Salk Or Sabin

There is no reason for the current lively interest in the polio vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of the University of Cincinnati to confuse the public mind about Salk vaccine.

Dr. Sabin seems to have done much sooner than could have been anticipated what someone was destined to do sooner or later. He has found what he and his friends and sponsors believe to be still another way to immunize human beings against polio.

This in no way detracts from the great accomplishment of Dr. Jonas E. Salk and the people who worked with him. The two accomplishments complement each other.

By 1957, when Dr. Sabin's vaccine was ready for use, Dr. Salk's vaccine already was in use, and it was the judgment of medical authorities to let the Salk vaccine prove itself without confusing the picture by introducing another type of vaccine at the same time.

Consequently, the Sabin vaccine, which is cheaper to produce and easier to administer, was given its definitive tests outside the United States. Two million Russians, for instance, have been given Sabin vaccine, which is being produced in the United States by a reputable drug manufacturer and apparently is destined to find its place on an even footing with the Salk vaccine. In the long run, because of its relative simplicity of both manufacture and administration, the Sabin vaccine may become preferable.

But that should not be surprising, if it happens. Medical evolution may bring forth still another polio immunization better than either one now known.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Imaginary transcript of report by Secretary Herter to the President:

Ike: Welcome home, and I hope the punishment at Geneva was not too severe.

Herter: It's nice to be back where things are not wholly incredible.

Ike: What was the final score?

Herter: It was a draw between Bewilderment and Confusion. I thought confusion had a slight edge. Both sides had too many men left on bases and looked bad in the runs-batted-in column.

Ike: How do you feel after the ordeal of diplomacy by conflict?

Ike: You stood it very well under the usual Soviet use of monkey wrenches, sledge hammers, hatchets and spiked shoes as instruments of peace and brotherly love.

Herter: You left out the tomahawks, mine fields and doubletalk with built-in evasiveness.

Herter: I intend to be examined by radiologists for burns and tissue breakdowns.

Ike: Do you think I should go to the summit?

Herter: Not unless you wear a costume designed to protect you from oratorical fallouts and insist on your right to take a portable shelter during any address by a Soviet leader.

Union Provides Free Legal Aid

By Victor Riesel

Fashions on this beat will be coming out of Los Angeles this year. Labor men there have found something new under the California sun. Elsewhere if you get sick, get a headache, get a toothache or even get a baby, the union provides free medical care. Now if you get arrested, an influential Los Angeles union council will provide free legal care.

Victor Riesel

But you needn't be arrested or in trouble to receive this free legal aid — for which the employer pays indirectly. If you're one of the 22,000 members of the Los Angeles Joint Council of Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders Unions, you can obtain free legal advice in civil matters too.

The council's special panel of lawyers will help a member adopt a baby, sue in personal injury cases, fight attachment proceedings and go homesteading.

THIS PLAN has been operating secretly for a year. The Restaurant-Hotel Employers Council of Southern California agreed to pay for this pilot pioneer legal plan if they had the word of the union chiefs, headed by John Cooper, that it would not be publicized.

The management people did not object to paying a half cent an hour per worker into a kitty which totals $204,000 a year. It was the lawyers who screamed. So everybody agreed to keep it quiet for a year. The pact of silence has now expired.

Soon this demand will be thrown on a thousand bargaining tables and will be remembered long after the steel crisis. This is the first real change in bargaining demands since a fringe became more than a tassle with a surrey underneath.

The union's first problem was to get lawyers for its free legal plan. Talent was available at the $25 an hour fee which the labor men were offering for consultations. But the bar associations didn't exactly hail the innovation. The legal societies pointed to canons of ethics which threaten disbarment if lawyers get mixed up with certain activities such as soliciting legal services. But these canons had a loophole — and the union executive board drove its setup right through.

THE CANONS do not ban legal work done in the name of charity. The union promptly set up its plan as the Emergency Relief Fund. About $100,000 was thrown into it for the first year. A panel of lawyers was selected.

Members seeking advice on civil matters go to the union, state their woes and are sent on to one of the attorneys. The legal advice is limited to matters which can be handled in no more than two office interviews.

Advice the members can't get, however, is how to sue another union member, or an employer or the unionist's wife—if she's a member of the same union.

If a member is arrested, the union's bonding company gets him out quickly. Each member carries a bail bond card. The card acts as identification with the police—who like the idea and have cooperated with the union council.

The union's lawyers will help an arrested member, for free, through the arraignment, plea or preliminary hearing on a misdemeanor or a plea on a felony. After that the attorney reports back to the trust fund officials. Then the trustees decide whether the member should have further free legal representation.

A SURVEY revealed this year that this service was used most frequently by the bartenders, cooks and the waitresses in that order.

Excluded from this free "criminal aid" are those who have previous convictions or have been previously arrested for the same offense. This exclusion was a compromise the union had to make to overcome opposition to helping those arrested for prostitituion, treason, indecent exposure and drunkeness.

All those earning less than $4,200 a year—some two-thirds of the members — are automatically included in the plan. The others need the permission of the fund's trustees—three employers. Panel lawyers are not permitted to represent privately those they advise.

Apparently the flaming torch now passes from the medical associations to the bar associations.

Lyndon Johnson's Dilemma

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower's veto of the wheat and tobacco bills illustrates the dilemma of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, leader of the Senate Democrats.

Johnson and his fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn, leader of the House Democrats, were able to muster enough votes, but only a majority, to pass the two bills which they knew beforehand Eisenhower didn't like.

But to re-pass them over a presidential veto requires a two-thirds vote of both houses, far harder to get than a simple majority and in this situation practically impossible.

Therefore, Eisenhower's veto Thursday night just about means no new wheat or tobacco programs this year.

In both houses the Democrats have a huge majority over the Republicans: 64 to 34 in the Senate; 283 to 153 in the House. But in neither house do the Democrats have two-thirds of the membership.

For that, they would need 66 senators, or two more than they have, and 290 House members, or seven more than they have. So even if Democrats voted solidly, and they seldom do, they'd still need Republican help to override a veto.

Thus Eisenhower, although his Republicans are badly outnumbered, has in his threat of a veto a mighty weapon to push the Democratic leadership into shaping legislation into a form acceptable to him.

This is an amazing situation, particularly in view of this fact:

In the past three elctions—even in 1956 when Eisenhower himself was winning a second term — the voters trusted the Democrats more than the Republicans to do what they wanted by giving them control of Congress each time.

And Johnson, who describes himself as a "prudent progressive," has sought a middle ground and with this explanation:

That he has a responsibility for getting legislation through Congress and would rather see Congress achieve a record of legislation passed than create political issues or controversy by seeking legislation which may be vetoed.

The result: He has made a policy of shepherding through Congress fairly conservative legislation. This is: legislation which has a good chance of getting a majority vote and still falling within Eisenhower's requirements.

This Congress, like others before it, and despite liberals' claims that the overwhelming Democratic victory last November was a mandate for liberal legislation, is made up of three groups:

The reactionaries in both parties a fairly small gathering, on one end; a handful of liberals in both parties on the other end, and in the middle, by overwhelming number, the conservatives.

Johnson constantly plays to that big middle group. At any given time this middle-of-the-road approach will be too progressive for the reactionaries, too conservative for the liberals.

By standing on the middle ground Johnson is beginning to draw the fire of liberal groups and even non-congressional leaders in his own party: Members of the advisory council of the Democratic National Committee.

They have generally taken this position:

Johnson shouldn't let himself be pushed, by the specter of a presidential veto, into blessing legislation Eisenhower may approve. Instead, they contend, he should fight for far more extensive legislation.

Behind this reasoning is the argument that if the bolder legislation is killed by a Republican veto, the Democrats will have a better political issue in the 1960 elections.

But Johnson and Rayburn, because they are the Democratic leaders in Congress, can reply that they have built over the years a congressional record which must have pleased the voters since the Democrats have been given control of Congress in the past three elections despite Republican control of the administration.

Red China Overrated

By David Lawrence

Dulles' Non-Recognition Policy Upheld

Why has the government of Red China refused a visa to former New York Governor Harriman to enter that country as a news correspondent? Certainly a visit by so distinguished a personality would have produced writings that would have attracted worldwide attention. The only conclusion that can be reached is that the Communists are afraid of the truth. They cannot afford to have widespread publicity given to their economic failures.

David Lawrence

Authoritative information on the true situation inside Red China has been leaking out lately.

Perhaps the most significant report comes from former Sen. Alexander H. Smith of New Jersey, who recently completed a visit to various Asian countries as a special consultant to the secretary of state.

HE WRITES in a personal report to the State Department:

"Our stop in Hong Kong en route to Formosa was most fruitful in giving us an objective picture of mainland China. We maintain a consulate general in Hong Kong with a large well-trained staff which acts as a listening post reflecting the internal Chinese situation. When we arrived there our new consul general, Mr. John Steeves, had not yet arrived but we were well taken care of by Mr. Thomas Dillon, the acting consul general.

"My principal observations from the objective Hong Kong standpoint after talking both to members of our staff and with the governor general are that, so far as our people are concerned, they were unanimous in their feeling that our recognition of Communist China at this time would have an unfortunate impact on free Asia and anti-Communist Chinese.

"Most of the smaller countries in southeast Asia are looking to U.S. leadership with regard to Communist recognition. They are aware that after nine years of recognition the British even today are not permitted to have an ambassador on the China mainland.

"Furthermore, if we recognized Red China, their terms of recognition would include requiring us to get out of Taiwan and out of the Pacific entirely. In the judgment of our staff, trade with Red China would really be a myth because the Communists are definitely oriented to trading with other members of the Communist bloc and they only trade with the Western nations when it suits their political purpose to do so.

"Their program is to increase their own economic potential and this is done at the sacrifice and cost of the individual 'slaves' of the ruthless Communist control.

"Our staff people feel that the claims of the Chinese Communists of a real economic 'leap forward' are very much overrated. The stepped-up economic drive and the establishment of the new drastic commune system are simply attempts to get the people to work harder for the benefit of the Communist objectives and not to raise living standards.

"Their claims of increased economic and agricultural production are vastly inflated. They claim a labor shortage but this is due to the fact that they are using the masses by compulsory slave driving. Our staff feels that the people are made to work so hard that a backfire may ultimately set in. In spite of these difficulties, however, substantial economic progress may be expected."

SEN. SMITH comments also on the sensational effects of the revolution in Tibet on Asian peoples. He adds:

"Certainly the events during the last year have justified the Eisenhower-Dulles policy of non-recognition of Red China and of opposing the entry of Red China in the United Nations. Furthermore, these events have justified the United States position in supporting the Nationalist government and in making clear our attitude with regard to the defense of Formosa and the offshore islands. . . .

"Our long-range policy looking forward to permanent world peace must be a policy in support of an ultimately free China — the key to a free Asia.

"As I have stated before, this does not suggest war as a means to accomplish these objectives. But with the passing events, the people of the mainland of China are beginning to see the hideous threat of Communism and the danger of the domination of Asia and the world by Communism.

"There is evidence that their traditions and cultures and their spiritual inheritance are turning their minds toward the free world —and, in time, and without a shooting war, we may see them once more lined up with the forces of freedom."

'One And Inseparable'

By Raymond Moley

The amendment to the Smith Act which would give the states concurrent power to investigate and punish sedition, embodied in HR3 and S3, was, as almost everyone knows, prompted by the Supreme Court decision two years ago in the case of Steve Nelson. In that case, the validity of the Pennsylvania law was involved.

The hearings on the Senate bill provided plenty of argument concerning the inseparability of states and federal government in protecting government against Communism.

Historically, there was the concept that the federal government was our protector against foreign enemies and the states against "malice domestic."

COMMUNISM is the "enemy without" and the "enemy within" as well. So the common sense of the matter is that the two governmental authorities share indivisibly in the fight against an insidious enemy.

It has seemed to me that more attention might be given to the plain intent of the Constitution, which in Article IV, Section 4 provides that:

"The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government and shall protect each of them against invasion and, on application of the legislature or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened) against domestic violence."

In this instance of Communistic sedition, it might be argued that "on application," etc., the federal government should provide internal security against the "domestic violence" inherent in teaching that government should be overthrown by force or violence, which is Communism.

But the more important stricture of this section is that a "republican form of government" shall be guaranteed. How this guarantee might be enforced is not clear. It might present grave difficulties.

A possible example of this problem is illustrated by an incident of which I was a witness in 1934 or 1935. At a luncheon at which President Roosevelt, Attorney General Cummings and Felix Frankfurter, then a professor at Harvard, were present, the question of Huey Long's practical dictatorship in Louisiana was discussed.

THE PRESIDENT cited the constitutional provision guaranteeing a republican form of government and asserted that certainly Louisiana was not enjoying such a regime under Huey Long. The suggestion was made that federal forces might be used to enforce the guarantee.

Both Cummings and Frankfurter interposed heated objections to such a course, and the President dropped the subject. This suggestion was not seriously made. It was one of those things he called his "brain storms." But the two lawyers mentioned certainly were serious about their objections.

The answer to the problem is not federal interference but authority within the state not only to protect its own form of government but to make sure that it shall not be a breeding ground for a national network.

It is, as Attorney General Louis C. Wyman of New Hampshire said in the hearings, "inconceivable that the federal government might be destroyed without also destroying the safety, security and sovereighty of the individual states."

It is also true that it is inconceivable that the federal government can be secure without the utmost cooperative effort with states toward investigating and prosecuting subversion, wherever it has its origin.

This should be clear even to the quibbling lawyers who have been opposing HR3 and S3.

The decision of the Supreme Court recently in the case of Uphaus v. New Hampshire (which was initiated and argued by Mr. Wyman) clears the atmosphere considerably. It held that "a state could proceed with prosecutions for sedition against the state itself: that it can legitimately investigate in this area follows."

However, since this case was decided by a bare majority of one, the only safe course is an act of Congress clearly providing that the states shall have concurrent jurisdiction in the field of sedition.

It's All Collective Bargaining

Nerve-cracking suspense about the 1959 showdown on the steel industry's pace-setting negotiations for a labor contract will get tighter every day until the matter is settled.

As has happened before, the deadline for reaching agreement may turn out to be only an incident in the buildup of suspense. A shutdown, if one happens, will become part of a continuing strategy of pressure and maneuver between the employers and the union.

It's all collective bargaining — the bitter with the better.

One must be taken with the other as long as collective bargaining is the practice of the land — and no one is suggesting that it should not be.

THERE WILL CONTINUE to be charges and counter-charges of unfairness and misrepresentation.

The propagandists will continue to be just as important as the negotiators.

There will be an endless barrage of statistics, most of them fashioned to suit the purpose of the side that fires them.

Politicians and public officials will scurry hither and yon, trying to get themselves into a position where they can jump at any advantage that offers itself.

Emotionalism will be played to the limit. The flag will be waved and drums will be beaten.

Moderation will be smothered by extremism.

Wild excesses will be committed. Needless harm will be done. Spite will be commonplace. Agitators will have a big inning, and the jackals and hyenas of economic and social strife will fill their bellies and bay to the moon.

Cool heads and tempers will be hard to locate. There will be times when foreigners who do not understand either American politics or American industrial bargaining will send word home, as they have been known to do in the midst of presidential elections, that the United States finally has got in so deep it never will find its way out again.

Wounds will be inflicted. Things will be said and done that no one will recall with pride when passions have simmered down and the country has returned to something more nearly normal. Some of these already are in the record.

WHATEVER HAPPENS, it's all part of the process of collective bargaining. Only rarely does the dream of objective bargainers negotiating logically and fairly around a table materialize.

Far more often, what goes on around the table is the lesser part of what is going on outside the room where the table is situated. Collective bargaining usually turns into a wild-swinging fracas in the marketplace of popular opinion, with millions of persons involved because their personal welfare is hanging in the balance.

That is the way the 1959 showdown on steel is shaping up, with the July 1 deadline coming closer by the minute.

The Price Of Progress

Never were more symbols of human potentiality brought together in one dramatic ceremony than in the St. Lawrence Seaway dedication at the St. Lambert Lock near Montreal.

The seaway itself symbolizes the infinite power of the ideas that spring from the mind of man when his intelligence is turned to construction instead of destruction.

The staggering obstacles that had to be overcome to build the seaway are not to be overlooked either. Besides the vast mutation of natural geography represented by the creation of an eighth "ocean" in the Great Lakes of North America, there were the handicaps of conflicting man-made interests that had to be weighed and appraised for generations.

Not the least of the problems, moreover, was human doubt, which will continue as long as the seaway exists. Those who opposed its beginning warned it never would be perfect. Those who built it were second-guessed and criticized at every turn. Those now operating it are hearing, "I told you so," because experience with the seaway since it was opened for use last April has revealed shortcomings that may not be overcome for decades.

But the St. Lawrence seaway is finally a reality — one of the great achievements of mankind in the struggle to create a better world. The idea was stronger than all the doubts that were raised against it — stronger than all the opposition that tried to prevent its realization.

The dedication ceremony brought together an English queen who symbolizes the potentialities of government by consent and American president who symbolizes the potentialities of government by election.

The ceremony was held in a place symbolic of the peace that has existed between the United States and Canada — a mutual security pact so ingrained in the practices of the two countries that special consent had to be obtained to suspend temporarily the Rush-Bagot Convention of 1817 which provided for the perpetual disarmament of the Great Lakes. Otherwise, no military craft could have participated in the ceremony.

Everything that has preceded the ceremony has been part of the price that men must pay for progress. The price is always high; nothing worthwhile ever can be bought cheaply. Yet, this is soon forgotten. Those who come along later take for granted all improvements found when they arrived.

When it is their turn to pay for progress, they too wonder if the price may not be too high to bear. It isn't. Until it's paid, there can be no progress.

Whether Salk Or Sabin

There is no reason for the current lively interest in the polio vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of the University of Cincinnati to confuse the public mind about Salk vaccine.

Dr. Sabin seems to have done much sooner than could have been anticipated what someone was destined to do sooner or later. He has found what he and his friends and sponsors believe to be still another way to immunize human beings against polio.

This in no way detracts from the great accomplishment of Dr. Jonas E. Salk and the people who worked with him. The two accomplishments complement each other.

By 1957, when Dr. Sabin's vaccine was ready for use, Dr. Salk's vaccine already was in use, and it was the judgment of medical authorities to let the Salk vaccine prove itself without confusing the picture by introducing another type of vaccine at the same time.

Consequently, the Sabin vaccine, which is cheaper to produce and easier to administer, was given its definitive tests outside the United States. Two million Russians, for instance, have been given Sabin vaccine, which is being produced in the United States by a reputable drug manufacturer and apparently is destined to find its place on an even footing with the Salk vaccine. In the long run, because of its relative simplicity of both manufacture and administration, the Sabin vaccine may become preferable.

But that should not be surprising, if it happens. Medical evolution may bring forth still another polio immunization better than either one now known.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Imaginary transcript of report by Secretary Herter to the President:

Ike: Welcome home, and I hope the punishment at Geneva was not too severe.

Herter: It's nice to be back where things are not wholly incredible.

Ike: What was the final score?

Herter: It was a draw between Bewilderment and Confusion. I thought confusion had a slight edge. Both sides had too many men left on bases and looked bad in the runs batted-in column.

Ike: How do you feel after the ordeal of diplomacy by conflict?

Ike: You stood it very well under the usual Soviet use of monkey wrenches, sledge hammers, hatchets and spiked shoes as instruments of peace and brotherly love.

Herter: You left out the tomahawks, mine fields and doubletalk with built-in evasiveness.

Herter: I intend to be examined by radiologists for burns and tissue breakdowns.

Ike: Do you think I should go to the summit?

Herter: Not unless you wear a costume designed to protect you from oratorical fallouts and insist on your right to take a portable shelter during any address by a Soviet leader.

Union Provides Free Legal Aid

By Victor Riesel

Fashions on this beat will be coming out of Los Angeles this year. Labor men there have found something new under the California sun. Elsewhere if you get sick, get a headache, get a toothache or even get a baby, the union provides free medical care. Now if you get arrested, an influential Los Angeles union council will provide free legal care.

Victor Riesel

But you needn't be arrested or in trouble to receive this free legal aid — for which the employer pays indirectly. If you're one of the 22,000 members of the Los Angeles Joint Council of Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders Unions, you can obtain free legal advice in civil matters too.

The council's special panel of lawyers will help a member adopt a baby, sue in personal injury cases, fight attachment proceedings and go homesteading.

THIS PLAN has been operating secretly for a year. The Restaurant-Hotel Employers Council of Southern California agreed to pay for this pilot pioneer legal plan if they had the word of the union chiefs, headed by John Cooper, that it would not be publicized.

The management people did not object to paying a half cent an hour per worker into a kitty which totals $204,000 a year. It was the lawyers who screamed. So everybody agreed to keep it quiet for a year. The pact of silence has now expired.

Soon this demand will be thrown on a thousand bargaining tables and will be remembered long after the steel crisis. This is the first real change in bargaining demands since a fringe became more than a tassle with a surrey underneath.

The union's first problem was to get lawyers for its free legal plan. Talent was available at the $25 an hour fee which the labor men were offering for consultations. But the bar associations didn't exactly hail the innovation. The legal societies pointed to canons of ethics which threaten disbarment if lawyers get mixed up with certain activities such as soliciting legal services. But these canons had a loophole — and the union executive board drove its setup right through.

THE CANONS do not ban legal work done in the name of charity. The union promptly set up its plan as the Emergency Relief Fund. About $100,000 was thrown into it for the first year. A panel of lawyers was selected.

Members seeking advice on civil matters go to the union, state their woes and are sent on to one of the attorneys. The legal advice is limited to matters which can be handled in no more than two office interviews.

Advice the members can't get, however, is how to sue another union member, or an employer or the unionist's wife—if she's a member of the same union.

If a member is arrested, the union's bonding company gets him out quickly. Each member carries a bail bond card. The card acts as identification with the police—who like the idea and have cooperated with the union council.

The union's lawyers will help an arrested member, for free, through the arraignment, plea or preliminary hearing on a misdemeanor or a plea on a felony. After that the attorney reports back to the trust fund officials. Then the trustees decide whether the member should have further free legal representation.

A SURVEY revealed this year that this service was used most frequently by the bartenders, cooks and the waitresses in that order.

Excluded from this free "criminal aid" are those who have previous convictions or have been previously arrested for the same offense. This exclusion was a compromise the union had to make to overcome opposition to helping those arrested for prostitituion, treason, indecent exposure and drunkeness.

All those earning less than $4,200 a year—some two-thirds of the members — are automatically included in the plan. The others need the permission of the fund's trustees—three employers. Panel lawyers are not permitted to represent privately those they advise.

Apparently the flaming torch now passes from the medical associations to the bar associations.

Lyndon Johnson's Dilemma

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower's veto of the wheat and tobacco bills illustrates the dilemma of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, leader of the Senate Democrats.

Johnson and his fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn, leader of the House Democrats, were able to muster enough votes, but only a majority, to pass the two bills which they knew beforehand Eisenhower didn't like.

But to re-pass them over a presidential veto requires a two-thirds vote of both houses, far harder to get than a simple majority and in this situation practically impossible.

Therefore, Eisenhower's veto Thursday night just about means no new wheat or tobacco programs this year.

In both houses the Democrats have a huge majority over the Republicans: 64 to 34 in the Senate; 283 to 153 in the House. But in neither house do the Democrats have two-thirds of the membership.

For that, they would need 66 senators, or two more than they have, and 290 House members, or seven more than they have. So even if Democrats voted solidly, and they seldom do, they'd still need Republican help to override a veto.

Thus Eisenhower, although his Republicans are badly outnumbered, has in his threat of a veto a mighty weapon to push the Democratic leadership into shaping legislation into a form acceptable to him.

This is an amazing situation, particularly in view of this fact:

In the past three elctions—even in 1956 when Eisenhower himself was winning a second term — the voters trusted the Democrats more than the Republicans to do what they wanted by giving them control of Congress each time.

And Johnson, who describes himself as a "prudent progressive," has sought a middle ground and with this explanation:

That he has a responsibility for getting legislation through Congress and would rather see Congress achieve a record of legislation passed than create political issues or controversy by seeking legislation which may be vetoed.

The result: He has made a policy of shepherding through Congress fairly conservative legislation. This is: legislation which has a good chance of getting a majority vote and still falling within Eisenhower's requirements.

This Congress, like others before it, and despite liberals' claims that the overwhelming Democratic victory last November was a mandate for liberal legislation, is made up of three groups:

The reactionaries in both parties a fairly small gathering, on one end; a handful of liberals in both parties on the other end, and in the middle, by overwhelming number, the conservatives.

Johnson constantly plays to that big middle group. At any given time this middle-of-the-road approach will be too progressive for the reactionaries, too conservative for the liberals.

By standing on the middle ground Johnson is beginning to draw the fire of liberal groups and even non-congressional leaders in his own party: Members of the advisory council of the Democratic National Committee.

They have generally taken this position:

Johnson shouldn't let himself be pushed, by the specter of a presidential veto, into blessing legislation Eisenhower may approve. Instead, they contend, he should fight for far more extensive legislation.

Behind this reasoning is the argument that if the bolder legislation is killed by a Republican veto, the Democrats will have a better political issue in the 1960 elections.

But Johnson and Rayburn, because they are the Democratic leaders in Congress, can reply that they have built over the years a congressional record which must have pleased the voters since the Democrats have been given control of Congress in the past three elections despite Republican control of the administration.

Red China Overrated

By David Lawrence

Dulles' Non-Recognition Policy Upheld

Why has the government of Red China refused a visa to former New York Governor Harriman to enter that country as a news correspondent? Certainly a visit by so distinguished a personality would have produced writings that would have attracted worldwide attention. The only conclusion that can be reached is that the Communists are afraid of the truth. They cannot afford to have widespread publicity given to their economic failures.

David Lawrence

Authoritative information on the true situation inside Red China has been leaking out lately.

Perhaps the most significant report comes from former Sen. Alexander H. Smith of New Jersey, who recently completed a visit to various Asian countries as a special consultant to the secretary of state.

HE WRITES in a personal report to the State Department:

"Our stop in Hong Kong en route to Formosa was most fruitful in giving us an objective picture of mainland China. We maintain a consulate general in Hong Kong with a large well-trained staff which acts as a listening post reflecting the internal Chinese situation. When we arrived there our new consul general, Mr. John Steeves, had not yet arrived but we were well taken care of by Mr. Thomas Dillon, the acting consul general.

"My principal observations from the objective Hong Kong standpoint after talking both to members of our staff and with the governor general are that, so far as our people are concerned, they were unanimous in their feeling that our recognition of Communist China at this time would have an unfortunate impact on free Asia and anti-Communist Chinese.

"Most of the smaller countries in southeast Asia are looking to U.S. leadership with regard to Communist recognition. They are aware that after nine years of recognition the British even today are not permitted to have an ambassador on the China mainland.

"Furthermore, if we recognized Red China, their terms of recognition would include requiring us to get out of Taiwan and out of the Pacific entirely. In the judgment of our staff, trade with Red China would really be a myth because the Communists are definitely oriented to trading with other members of the Communist bloc and they only trade with the Western nations when it suits their political purpose to do so.

"Their program is to increase their own economic potential and this is done at the sacrifice and cost of the individual 'slaves' of the ruthless Communist control.

"Our staff people feel that the claims of the Chinese Communists of a real economic 'leap forward' are very much overrated. The stepped-up economic drive and the establishment of the new drastic commune system are simply attempts to get the people to work harder for the benefit of the Communist objectives and not to raise living standards.

"Their claims of increased economic and agricultural production are vastly inflated. They claim a labor shortage but this is due to the fact that they are using the masses by compulsory slave driving. Our staff feels that the people are made to work so hard that a backfire may ultimately set in. In spite of these difficulties, however, substantial economic progress may be expected."

SEN. SMITH comments also on the sensational effects of the revolution in Tibet on Asian peoples. He adds:

"Certainly the events during the last year have justified the Eisenhower-Dulles policy of non-recognition of Red China and of opposing the entry of Red China in the United Nations. Furthermore, these events have justified the United States position in supporting the Nationalist government and in making clear our attitude with regard to the defense of Formosa and the offshore islands. . . .

"Our long-range policy looking forward to permanent world peace must be a policy in support of an ultimately free China — the key to a free Asia.

"As I have stated before, this does not suggest war as a means to accomplish these objectives. But with the passing events, the people of the mainland of China are beginning to see the hideous threat of Communism and the danger of the domination of Asia and the world by Communism.

"There is evidence that their traditions and cultures and their spiritual inheritance are turning their minds toward the free world —and, in time, and without a shooting war, we may see them once more lined up with the forces of freedom."

'One And Inseparable'

By Raymond Moley

The amendment to the Smith Act which would give the states concurrent power to investigate and punish sedition, embodied in HR3 and S3, was, as almost everyone knows, prompted by the Supreme Court decision two years ago in the case of Steve Nelson. In that case, the validity of the Pennsylvania law was involved.

The hearings on the Senate bill provided plenty of argument concerning the inseparability of states and federal government in protecting government against Communism.

Historically, there was the concept that the federal government was our protector against foreign enemies and the states against "malice domestic."

COMMUNISM is the "enemy without" and the "enemy within" as well. So the common sense of the matter is that the two governmental authorities share indivisibly in the fight against an insidious enemy.

It has seemed to me that more attention might be given to the plain intent of the Constitution, which in Article IV, Section 4 provides that:

"The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government and shall protect each of them against invasion and, on application of the legislature or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened) against domestic violence."

In this instance of Communistic sedition, it might be argued that "on application," etc., the federal government should provide internal security against the "domestic violence" inherent in teaching that government should be overthrown by force or violence, which is Communism.

'Union Scale' At Home Brings Divorce Action

CHICAGO (AP) — Mildred Baughman, 44, complained in Superior Court that her husband, Max, 45, an $18,000-a-year bank vice president, is willing to do odd jobs around the house only if she pays him union scale rates.

And, said Mrs Baughman Thursday in her petition for a divorce, she has to pay out of her personal funds for painting, fixing the screens, waxing floors and other household chores.

Mrs. Baughaman charged cruelty. She asked that Baughman be ordered out of their suburban Kenilworth home. She said she owns it.

McNicol Plant Strike Settled

Production at the D. E. McNicol China Co. plant in Clarksburg is heading back to normal after settlement of a 27-day strike in which the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters won its members an 8½-cent hourly "package" pay boost.

The package is comprised of a 6-cent hourly wage increase and two and a half additional paid holidays, the equivalent of 2½ cents hourly, the IBOP announced. It boosts to five the number of paid holidays.

The IBOP and the chinaware firm's management opened negotiations on May 20. When a deadlock developed, the workers — affiliated with Local 99 — voted to strike and threw picket lines at the entrances, halting production.

The negotiations resumed Tuesday and wound up with a settlement late Tuesday night. As part of the settlement, "all grievances with the company regarding changes in work standards were cleared up to the satisfaction of both parties," the union said.

The IBOP negotiators were headed by Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls, seventh vice president.

Welfare Approval Required For Foods

The Ohio Surplus Commodities Agency at Columbus has advised county commissioners that only persons certified by welfare agencies are entitled to surplus foods, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

In a phone call made by R. Max Gard, president of the Board of Commissioners, during the pottery strike, the commissioners were led to believe that any person claiming dire need could get surplus foods without an investigation. In a few instances, food was given under these conditions.

The letter also said the commodities agency is initiating changes in establishing eligibility and, if approved, the county will be notified. However, at present, no person is eligible unless certified by an authorized agency after a complete investigation.

Convention Reports Given Midland Rotary

Giving reports were Dr. T. S. Boyd, who attended the entire convention, and Tom Fannin and C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh, who were there one day while in New York.

Members will hold a dinner meeting Thursday, and instead of a program, will work on the July 4th float.

'Union Scale' At Home Brings Divorce Action

CHICAGO (AP) — Mildred Baughman, 44, complained in Superior Court that her husband, Max, 45, an $18,000-a-year bank vice president, is willing to do odd jobs around the house only if she pays him union scale rates.

And, said Mrs Baughman Thursday in her petition for a divorce, she has to pay out of her personal funds for painting, fixing the screens, waxing floors and other household chores.

Mrs. Baughaman charged cruelty. She asked that Baughman be ordered out of their suburban Kenilworth home. She said she owns it.

McNicol Plant Strike Settled

Production at the D. E. McNicol China Co. plant in Clarksburg is heading back to normal after settlement of a 27-day strike in which the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters won its members an 8½-cent hourly "package" pay boost.

The package is comprised of a 6-cent hourly wage increase and two and a half additional paid holidays, the equivalent of 2½ cents hourly, the IBOP announced. It boosts to five the number of paid holidays.

The IBOP and the chinaware firm's management opened negotiations on May 20. When a deadlock developed, the workers — affiliated with Local 99 — voted to strike and threw picket lines at the entrances, halting production.

The negotiations resumed Tuesday and wound up with a settlement late Tuesday night. As part of the settlement, "all grievances with the company regarding changes in work standards were cleared up to the satisfaction of both parties," the union said.

The IBOP negotiators were headed by Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls, seventh vice president.

Welfare Approval Required For Foods

The Ohio Surplus Commodities Agency at Columbus has advised county commissioners that only persons certified by welfare agencies are entitled to surplus foods, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

In a phone call made by R. Max Gard, president of the Board of Commissioners, during the pottery strike, the commissioners were led to believe that any person claiming dire need could get surplus foods without an investigation. In a few instances, food was given under these conditions.

The letter also said the commodities agency is initiating changes in establishing eligibility and, if approved, the county will be notified. However, at present, no person is eligible unless certified by an authorized agency after a complete investigation.

Deaths and Funerals

Fall Injuries Claim Man, 45

Injuries received in a fall from a cherry tree claimed Walter R. Juszczak, 45, of 931 Grant St., Newell, this morning at 12:15 in Mercy Hospital at Pittsburgh.

A section of the tree gave way as he was picking the fruit Wednesday at the home of his brother, Casimer Juszczak, of 3rd St., Chester.

He was born in Poland and resided in Newell 32 years. He was a clay miner for 25 years at the Globe Brick Co. at Newell. He was a member of the Chester American Legion Post 121 and the Polish Roman Catholic Union 861.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Anna Juszczak, two daughters, Mary Ann Juszczak and Patricia Juszczak, and a son, Walter Robert Juszczak Jr., all at home; another brother, Joseph Juszczak of Newell and a sister, Mrs. Clara Bobalik of Wellsville.

The Rosary will be said Sunday night at 7:30 at the residence, where friends may call tonight and Saturday.

Services will be held Monday at 9 a. m. at the Chester Sacred Heart Catholic Church by Fr. Eugene Jacobs. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery.

The Arner Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Infant Abersold

Services and burial for the infant daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Abersold of Cyprus, Calif. were held there Thursday morning.

The infant was born prematurely May 29.

Mrs. Abersold is the former Doris Eckleberry of Newell.

Besides the parents, survivors include a sister, Pamela Sue Abersold at home, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Eckleberry of Newell.

Wesley Fisher

Services for Wesley L. Fisher, 57, of Canton, a native of East Liverpool, will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. in the Arnold Funeral Home with burial in Sunset Hills Burial Park in Canton.

He died Wednesday in Aultman Hospital from a heart ailment.

He was a project engineer of Diebold, Inc., for 18 years and resided in Canton for 8 years. He was active in Masonic circles and was a member of the First Methodist Church in Massillon.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruth P. Fisher, a daughter, Eusebia Fisher, and a son, Robert Fisher, all at home; two other daughters, Mrs. John A. Merrick of New Kensington, and Mrs. Austin Leily of Morocco, Africa; his mother, Mrs. Grace Welch, a half-sister, Mrs. Donald Seibert, and half-brother, Edward Welch, all of East Liverpool, and 6 grandchildren.

Edward Unger

Services for Edward J. Unger, 2152 Crawford Ave., who died suddenly Thursday morning in City Hospital, will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at St. Ann Catholic Church in East End by Fr. Arthur Nist. Burial will be in St. Aloysius Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Dawson Funeral Home tonight.

William VanDyke

William Dean VanDyke, 31, of 614 Main St. Wellsville, an employe of the Ohio Edison Co. for 12 years, died Thursday at 4:20 p.m. at City Hospital, where he had been a patient six weeks with a heart ailment.

He was born April 1, 1928, in Empire, son of Floyd VanDyke of Toronto and the late Olive Mushrush VanDyke. He attended Empire School, Jefferson Union High School and Steubenville Business College.

He was employed first at Toronto and then for seven years at the Niles plant as boiler tender. He was transferred to the Stratton Plant March 21, when he moved to Wellsville from Mineral Ridge, where he resided while working in Niles. He was a member of the Church of Christ at Mineral Ridge.

Besides his father, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Patsy Keylor VanDyke, and two sons, Terry Lee VanDyke and Thomas William VanDyke, all at home; a half-sister, Mrs. Elva Baker of Weirton and three half - brothers, Fred VanDyke of Steubenville, Floyd VanDyke with the Marines, and Wendell VanDyke of Toronto.

Services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home at Wellsville by the Rev. Delmar Rodgers. Burial will be in Sugar Grove Cemetery near Toronto.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Saturday afternoon and night.

Leo Nichols

COLUMBIANA — Leo Nichols of R. D., near the Fairfield Centralized School, died of a self - inflicted bullet wound Thursday night at 6:30.

The body was found in his car at the intersection of County Rd. 420 and Hatcher Rd., a .22 rifle beside him, according to Dr. W. A. Kolozsi, coroner. He had been reportedly despondent over ill health. He was 61.

He was born May 11, 1898, in Leetonia, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John T. Nichols. He was formerly employed at the Crescent Machine Shop at Leetonia. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Sherman Godward of Salem; a son, Dale Nichols of Cleveland; two sisters, Mrs. Warren McCown of Washingtonville, and Mrs. Harry Taylor of Columbiana; three brothers, Nahlon Nichols of Kentucky, S. B. Nichols of Oklahoma, and P. S. Nichols of Canton, and 4 grandchildren.

Services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Warrick Funeral Home by the Rev. Harry Scheidmantle of the Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Franklin Square Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday night.

Money Could Be Used For The First Addition

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) — The envelope had $1 in stamps enclosed with an unsigned note saying it was for "new St. Anthony's Memorial Hospital."

The trouble was, it came 10 years late. A fund drive was started in 1949 for the hospital. The new hospital has been operating several years.

It was impossible to distinguish the date on the letter's blurred postmark.

'Lost' Men Save Selves As Rescue Test Flops

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol was demonstrating its rescue efficiency to the press.

It sent three men by auto into the desert 30 miles southeast of Tucson. Three CAP planes scanned the desert for hours, but found nothing.

The "lost" men saw they weren't going to be rescued so they drove back to town. The CAP set another date for them to get lost.

8 More Enter For Fall Ballot

Eight more candidates have filed with the Columbiana County Election Board to seek township clerk, trustee and constable posts in the Nov. 3 general election.

The new entries boost to 16 the number filed so far for posts in small villages, townships and school districts. The deadline for filings is Wednesday, Aug. 5, at 4 p. m., Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, reminded prospective candidates.

Latest to enter are: Walter H. Coie, for trustee in Elkrun Township; Fred Hopper, for trustee of St. Clair Township; Forrest Stallsmith, for trustee of Unity Township; Alton D. Brinker, for trustee in Fairfield Township.

Adam J. Frischkorn, for constable of Yellow Creek Township; Clifford F. Westover, for trustee of Elkrun Township; George R. Keller, for clerk of Fairfield Township, and LeRoy Harsh, for clerk of West Township.

The county's eight cities and large villages held party primaries in May to select tickets for the November general election. The other subdivisions bypass the primaries and their candidates file as independents and non-partisans for the November ballot.

The Bell X-1 was the first plane to fly at a speed greater than that of sound. It is now in the Smithsonian Institute's National Air Museum, in Washington, D. C.

Confused Jury Goofs, Defendant Goes Free

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Erlester Westmoreland was on trial in circuit court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without consent of the owner.

The state, trying for a conviction under Missouri's Habitual Criminal Act which would have made a life sentence mandatory, described his five previous felony convictions.

But the jury, misunderstanding instructions of Judge John C. Casey, acquitted him of the motor vehicle charge and convicted him of the five crimes of which he previously had been convicted.

Westmoreland went free.

Firemen In Glenmoor Wait Wellsville Parade

Equipment for entry in the Wellsville firemen's parade tonight was cleaned at a meeting of the Glenmoor volunteer firemen Thursday evening. Some 17 attended.

The department will enter a truck, its ambulance, and a comic team. A truck of the Civil Defense unit, the 31st Mobile Support Group, under Chief Herman Heiny, will enter the parade and was also cleaned.

Several members attended the Tri - State Firemen's Association meeting at Vanport last night. Refreshments were served, Robert Jones, assistant chief, said.

Next association meeting will be Thursday at the Glenmoor fire station.

Merrick of New Kensington, and Mrs. Austin Leily of Morocco, Africa; his mother, Mrs. Grace Welch, a half-sister, Mrs. Donald Seibert, and a half-brother, Edward Welch, all of East Liverpool, and 6 grandchildren.

Edward Unger

Services for Edward J. Unger, 2152 Crawford Ave., who died suddenly Thursday morning in City Hospital, will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at St. Ann Catholic Church in East End by Fr. Arthur Nist. Burial will be in St. Aloysius Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Dawson Funeral Home tonight.

William VanDyke

William Dean VanDyke, 31, of 614 Main St. Wellsville, an employe of the Ohio Edison Co. for 12 years, died Thursday at 4:20 p.m. at City Hospital, where he had been a patient six weeks with a heart ailment.

He was born April 1, 1928, in Empire, son of Floyd VanDyke of Toronto and the late Olive Mushrush VanDyke. He attended Empire School, Jefferson Union High School and Steubenville Business College.

He was employed first at Toronto and then for seven years at the Niles plant as boiler tender. He was transferred to the Stratton Plant March 21, when he moved to Wellsville from Mineral Ridge, where he resided while working in Niles. He was a member of the Church of Christ at Mineral Ridge.

Besides his father, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Patsy Keylor VanDyke, and two sons, Terry Lee VanDyke and Thomas William VanDyke, all at home; a half-sister, Mrs. Elva Baker of Weirton and three half - brothers, Fred VanDyke of Steubenville, Floyd VanDyke with the Marines, and Wendell VanDyke of Toronto.

Services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home at Wellsville by the Rev. Delmar Rodgers. Burial will be in Sugar Grove Cemetery near Toronto.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Saturday afternoon and night.

Leo Nichols

COLUMBIANA — Leo Nichols of R. D., near the Fairfield Centralized School, died of a self - inflicted bullet wound Thursday night at 6:30.

The body was found in his car at the intersection of County Rd. 420 and Hatcher Rd., a .22 rifle beside him, according to Dr. W. A. Kolozsi, coroner. He had been reportedly despondent over ill health. He was 61.

He was born May 11, 1898, in Leetonia, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John T. Nichols. He was formerly employed at the Crescent Machine Shop at Leetonia. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Sherman Godward of Salem; a son, Dale Nichols of Cleveland; two sisters, Mrs. Warren McCown of Washingtonville, and Mrs. Harry Taylor of Columbiana; three brothers, Nahlon Nichols of Kentucky, S. B. Nichols of Oklahoma, and P. S. Nichols of Canton, and 4 grandchildren.

Services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Warrick Funeral Home by the Rev. Harry Scheidmantle of the Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Franklin Square Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday night.

Money Could Be Used For The First Addition

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) — The envelope had $1 in stamps enclosed with an unsigned note saying it was for "new St. Anthony's Memorial Hospital."

The trouble was, it came 10 years late. A fund drive was started in 1949 for the hospital. The new hospital has been operating several years.

It was impossible to distinguish the date on the letter's blurred postmark.

'Lost' Men Save Selves As Rescue Test Flops

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol was demonstrating its rescue efficiency to the press.

It sent three men by auto into the desert 30 miles southeast of Tucson. Three CAP planes scanned the desert for hours, but found nothing.

The "lost" men saw they weren't going to be rescued so they drove back to town. The CAP set another date for them to get lost.

8 More Enter For Fall Ballot

Eight more candidates have filed with the Columbiana County Election Board to seek township clerk, trustee and constable posts in the Nov. 3 general election.

The new entries boost to 16 the number filed so far for posts in small villages, townships and school districts. The deadline for filings is Wednesday, Aug. 5, at 4 p. m., Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, reminded prospective candidates.

Latest to enter are: Walter H. Coie, for trustee in Elkrun Township; Fred Hopper, for trustee of St. Clair Township; Forrest Stallsmith, for trustee of Unity Township; Alton D. Brinker, for trustee in Fairfield Township.

Adam J. Frischkorn, for constable of Yellow Creek Township; Clifford F. Westover, for trustee of Elkrun Township; George R. Keller, for clerk of Fairfield Township, and LeRoy Harsh, for clerk of West Township.

The county's eight cities and large villages held party primaries in May to select tickets for the November general election. The other subdivisions bypass the primaries and their candidates file as independents and non-partisans for the November ballot.

The Bell X-1 was the first plane to fly at a speed greater than that of sound. It is now in the Smithsonian Institute's National Air Museum, in Washington, D. C.

Confused Jury Goofs, Defendant Goes Free

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Erlester Westmoreland was on trial in circuit court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without consent of the owner.

The state, trying for a conviction under Missouri's Habitual Criminal Act which would have made a life sentence mandatory, described his five previous felony convictions.

But the jury, misunderstanding instructions of Judge John C. Casey, acquitted him of the motor vehicle charge and convicted him of the five crimes of which he previously had been convicted.

Westmoreland went free.

Firemen In Glenmoor Wait Wellsville Parade

Equipment for entry in the Wellsville firemen's parade tonight was cleaned at a meeting of the Glenmoor volunteer firemen Thursday evening. Some 17 attended.

The department will enter a truck, its ambulance, and a comic team. A truck of the Civil Defense unit, the 31st Mobile Support Group, under Chief Herman Heiny, will enter the parade and was also cleaned.

Several members attended the Tri - State Firemen's Association meeting at Vanport last night. Refreshments were served, Robert Jones, assistant chief, said.

Next association meeting will be Thursday at the Glenmoor fire station.

Ohio Boaters Now Must Pay West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Ohio motor boat owners on the Ohio River will have to pay West Virginia for boating privileges in the section of the river along the Mountain State.

A new law requiring licensing of boats of more than five horsepower goes into effect July 1. The law covers all state waters.

A Conservation Department official said the regulation also will apply to craft owned by Ohio residents and used on the Ohio adjacent to West Virginia. The river is in West Virginia jurisdiction over to the low-water mark on the Ohio side.

Owners of craft registered with the Coast Guard or under a federally approved numbering system in other states are not required to obtain the licenses. However, they must file their numbers with the department.

The new law, passed by the 1959 Legislature, provides for the annual licensing, with the first permit to cost $5 and each renewal $2. The deadline for registration is July 30.

Conservation Director Warden M. Lane promised at Charleston that safety patrols of heavily-used public waters in West Virginia will begin with the effective date of the new motor boat licensing law.

The new statute gives the conservation director broad regulatory powers designed to control reckless or negligent operation of motor boats.

The provisions also cover the operation of water skis, surfboards and similar equipment.

Lane said that for at least the next few months the boat patrol work will be handled by existing Conservation Department enforcement personnel. General plans call for additional enforcement officers when revenue permits.

Ohio Boaters Now Must Pay West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Ohio motor boat owners on the Ohio River will have to pay West Virginia for boating privileges in the section of the river along the Mountain State.

A new law requiring licensing of boats of more than five horsepower goes into effect July 1. The law covers all state waters.

A Conservation Department official said the regulation also will apply to craft owned by Ohio residents and used on the Ohio adjacent to West Virginia. The river is in West Virginia jurisdiction over to the low-water mark on the Ohio side.

Owners of craft registered with the Coast Guard or under a federally approved numbering system in other states are not required to obtain the licenses. However, they must file their numbers with the department.

The new law, passed by the 1959 Legislature, provides for the annual licensing, with the first permit to cost $5 and each renewal $2. The deadline for registration is July 30.

Conservation Director Warden M. Lane promised at Charleston that safety patrols of heavily-used public waters in West Virginia will begin with the effective date of the new motor boat licensing law.

The new statute gives the conservation director broad regulatory powers designed to control reckless or negligent operation of motor boats.

The provisions also cover the operation of water skis, surfboards and similar equipment.

Lane said that for at least the next few months the boat patrol work will be handled by existing Conservation Department enforcement personnel. General plans call for additional enforcement officers when revenue permits.

MAHALA LASHLEY
Her Nuptials Set For Aug. 28.

Mahala Lashley, Richard Pethtel Will Be Married

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Moore, 721 Campbell Rd., Wellsville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mahala Lashley, to Richard Allen Pethtel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Pethtel of Shadyside Ave.

Double-Ring Nuptial Unites Miss Holland, D. A. Young

A double-ring ceremony in the candlelighted sanctuary of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church united in marriage Miss Shirley June Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Holland, 166 Ravine St., and Boiler Fireman 2C David Allan Young, son of Mrs. Goldie Young, 1904 Lisbon St., Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor, officiated for the 2:30 o'clock rites before an altar setting of palms, fernery and seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman, church organist, presented a quarter-hour of wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a ballerina-length gown of nylon organdy, featuring a bouffant skirt, accented with a large side bow, worn over crinoline underskirts.

The shirred, fitted bodice was enhanced by a lace bolero jacket fashioned with long sleeves. Her lace shoulder-length veil was attached to a headband formed of petals and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and rosebuds on a lace background with satin streamers.

Observing all the familiar traditions, she also carried in her shoes the pennies used at the rehearsal. Her jewelry consisted of single-strand pearls and earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. William Conkle, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, were the attendants. Mrs. Conkle wore a waltz-length gown of blue lace over taffeta fashioned with a fitted, sleeveless bodice highlighted by a satin cummerbund. She wore a matching lace headband formed by petals and a bracelet and earrings, gift of the bride. Her cascade bouquet was of white and pink carnations tied with lace streamers.

Ushers were Clarence Cunningham of Newell and Cecil Lower. The mother of the bride wore an orchid sheath dress and the bridegroom's mother chose a black and white sheath. White accessories and white rosebud corsages complimented their attire.

MRS. D. A. YOUNG
She's Bride Of City Serviceman.

The reception for 100 was held in the social rooms with the Amikitia Club in charge of arrangements. Miss Bonnie McWhorter provided background music at the organ.

Bridal party dolls under a rose-covered trellis formed the centerpiece for the bride's table. A three-tier cake placed on swan separators, topped with a bridal couple and decorated with small wedding bands, centered the buffet table. A white milkglass punch bowl and appointments set on pink maline and blue satin bows completed the arrangements. Large wedding bells and vases of roses were used throughout the room.

MAHALA LASHLEY
Her Nuptials Set For Aug. 28.

Mahala Lashley, Richard Pethtel Will Be Married

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Moore, 721 Campbell Rd., Wellsville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mahala Lashley, to Richard Allen Pethtel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Pethtel of Shadyside Ave.

Double-Ring Nuptial Unites Miss Holland, D. A. Young

A double-ring ceremony in the candlelighted sanctuary of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church united in marriage Miss Shirley June Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Holland, 166 Ravine St., and Boiler Fireman 2C David Allan Young, son of Mrs. Goldie Young, 1904 Lisbon St., Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor, officiated for the 2:30 o'clock rites before an altar setting of palms, fernery and seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman, church organist, presented a quarter-hour of wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a ballerina-length gown of nylon organdy, featuring a bouffant skirt, accented with a large side bow, worn over crinoline underskirts.

The shirred, fitted bodice was enhanced by a lace bolero jacket fashioned with long sleeves. Her lace shoulder-length veil was attached to a headband formed of petals and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and rosebuds on a lace background with satin streamers.

Observing all the familiar traditions, she also carried in her shoes the pennies used at the rehearsal. Her jewelry consisted of single-strand pearls and earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. William Conkle, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, were the attendants. Mrs. Conkle wore a waltz-length gown of blue lace over taffeta fashioned with a fitted, sleeveless bodice highlighted by a satin cummerbund. She wore a matching lace headband formed by petals and a bracelet and earrings, gift of the bride. Her cascade bouquet was of white and pink carnations tied with lace streamers.

Ushers were Clarence Cunningham of Newell and Cecil Lower. The mother of the bride wore an orchid sheath dress and the bridegroom's mother chose a black and white sheath. White accessories and white rosebud corsages complimented their attire.

MRS. D. A. YOUNG
She's Bride Of City Serviceman.

The reception for 100 was held in the social rooms with the Amikitia Club in charge of arrangements. Miss Bonnie McWhorter provided background music at the organ.

Bridal party dolls under a rose-covered trellis formed the centerpiece for the bride's table. A three-tier cake placed on swan separators, topped with a bridal couple and decorated with small wedding bands, centered the buffet table. A white milkglass punch bowl and appointments set on pink maline and blue satin bows completed the arrangements. Large wedding bells and vases of roses were used throughout the room.

Carol Strohm Exchanges Vows With Smiths Ferrian

Carrying a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis streamers, Miss Carle Mae Strohm of Industry became the bride of Delano Diamond of Smiths Ferry June 12 in the Industry Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ross Strohm of Industry and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Opal Diamond of Smiths Ferry and the late Garnet Diamond.

The marriage was solemnized at 7:30 o'clock by the former pastor, C. W. Wion. The altar, lighted with white tapers, was banked with cibotium ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a Chantilly lace frock chapel length. Sequins and seed pearls enhanced the bodice, which featured a Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt was styled with ruffles.

All familiar traditions were observed. An heirloom handkerchief from her great-grandmother and a sixpence borrowed from her aunt, Mrs. Albert Strohm, of Beaver, were carried.

Miss Sally Strohm served her sister as maid of honor. Miss Nancy Strohm, another sister, Miss Gale Newcomb of Ohio View and Miss Mae Belle Drear and Miss Rosalie Ciganik of Industry were bridesmaids. Their identical gowns were of pink embroidered nylon organza styled with ballerina-length bouffant skirts of ruffles. Their headpieces were fashioned of pink nylon braid bands with flusher veils. The maid of honor carried a white basket with an arrangement of pink and white carnations. Pink baskets and pink carnations were carried by the bridesmaids.

A cousin of the bride, Cindy Jenkins of Midland, was flower girl. She was dressed exactly as the bridesmaids and dropped petals on the aisle from her white lace basket.

MRS. DELANO DIAMOND
Industry Girl Bride of June 12.

Ray Bartley, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. John Chaffee, Keith Bussard and Ronnie Mazine, all of Smiths Ferry, and Ronnie Speerhas of Industry were ushers.

Miss Jennie Ketterer of Beaver was organist and Mrs. George McGee of Midland soloist.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Midland High School and the bridegroom, a 1952 graduate, is employed by the Crucible Steel Co.

Highway Patrol Staff Increased

The understaffed State Highway Patrol unit at Lisbon is being supplemented by a new patrolman and the return to desk duty of an assigned officer who is convalescing from an injury.

D. D. Sturtz of Coshocton, former cadet dispatcher at New Philadelphia, who was to be graduated today from the Patrol Academy at Columbus, has been assigned to the Lisbon barracks.

Meanwhile, Patrolman Richard Delagrange, 22, injured in a collision between his cruiser and a foundry truck near Salem April 3, began working part-time at the post desk Monday, helping out a few hours each day, according to Cpl. John Miller.

Miller said the unit, which ordinarily has 11 or 12 men, has been operating with only about 8 on active duty because of injuries or transfers.

Stanley A. Umpleby, son of Lt. W. B. Umpleby of Warren and former cadet dispatcher at Lisbon, was also among the 34 patrolmen graduated today, and has been assigned to the Massillon post.

This Letter Could Keep Governor Real Busy

Latest Rocket Fails To Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force says its latest Discoverer satellite rocket, loaded with secret gear, failed to go into orbit.

Experts were trying to learn why.

The weight of the rocket's space capsule—more than 300 pounds—caused speculation that it might contain some type of scanning equipment. The Air Force was silent on this.

The rocket was fired at 3:49 p.m. in a test of complex equipment which will carry monkeys into space this autumn. There was no life aboard the fourth Discoverer rocket.

Projects Outlined By Department Of Mental Hygiene

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction said today it has spent more than 8½ million dollars in the past two years to prolong the life of its hospital, school and correctional buildings.

A special report prepared this spring at the request of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle was critical of maintenance efforts and the general condition of some facilities at the state's 25 mental hospitals.

The department said that $8,542,923 was spent in the two-year period that ends June 30.

Of that amount, it said, $6,836,923 has been spent on 51 projects to rehabilitate and alter buildings where detailed engineering and architectural services were required.

Ninety-nine repair and maintenance jobs accounted for the rest of the expenditure, the department explained.

Among the projects, some of which are still in progress, are these, the department said:

Athens State Hospital—$353,000 for reconstruction of two cottages, roofing repairs, and replacement of an amusement hall floor.

Mansfield Reformatory — $48,000 for new roof on administration building, reconstruction of parapet walls.

"Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was sung in conclusion.

Council To Meet

SALINEVILLE — Council will meet Monday night at 7:30 for routine business. Mayor Karl Lindner, on vacation in Canada, is due to return over the weekend.

Frye Slated To Head VFW

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Senior Vice Commander John Fyre of Lorain is slated to move up to state commander of the Ohio Veterans of Foreign Wars at its 39th annual convention here.

Fyre will succeed Leroy G. Schell of Steubenville and Dwain Cain of New Carlisle will succeed Fyre. Cain is now junior vice commander.

Some 5,000 delegates are expected here for the four-day convention which opened Thursday and closes Sunday.

200 At Annual School Picnic Of St. John's Church

Some 200 attended the annual Sunday School picnic of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church Wednesday afternoon at Thompson Park.

Harold Bricker, superintendent, conducted games for the children.

The Sunday School furnished the entire menu and those serving included:

Mrs. Helen Stoddard, Mrs. Marjorie Maley, Mrs. Margaret Yuker, Mrs. Kenneth Guy, Mrs. Mildred Ade, Mrs. Catherine Reark, Mrs. Kathy Riddle, Mrs. Barbara Stevens, Mrs. Christine Collins, Mrs. Madeline Deiderick, Mrs. Ethel Poling, Miss Alice Peddicord, Miss Eva Sprouse, Mrs. Mary Reed, Mrs. Pauline Anthony, Mrs. Irene Brooks, Mrs. Ruth Scott and Mrs. Sally Mase.

The annual ball game between the married men and the single men was held. Quiz games included "Trees," won by Earl Boles; "What Berry Is This?", Mrs. Pat Wright; "Flowers," Mrs. Poling; "Presidential Nicknames," Joe Ladzinske, Mrs. Stoddard and Mrs. Maley; "Do You Know Your Old Cars?", Mrs. Ruth Scott and Mrs. Kathy Riddle, and "Bible Quiz," Mrs. Stoddard. Winners received potted plants.

Mrs. Stevens led an "old-fashioned" hymn sing and Vicar G. Richard Linderman conducted devotions.

"Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was sung in conclusion.

Council To Meet

SALINEVILLE — Council will meet Monday night at 7:30 for routine business. Mayor Karl Lindner, on vacation in Canada, is due to return over the weekend.

Frye Slated To Head VFW

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Senior Vice Commander John Fyre of Lorain is slated to move up to state commander of the Ohio Veterans of Foreign Wars at its 39th annual convention here.

Fyre will succeed Leroy G. Schell of Steubenville and Dwain Cain of New Carlisle will succeed Fyre. Cain is now junior vice commander.

Some 5,000 delegates are expected here for the four-day convention which opened Thursday and closes Sunday.

In contested elections for VFW posts, Sam Schaffner Jr. of Baltimore (Fairfield County) and William Bowles of Maumee are vieing for junior vice commander, and Atlee J. Reeb, Gahanna, is opposing A. W. Rauch, Cleveland, for quartermaster.

Kerr (D-Okla), to repeal the 10 per cent communications tax on such items as telephone service, effective July 1, 1960. It would cut revenues 735 million dollars a year.

3. Sponsored by Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn), to repeal most of the tax credit for stockholders on dividend income, effective Jan. 1, 1960. It would bring in about 335 million annually.

4. Sponsored by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La), to increase federal grants to the states for old age assistance and other relief programs by 142 millions annually, effective in October 1959. Adopted 42-36.

The effect of these combined would be to cut the government's income in the new fiscal year starting next Wednesday.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 15 and I have a tough problem. My mother died three months ago and it shook all of us up pretty badly. My father gets mad if I turn on the radio or play a record. He says I forget too easily and that I have no respect for my mother's memory.

Last night he said it would serve me right if something happened to him and I was left with nobody, because I didn't appreciate parents.

Honestly, Ann, I do have respect for my mother's memory but I just can't sit around with a long face every evening the way Dad does. He makes me so blue I can't sleep at night and I'm tired all day.

Please tell me what to do. I feel all alone.—GERRY.

Dear Gerry: Of course you shouldn't sit around every evening with a long face — and neither should your dad. After three months you should be permitted to have music in the house.

Your dad is so heartbroken over losing Mom that he's taking his misery out on you because he doesn't know what else to do. Ask your clergyman to speak to him. You need the help of an adult who can talk to your dad and help him understand.

Keep Your Eyes Open

Dear Ann: A certain woman joined our bridge club six months ago. She's the only newcomer in the last 10 years. The other 11 girls have been playing bridge together since we were brides.

This newcomer is not a very good housekeeper and her lunches are always unattractive and hard to digest. Several women have mentioned that she's the poorest cook in the bunch.

Last week something happened which I think is grounds for expelling her from the club. She served individual salads and just as I was to take a mouthful I spotted a small worm crawling on the lettuce leaf.

Dear One: Yes—half a worm.

Too bad the girl is such a poor cook — and a careless one to boot—but I can't see that this is grounds for expelling her from the club. Say nothing — just keep your eyes open when you eat in her home.

Unsolicited Advice

Dear Ann: We have two married daughters. One is 23, the other is 21. They always got along well and decided since their husbands were compatible, too, they should share one large house to save expenses.

The older couple has a little boy 2 years of age. He's high-strung and a busy little fellow. The younger couple discipline him as if he were their son.

Sometimes Uncle Jim will give Junior a pat in the pants, which makes him furious. The boy's parents have said nothing because they find the living arrangement so economical. Also they don't want to have any hard feelings in the family.

My husband and I think the atmosphere in that house is uneasy. We don't want to mix in, but we'd like your opinion. Do you feel they should continue to live together?—P.E.P.

Dear P.E.P.: Since the couples involved didn't ask for my advice I'm not offering it to them. This is just for YOU — and 35 million other people who might happen to see it.

The "economical" arrangement sounds as if it might be pretty expensive. There are two too many symbols of authority in that house and the child may well be in a constant state of confusion and turmoil. Living with an aunt and uncle who double as parents would be hard on any youngster.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wage Offer Rejected

CINCINNATI (AP) — Striking Sheetmetal Union members rejected another wage offer from contractors Thursday night and voted to continue their 25-day strike. By a vote of 350-99, members of Local 141 turned down a two-year contract, calling for a 12½-cent-an-hour boost each year.

Beaver Surplus Foods To Include Dried Eggs

Dried eggs will be added in July to commodities distributed by the surplus food department, Benedict Zupi, Beaver County surplus food administrator, announced.

He said that after opening the can, the unused powder should be stored in a tightly-closed container in the refrigerator. He said the eggs should be used in thoroughly cooked dishes only, such as baked desserts, long-cooked casseroles and breads.

The eggs should not be used in egg-milk drinks, uncooked salad dressings or egg dishes cooked on the top of the stove, he said.

Offers Asked On Sewer Job

Contractors' bids will be opened at City Hall at noon Monday, July 13, for a general sanitary sewer program in Beechwood, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

The director called for bids after Council cleared the way with 2 pieces of enabling legislation June 19. Council's action included authorization to borrow $60,000 to finance the project, although most of the money later will be returned to the city in the form of special assessments against property-owners.

The director's call for bids said the project will involve 12,086 feet of trench, 9,286 lineal feet of 8-inch sewer pipe and 2,800 lineal feet of 4-inch pipe, along with 28 manholes.

Most of the big residential area now depends upon septic tanks for sanitation. Unsanitary conditions there were condemned officially on several occasions by the Board of Health, which directed Council to take steps for the sewer project.

The work will cover sections of Beechwood St., Camp Alley, Center St., Division St., Reynolds St., Buxton Alley, Haywood St., Vernia St. and Broad St. The new Beechwood system will be hooked onto an existing line which flows south on Park Way and links with another new line on Pennsylvania Ave. near Boyce St.

'State's Rights' Seen Issue With 3 Boatmen Cited

The citation of three city boat operators for an alleged violation of a Pennsylvania boat license regulation at Pittsburgh has stirred up a minor issue on "state's rights" on the Ohio River.

Sidney C. Porter Jr. of Broadview Circle, William P. Keim of Dewey Ave. and John J. Falone of Glenmoor were cited by two Pennsylvania Fish and Game Commission officers June 8 in the Allegheny River at Pittsburgh for lack of a Pennsylvania motor boat license.

At a preliminary hearing held before Police Magistrate John Fiorrucci of Pittsburgh — where the men posted $50 bonds — the city men claimed their federal licenses with the Coast Guard exempted them from licensing by a state.

Coast Guard officials, according to the police magistrate's clerk, also said a Pennsylvania license was not required if the boats were registered in the federal numbering system.

Pennsylvania authorities granted a continuance in the case, and an attorney is gathering information for them concerning the issues involved.

Howard Marks, magistrate clerk, said Porter reported to him this morning he plans to leave on a vacation next week. Marks said the hearing will not be held until after Porter returns.

seat, some loose and some in paper rolls.

Suspecting the money was loot from a burglary, Roy Burson notified his officer brother. When the off-duty patrolman approached the car in plain clothes, the two refused to believe he was a policeman, officers said.

When he showed them his badge and asked them to leave, one of the men replied: "That doesn't mean anything to us; where's your gun."

So the officer produced his .38-caliber service pistol and took the two to headquarters for questioning about the money on the seat of their auto.

Meanwhile, Officer Carter, who was on East End duty from midnight to 8 this morning in a cruiser, found a cut window screen and a broken window that led to discovery of the burglary at the market.

He notified headquarters, pointing out the two men might be connected with the burglary. When officers learned the two resided above the store, their suspicions became stronger.

Lt. Clyde Boso, meanwhile, had taken over the questioning of the two. About 6 this morning, Echols confessed the burglary, police said.

In addition to the cash, the intruders obtained three cartons of cigarettes from the store, officers said.

At first the men insisted that they had saved the money jointly in a piggy bank and had gone to the creek area to divide it, officers said.

VFW Drill Team Seeks State Championship

Inspections will be held tonight and competition will be held Saturday. Sherwood Robinson, post commander, Nicholes Turklay, national youth activities chairman, and Joseph W. Torrence, 6th District commander of VFW Post 66 will attend.

Wool Payment Set For County

LISBON — Incentive payments in the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation wool program will begin shortly after Wednesday on applications received before April 30, Earl Lora, ASC office manager, said.

Payments will be made on shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed between April 1, 1958, and March 31, 1959.

Shorn wool payments for the 1958 marketing year — the fourth year of the wood incentive program — will amount to 70.3 per cent of the dollar return each producer received from the sale of shorn wool that year.

This will result in an incentive payment of $70.30 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool.

The payment rate on sales of unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be $1.02 per hundredweight of the live animal sold. The payment is based on the shorn wool payment, and is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing.

Because the average price of mohair — 72.3 cents a pound — was above the mohair price support of 70 cents, no payments will be made on mohair sold in the 1958 marketing year.

Preparatory Services Will Be Held Tonight

Union preparatory services of the Mill Creek and Hookstown Presbyterian Churches will be held tonight at 8 at the Hookstown Church.

James K. Smith, a student at the Western Theological Seminary at Pittsburgh, will preach on "Examine Yourself." The offering will be taken for the Deacons Fund. Communion will be Sunday.

Dance Series Starts

EAST PALESTINE — The first in a series of record dances sponsored by the Boosters Club will be held Saturday night at the high school gymnasium. Clifford Davis is chairman. Members of the club and wives will serve as chaperons.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

The Anti-Fabian Position

I was in the shower the other day singing "Twixt 45 and 50," the theme song of the Forgotten People (which is anyone over the age of 14), and feeling sorry for myself.

John Crosby

The world, I reflected, is not run for us ancients. We are just here to pay the bills. "This is not a brand New Thought, I realize, but then what do you expect in a newspaper column—Wisdom? But even if it's old hat, there is a certain bitter truth in it, and this particular bitter truth needs constant reassertion if we are not to be overhwlemed by the Little People.

IT'S NOT that I'm opposed to youth.

Youth was great when I was a youth, but by George they broke the mold right after me. At least the mold I came out of could not have been the same one that produced Fabian who was on the Ed Sullivan Show the other night, caterwauling or whatever he was doing.

Fabian, I have been informed, is one of the newer enthusiasms of our young set and one of the more presentable young singers.

Singers?

Presentable?

He was wearing a slipcover over an old tee shirt. The hair looked like something Medusa had sent back to the store as unworthy of her. Although, I'm told, he has been applauded as one of the more stationary and therefore admirable young entertainers (a word that has been thoroughly debased in my lifetime), he revolves like a top, snapping his fingers and jerking his eyeballs.

Of course, he doesn't twitch like Elvis and, I suppose we ought to be grateful for small mercies.

AS FOR his voice . . . Well, of course, singers gave up singing years ago in favor of shouting—but this one can't even shout.

The song he was mouthing, "Like a Tiger," was enormously improved by total unintelligibility. Just in case you could make out a word here and there — heaven forbid—they turned up the electric guitar (or whatever it is that makes that awful racket in the background) and just to be doubly sure that that horrible song and the dreadful voice of young Fabian are totally drowned out—the young audience is encouraged to shriek, whistle, stomp and, if necessary, set fire to Ed Sullivan.

And that, fellers, is how a sweet chile becomes a teen-age idol in our wonderfully advanced civilization in this here 20th century.

Oh, there's one other requisite to becoming a popular singer these days: you got to be utterly loathesome to adults—and that ingredient this little fellow has in generous quantities, God bless his little growing bank account.

I SUPPOSE we were revolting against our parents, too, when we were little spratlings but the singers we liked—Bing Crosby, for example—could really sing.

And you know why? Because he had to please not only us but our fathers and uncles, because our fathers and uncles owned and operated the record companies and the radio networks and they didn't pay all that attention to the likes and dislikes of us little shavers. (In fact, I can't recall anyone paying any attention at all to me when I was 13.)

Today, the revolt is not so much against adults. It's against singing itself. It's against song itself. It's against — considering the quality of the lyrics—language itself.

Why do we put up with it? Record executives, who no longer pretend this junk is anything but horrible, plead that they have to cater to young tastes.

But why? As Moss Hart has pointed out, it's ridiculous to be this subservient to the young. We're bigger than they are—and it's our house. And our TV set. And our Record companies. And, darn it, we still got the vote, haven't we?

If necessary, Fabian could be proclaimed unconstitutional and your small fry and mine couldn't do a thing to stop it.

THE OTHER DAY I was watching Jimmy Rodgers, another incomprehensible enthusiasm of the very young, singing "I'm Too Young to Merry-o" and I found myself yelling back at him: "You're too young to have your own show, too."

That is an unmistakable sign of approaching madness. To argue with the set is weak-headed, but to argue with a teen-ager on television—obviously I'm coming unhinged.

Road Replies Viewed As Not Encouraging

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department has received four replies to a plea it sent Ohio's congressmen last Saturday.

Director Everett S. Preston asked the congressmen to do what they could to stop a threatened cut-off of federal funds for interstate road projects. After a look at the first four replies, Preston admitted Thursday he is not encouraged.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Flushing) said he doesn't think President Eisenhower's proposal to raise the gasoline tax as a source of revenue for the interstate fund has a chance. Hays said he would support "alternative methods of raising money to keep this very important program in operation."

In reply to an earlier plea, Hays wrote Preston June 15 that he would support "any feasible plan."

Rep. Samuel L. Devine (R - Columbus) commented: "As I have indicated in previous letters to you, I am fully aware of this problem and I trust we will be able to provide some means to alleviate this situation."

Devine supported the President's gasoline tax increase in a June 12 letter to Preston. In a January letter to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, he pointed out that he is familiar with the situation as a result of his being a member of the Ohio Legislature at one time.

Rep. William E. Hess (R-Cincinnati) expressed the hope that legislation in line with the President's recommendations would be brought to the floor of Congress. He said he "will be glad to support it."

Hess also backed Eisenhower's recommendations in a June 9 letter.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Blanchester) said he is "hopeful some provision will be made to properly protect the federal highway trust fund." Earlier, Brown wrote Preston that he was giving the matter careful attention.

Preston said Thursday he still expects to go to Washington soon to confer with Ohio's senators and representatives.

Money for the interstate program might be cut off because the fund from which it is taken is running dry and an amendment to the original 1956 Highway Act would not allow allocations until the fund can afford it.

Eisenhower wants to increase the gas tax 1½ cents to rebuild the fund, but Democratic congressional leaders and many governors—who use that tax to support state road programs—oppose the idea. Ohio's Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is included.

Ohio is in a potentially worse position than most states because it has committed all the funds allowed it for the fiscal year that starts July 1, and 40 million beyond that.

The way it works, the federal government has to promise the money now if Ohio is to have it to draw on after July 1, 1960. But it appears that no money will be promised, and possibly there will be only enough in the July 1, 1961-June 30, 1962 year to cover the 40 million already committed.

Wellsville Camera Fan Wins Club Contest

Anna Gallia of Wellsville won honorable mention, Ward said. Judges were H. B. Barth, curator of the East Liverpool Historical Society museum, and Don Shreckengost, art director of the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Unionist Paid By Paper For 'Protection'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators were told Thursday a Pittsburgh newspaper paid a Teamsters Union official more than $100,000 over nine years to avoid labor troubles and footed the bill for a telephone he allegedly used in a numbers racket.

William J. Poch, business manager of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, testified that Theodore Cozza did "little work for us," but that he was put on the payroll as a driver supervisor "for fear of disturbing the labor relations of the company." Cozza was fired about a month ago, he said.

Poch, under questioning before the Senate Rackets Committee, acknowledged that the newspaper paid $1,022 for 700 to 800 phone calls a month in connection with a numbers racket committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Cozza conducted from his office in the paper. The business manager said the paper objected.

Cozza, president of Teamsters Local 211 in Pittsburgh, refused to give the committee any information. He invoked the Fifth Amendment, contending his answers to questions might tend to incriminate him.

The testimony about the Sun-Telegraph situation opened a new round of rackets committee hearings on the Teamsters Union.

Killed By Tractor

Fire-Fighting Movie Shown Area Firemen

Fire fighting methods were demonstrated in a film, "Little Drops of Water," at the meeting of the Tri - State Firemen's Association Thursday evening at the Vanport fire hall.

Devine Banks, president, presided. He said the film showed condemned homes in Memphis, Tenn., which were destroyed by firemen for demonstration blazes for training in fire-fighting.

Next meeting will be in July at the Midland Heights fire station. Date will be announced later.

Feed Fieldman Named By Farm Bureau Co-Op

Duane Osborne of Newark has been appointed fieldman for the feed division of the Farm Bureau Co-operative Association in Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson and eight other eastern Ohio counties.

A native of Akron, Osborne was formerly a district sales manager for a major feed concern. He will assist county organizations in promoting sales and service of Farm Bureau Landmark feeds. He is married and has two children.

225 Delegates Due At Pottery Union Meeting

The 12-member General Executive Board of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will leave Wednesday for Montreal, Canada, to prepare for the opening of the union's 65th annual convention on Monday, July 6, at the Sheraton-Mt. Royal Hotel.

The convention, expected to last a week, will attract approximately 225 delegates from local unions throughout the United States and parts of Canada. Fifty-nine resolutions appear in the convention's printed program and others are expected to be dropped into the hopper after the meeting gets under way.

One of the highlights of the meeting will be installation of all IBOP officers for new two - year terms to which they were elected in May. E. L. Wheatley of East Liverpool, president, will be starting his second full term.

The executive board, comprised of the international officers, is expected to be in pre-convention session for three days. It marks the first time an IBOP convention has been held in Canada. The IBOP has four locals in Canada.

Fire Destroys Mail

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—One-third of the mail in a mail storage car was destroyed Thursday when fire broke out aboard a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train en route to Chicago. The fire, confined to the mail car, was discovered as the train approached Lima. Firemen were waiting when the train arrived. Cause of the blaze was not determined. No one was injured.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

● Sleeping Habits

Q. My year-old baby always sleeps with his head turned to the right and this side of his head is quite flat. What can I do to correct this?

A. At this age the sleeping habits are fairly well fixed and the year-old can roll over to any desired position at will. Try placing him on his stomach before he goes to sleep. If this doesn't work, try to change the sleeping position after he is sound asleep. The head flattening won't harm his brain and will tend to correct itself in time.

Q. "Is Meniere's disease curable? What treatment is used?" —C. H.

A. True Meniere's disease is due to accumulation of excess fluid within the inner ear but what causes this water-logging is unknown. Most medical treatment is aimed at drying out the affected parts. Special diets and drugs are used with good results in some cases, not so good in others. Ear surgery is the last resort. When certain other inner ear conditions cause the dizziness, head noises and deafness of true Meniere's disease, doctors refer to it as Meniere's syndrome, meaning a group of symptoms. Here, the chances for a cure may be better than in true Meniere's disease. For example, the inner ear condition causing the symptoms may be due to an allergic upset. If so, treat the allergy and the ear symptoms clear up.

Sheep Killer Case Still Hanging Fire

Township trustees here agreed that a dog had killed about 85 lambs over a two-month period. They did not identify any one dog as the killer.

Madison County Sheriff Herbert Markley nabbed a large black chow dog and tagged it as the culprit. Originally, Markley had been looking for a fiend with a small caliber weapon because of the wounds suffered by the lambs. It was later found that the holes were made by teeth, not bullets.

Because it was a civil case, Markley returned the dog to its owner, who chained the animal. The lamb killings stopped.

Now, it's up to the county commissioners to decide whether to reimburse farmers for the livestock losses.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

The Anti-Fabian Position

I was in the shower the other day singing "Twixt 45 and 50," the theme song of the Forgotten People (which is anyone over the age of 14), and feeling sorry for myself.

John Crosby

The world, I reflected, is not run for us ancients. We are just here to pay the bills. "This is not a brand New Thought, I realize, but then what do you expect in a newspaper column—Wisdom? But even if it's old hat, there is a certain bitter truth in it, and this particular bitter truth needs constant reassertion if we are not to be overhwlemed by the Little People.

IT'S NOT that I'm opposed to youth.

Youth was great when I was a youth, but by George they broke the mold right after me. At least the mold I came out of could not have been the same one that produced Fabian who was on the Ed Sullivan Show the other night, caterwauling or whatever he was doing.

Fabian, I have been informed, is one of the newer enthusiasms of our young set and one of the more presentable young singers.

Singers?

Presentable?

He was wearing a slipcover over an old tee shirt. The hair looked like something Medusa had sent back to the store as unworthy of her. Although, I'm told, he has been applauded as one of the more stationary and therefore admirable young entertainers (a word that has been thoroughly debased in my lifetime), he revolves like a top, snapping his fingers and jerking his eyeballs.

Of course, he doesn't twitch like Elvis and, I suppose we ought to be grateful for small mercies.

AS FOR his voice . . . Well, of course, singers gave up singing years ago in favor of shouting—but this one can't even shout.

The song he was mouthing, "Like a Tiger," was enormously improved by total unintelligibility. Just in case you could make out a word here and there — heaven forbid—they turned up the electric guitar (or whatever it is that makes that awful racket in the background) and just to be doubly sure that that horrible song and the dreadful voice of young Fabian are totally drowned out—the young audience is encouraged to shriek, whistle, stomp and, if necessary, set fire to Ed Sullivan.

And that, fellers, is how a sweet chile becomes a teen-age idol in our wonderfully advanced civilization in this here 20th century.

Oh, there's one other requisite to becoming a popular singer these days: you got to be utterly loathesome to adults—and that ingredient this little fellow has in generous quantities, God bless his little growing bank account.

I SUPPOSE we were revolting against our parents, too, when we were little spratlings but the singers we liked—Bing Crosby, for example—could really sing.

And you know why? Because he had to please not only us but our fathers and uncles, because our fathers and uncles owned and operated the record companies and the radio networks and they didn't pay all that attention to the likes and dislikes of us little shavers. (In fact, I can't recall anyone paying any attention at all to me when I was 13.)

Today, the revolt is not so much against adults. It's against singing itself. It's against song itself. It's against — considering the quality of the lyrics—language itself.

Why do we put up with it? Record executives, who no longer pretend this junk is anything but horrible, plead that they have to cater to young tastes.

But why? As Moss Hart has pointed out, it's ridiculous to be this subservient to the young. We're bigger than they are—and it's our house. And our TV set. And our Record companies. And, darn it, we still got the vote, haven't we?

If necessary, Fabian could be proclaimed unconstitutional and your small fry and mine couldn't do a thing to stop it.

THE OTHER DAY I was watching Jimmy Rodgers, another incomprehensible enthusiasm of the very young, singing "I'm Too Young to Merry-o" and I found myself yelling back at him: "You're too young to have your own show, too."

That is an unmistakable sign of approaching madness. To argue with the set is weak-headed, but to argue with a teen-ager on television—obviously I'm coming unhinged.

Road Replies Viewed As Not Encouraging

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department has received four replies to a plea it sent Ohio's congressmen last Saturday.

Director Everett S. Preston asked the congressmen to do what they could to stop a threatened cut-off of federal funds for interstate road projects. After a look at the first four replies, Preston admitted Thursday he is not encouraged.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Flushing) said he doesn't think President Eisenhower's proposal to raise the gasoline tax as a source of revenue for the interstate fund has a chance. Hays said he would support "alternative methods of raising money to keep this very important program in operation."

In reply to an earlier plea, Hays wrote Preston June 15 that he would support "any feasible plan."

Rep. Samuel L. Devine (R - Columbus) commented: "As I have indicated in previous letters to you, I am fully aware of this problem and I trust we will be able to provide some means to alleviate this situation."

Devine supported the President's gasoline tax increase in a June 12 letter to Preston. In a January letter to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, he pointed out that he is familiar with the situation as a result of his being a member of the Ohio Legislature at one time.

Rep. William E. Hess (R-Cincinnati) expressed the hope that legislation in line with the President's recommendations would be brought to the floor of Congress. He said he "will be glad to support it."

Hess also backed Eisenhower's recommendations in a June 9 letter.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Blanchester) said he is "hopeful some provision will be made to properly protect the federal highway trust fund." Earlier, Brown wrote Preston that he was giving the matter careful attention.

Preston said Thursday he still expects to go to Washington soon to confer with Ohio's senators and representatives.

Money for the interstate program might be cut off because the fund from which it is taken is running dry and an amendment to the original 1956 Highway Act would not allow allocations until the fund can afford it.

Eisenhower wants to increase the gas tax 1½ cents to rebuild the fund, but Democratic congressional leaders and many governors—who use that tax to support state road programs—oppose the idea. Ohio's Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is included.

Ohio is in a potentially worse position than most states because it has committed all the funds allowed it for the fiscal year that starts July 1, and 40 million beyond that.

The way it works, the federal government has to promise the money now if Ohio is to have it to draw on after July 1, 1960. But it appears that no money will be promised, and possibly there will be only enough in the July 1, 1961-June 30, 1962 year to cover the 40 million already committed.

Wellsville Camera Fan Wins Club Contest

Anna Gallia of Wellsville won honorable mention, Ward said. Judges were H. B. Barth, curator of the East Liverpool Historical Society museum, and Don Shreckengost, art director of the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Unionist Paid By Paper For 'Protection'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Investigators were told Thursday a Pittsburgh newspaper paid a Teamsters Union official more than $100,000 over nine years to avoid labor troubles and footed the bill for a telephone he allegedly used in a numbers racket.

William J. Poch, business manager of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, testified that Theodore Cozza did "little work for us," but that he was put on the payroll as a driver supervisor "for fear of disturbing the labor relations of the company." Cozza was fired about a month ago, he said.

Poch, under questioning before the Senate Rackets Committee, acknowledged that the newspaper paid $1,022 for 700 to 800 phone calls a month in connection with a numbers racket committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Cozza conducted from his office in the paper. The business manager said the paper objected.

Cozza, president of Teamsters Local 211 in Pittsburgh, refused to give the committee any information. He invoked the Fifth Amendment, contending his answers to questions might tend to incriminate him.

The testimony about the Sun-Telegraph situation opened a new round of rackets committee hearings on the Teamsters Union.

Killed By Tractor

Fire-Fighting Movie Shown Area Firemen

Fire fighting methods were demonstrated in a film, "Little Drops of Water," at the meeting of the Tri - State Firemen's Association Thursday evening at the Vanport fire hall.

Devine Banks, president, presided. He said the film showed condemned homes in Memphis, Tenn., which were destroyed by firemen for demonstration blazes for training in fire-fighting.

Next meeting will be in July at the Midland Heights fire station. Date will be announced later.

Feed Fieldman Named By Farm Bureau Co-Op

Duane Osborne of Newark has been appointed fieldman for the feed division of the Farm Bureau Co-operative Association in Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson and eight other eastern Ohio counties.

A native of Akron, Osborne was formerly a district sales manager for a major feed concern. He will assist county organizations in promoting sales and service of Farm Bureau Landmark feeds. He is married and has two children.

225 Delegates Due At Pottery Union Meeting

The 12-member General Executive Board of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will leave Wednesday for Montreal, Canada, to prepare for the opening of the union's 65th annual convention on Monday, July 6, at the Sheraton-Mt. Royal Hotel.

The convention, expected to last a week, will attract approximately 225 delegates from local unions throughout the United States and parts of Canada. Fifty-nine resolutions appear in the convention's printed program and others are expected to be dropped into the hopper after the meeting gets under way.

One of the highlights of the meeting will be installation of all IBOP officers for new two - year terms to which they were elected in May. E. L. Wheatley of East Liverpool, president, will be starting his second full term.

The executive board, comprised of the international officers, is expected to be in pre-convention session for three days. It marks the first time an IBOP convention has been held in Canada. The IBOP has four locals in Canada.

Fire Destroys Mail

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—One-third of the mail in a mail storage car was destroyed Thursday when fire broke out aboard a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train en route to Chicago. The fire, confined to the mail car, was discovered as the train approached Lima. Firemen were waiting when the train arrived. Cause of the blaze was not determined. No one was injured.

Better Health Through Knowledge

● Sleeping Habits

Q. My year-old baby always sleeps with his head turned to the right and this side of his head is quite flat. What can I do to correct this?

A. At this age the sleeping habits are fairly well fixed and the year-old can roll over to any desired position at will. Try placing him on his stomach before he goes to sleep. If this doesn't work, try to change the sleeping position after he is sound asleep. The head flattening won't harm his brain and will tend to correct itself in time.

Q. "Is Meniere's disease curable? What treatment is used?" —C. H.

A. True Meniere's disease is due to accumulation of excess fluid within the inner ear but what causes this water-logging is unknown. Most medical treatment is aimed at drying out the affected parts. Special diets and drugs are used with good results in some cases, not so good in others. Ear surgery is the last resort. When certain other inner ear conditions cause the dizziness, head noises and deafness of true Meniere's disease, doctors refer to it as Meniere's syndrome, meaning a group of symptoms. Here, the chances for a cure may be better than in true Meniere's disease. For example, the inner ear condition causing the symptoms may be due to an allergic upset. If so, treat the allergy and the ear symptoms clear up.

● Meniere's Disease

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Sheep Killer Case Still Hanging Fire

Township trustees here agreed that a dog had killed about 85 lambs over a two-month period. They did not identify any one dog as the killer.

Madison County Sheriff Herbert Markley nabbed a large black chow dog and tagged it as the culprit. Originally, Markley had been looking for a fiend with a small caliber weapon because of the wounds suffered by the lambs. It was later found that the holes were made by teeth, not bullets.

Because it was a civil case, Markley returned the dog to its owner, who chained the animal. The lamb killings stopped.

Now, it's up to the county commissioners to decide whether to reimburse farmers for the livestock losses.

Before Assembly Calls It Quits

DiSalle Lists Bills That He Wants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A flock of important bills is standing between the Ohio Legislature and final adjournment—plus the wind-up of the session-long money battle.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has ticked off "from the top of his head" for newsmen a long list of measures on which he would like to see some action before the lawmakers call it quits for the regular session of the 103rd General Assembly.

He expects most money issues to be laid to rest Monday when legislators return from their weekend recess. The House is scheduled to act that day on a sales tax revision bill and the Senate is scheduled to act at almost the same time on the $1,848,000,000 record budget bill.

The budget bill, even including an expected 40 million dollars, is out of balance. DiSalle insists there will be cuts, but there was a possibility the cut could be in the 40 million dollars capital improvements in a separate bill.

Among measures on which the governor says he would like to see action before adjournment are bills to:

Create a Department of Industrial and Economic Development, already passed by the House.

Write labor's code of ethics into law.

Liberalize unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits. The Senate has approved its version of an unemployment compensation law revision.

Reorganize the Liquor Department and Liquor Board. The House passed the bill Thursday.

Broaden the strip mine reclamation law and transfer reclamation activities to the Department of Natural Resources. The House has passed it.

Establish criminal conspiracy as a felony, a step aimed at reaching the kingpins of crime. It has passed the House.

Liberalize the school foundation program (the school subsidy) slightly.

Abolish 15 rotary funds now under control of several state departments, funds which finance some routine operations without the appropriation control of the Legislature. It has passed the Senate.

Permit the three big state retirement funds and the workmen's conpensation insurance fund to invest in advance purchase of highway right of way. The bill has passed the House.

Modify the so-called Sunday blue laws. The bill is scheduled for a House vote Tuesday.

Limit campaign spending by political parties.

Another was unanimous Senate passage of a bill carrying increases in pension benefits averaging 10 per cent for about 250,000 members of the state's three retirement systems.

Under the liquor bill, the director would be able to set liquor prices, regulate liquor manufacture and packaging, acquire land and control state store operations. He also could abandon use of the retail sales slip system which now costs about $55,000 a year.

The bill requires all members of the four-member Liquor Control Board to devote full time to their jobs. They would get salary increases from $6,500 to $10,000 a year.

The measure also abandons the requirement that retail liquor establishments close on special election days, but would continue to require they be closed during primary and general elections.

The House voted 85-30 for state purchase of coal strip mine land abandoned before the first reclamation law became effective in 1948. The measure which now goes to the Senate would permit the state to sell or use such property after reclaiming it.

Even though the Senate passed an emergency bill unanimously to increase retirement benefits, there were grumbles from some associated with local governments that the measure will place an extra financial burden on cities and counties.

Beginning next year, if the House approves the bill, cities and counties must pay more than three million dollars extra a year for their share of retirement fund premiums. The state will not feel the heavier burden until two years hence — $2,187,500 a year. The state's share for school employes about $768,000.

The total tab comes to more than 10½ million dollars a year.

The bill would increase minimum pensions from $63 to $72 a month, effective next Tuesday. Affective at the same time, employes' and teachers' contributions to the funds would increase from 6 to 7 per cent of their earnings. Survivor benefits also would be increased.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Girdle Need Not Cause Spread

In the good old summertime, the question frequently asked is whether going without a girdle in hot weather will cause the figure to spread. The answer is no, not if your muscles have fair to middling tone.

Ida Jean Kain

In fact, working, walking and exercising without a girdle can help to increase tone in the abdominal muscles, provided your posture is on the beam.

Posture is all important! Granted, a girdle affords a certain amount of surface support, but it's no help to your silhouette to lean against the stays. To tone the front line, lean against your backbone! Now, let's look at the situation in reverse.

CAN THE wearing of a girdle keep the figure from spreading? The answer is no, for a girdle cannot prevent excess calories from being stored as fatty tissue, nor does it serve to restore tone to muscles.

The prime purpose of the abdominal muscles is to support the internal organs against the downpull of gravity. With no bony structure in this area, the organs in the abdominal cavity are almost completely dependent upon muscle tone for support.

If you have piled on considerable poundage these important bracing muscles have become interlarded with fat, all of which add to the downward pull.

It's plain to see that if your own good muscles have gone completely to pot, and fat is layers thick on the abdomen, a girdle is needed for mechanical support.

However, if you are in good physical condition, your figure certainly will not spread from going without a girdle. In fact, there is nothing more streamlining than to use your own good muscles in a strong up-and-in pull as you go about your daily routine.

Unless the muscles which form nature's girdle have sufficient tone, you cannot maintain an effective up-and-in pull. But here's a tip—with exemplary posture, there is less pressure against these muscles, and they need not be overly strong.

Position: Lie on back, knees bent, with toes tucked under a low chair. Place hands at back of neck, elbows bent.

—:—

MOVEMENT: Pull up to a sitting position and slowly lower back to prone position on floor. Repeat 4 times, rest, and later continue four more times.

Toned girdle muscles keep the figure young.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Before Assembly Calls It Quits

DiSalle Lists Bills That He Wants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A flock of important bills is standing between the Ohio Legislature and final adjournment—plus the wind-up of the session-long money battle.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has ticked off "from the top of his head" for newsmen a long list of measures on which he would like to see some action before the lawmakers call it quits for the regular session of the 103rd General Assembly.

He expects most money issues to be laid to rest Monday when legislators return from their weekend recess. The House is scheduled to act that day on a sales tax revision bill and the Senate is scheduled to act at almost the same time on the $1,848,000,000 record budget bill.

The budget bill, even including an expected 40 million dollars, is out of balance. DiSalle insists there will be cuts, but there was a possibility the cut could be in the 40 million dollars capital improvements in a separate bill.

Among measures on which the governor says he would like to see action before adjournment are bills to:

Create a Department of Industrial and Economic Development, already passed by the House.

Write labor's code of ethics into law.

Liberalize unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits. The Senate has approved its version of an unemployment compensation law revision.

Reorganize the Liquor Department and Liquor Board. The House passed the bill Thursday.

Broaden the strip mine reclamation law and transfer reclamation activities to the Department of Natural Resources. The House has passed it.

Establish criminal conspiracy as a felony, a step aimed at reaching the kingpins of crime. It has passed the House.

Liberalize the school foundation program (the school subsidy) slightly.

Abolish 15 rotary funds now under control of several state departments, funds which finance some routine operations without the appropriation control of the Legislature. It has passed the Senate.

Permit the three big state retirement funds and the workmen's conpensation insurance fund to invest in advance purchase of highway right of way. The bill has passed the House.

Modify the so-called Sunday blue laws. The bill is scheduled for a House vote Tuesday.

Limit campaign spending by political parties.

Another was unanimous Senate passage of a bill carrying increases in pension benefits averaging 10 per cent for about 250,000 members of the state's three retirement systems.

Under the liquor bill, the director would be able to set liquor prices, regulate liquor manufacture and packaging, acquire land and control state store operations. He also could abandon use of the retail sales slip system which now costs about $55,000 a year.

The bill requires all members of the four-member Liquor Control Board to devote full time to their jobs. They would get salary increases from $6,500 to $10,000 a year.

The measure also abandons the requirement that retail liquor establishments close on special election days, but would continue to require they be closed during primary and general elections.

The House voted 85-30 for state purchase of coal strip mine land abandoned before the first reclamation law became effective in 1948. The measure which now goes to the Senate would permit the state to sell or use such property after reclaiming it.

Even though the Senate passed an emergency bill unanimously to increase retirement benefits, there were grumbles from some associated with local governments that the measure will place an extra financial burden on cities and counties.

Beginning next year, if the House approves the bill, cities and counties must pay more than three million dollars extra a year for their share of retirement fund premiums. The state will not feel the heavier burden until two years hence — $2,187,500 a year. The state's share for school employes about $768,000.

The total tab comes to more than 10½ million dollars a year.

The bill would increase minimum pensions from $63 to $72 a month, effective next Tuesday. Affective at the same time, employes' and teachers' contributions to the funds would increase from 6 to 7 per cent of their earnings. Survivor benefits also would be increased.

Keep In Trim

Girdle Need Not Cause Spread

In the good old summertime, the question frequently asked is whether going without a girdle in hot weather will cause the figure to spread. The answer is no, not if your muscles have fair to middling tone.

Ida Jean Kain

In fact, working, walking and exercising without a girdle can help to increase tone in the abdominal muscles, provided your posture is on the beam.

Posture is all important! Granted, a girdle affords a certain amount of surface support, but it's no help to your silhouette to lean against the stays. To tone the front line, lean against your backbone! Now, let's look at the situation in reverse.

CAN THE wearing of a girdle keep the figure from spreading? The answer is no, for a girdle cannot prevent excess calories from being stored as fatty tissue, nor does it serve to restore tone to muscles.

The prime purpose of the abdominal muscles is to support the internal organs against the downpull of gravity. With no bony structure in this area, the organs in the abdominal cavity are almost completely dependent upon muscle tone for support.

If you have piled on considerable poundage these important bracing muscles have become interlarded with fat, all of which add to the downward pull.

It's plain to see that if your own good muscles have gone completely to pot, and fat is layers thick on the abdomen, a girdle is needed for mechanical support.

However, if you are in good physical condition, your figure certainly will not spread from going without a girdle. In fact, there is nothing more streamlining than to use your own good muscles in a strong up-and-in pull as you go about your daily routine.

Unless the muscles which form nature's girdle have sufficient tone, you cannot maintain an effective up-and-in pull. But here's a tip—with exemplary posture, there is less pressure against these muscles, and they need not be overly strong.

Position: Lie on back, knees bent, with toes tucked under a low chair. Place hands at back of neck, elbows bent.

—:—

MOVEMENT: Pull up to a sitting position and slowly lower back to prone position on floor. Repeat 4 times, rest, and later continue four more times.

Toned girdle muscles keep the figure young.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Arcaro At Waterford? . . .

Arcaro was injured in a fall on June 13 in the 91st running of the Belmont Stakes and, according to his doctors, will be able to ride again within the next week.

Wade has been unable to contact Arcaro as yet. If he doesn't make his comeback at Waterford Park, Wade will still attempt to obtain the great rider sometime before the summer meet ends.

Although Arcaro couldn't be reached, Wade learned that the top jockey in the nation is vacationing in Canada, an indication that he may ride in the Queen's Cup on a Canadian track.

Like several jockeys with whom we have talked at Waterford Park, Arcaro agrees that the safety helmet, which is required, saved him. He said in his hospital room that "if it hadn't been for the helmet, the horse that hit me would have torn my head off."

Fritzie And His Cadillac . . .

WE HOPE the Curbstone Coaches of Post 70 in Wellsville put on more shows like they held Wednesday night when Fritzie Zivic was the featured guest.

It was a well-planned night of entertainment, with Zivic, the former welterweight champion, making a big hit with those attending.

George Mueller of East Liverpool did a bang-up job as master of ceremonies to keep the program moving.

Fritzie could have talked all night about his experiences in the ring. One of the funniest stories he told was about the day he was fight Henry Armstrong for the welterweight championship.

Armstrong, a holder of three titles and with a record of 42 straight victories, was a heavy 4-1 favorite. The way Fritzie tells the story, all of his friends came up to him on the day of the fight and wished him well, but told him not to get hurt.

His manager and seconds kept telling him what to expect from Armstrong. This kept up all day and Fritzie couldn't get his mind off the fight.

He recalled that he took a walk up Broadway and spotted a shiny new Cadillac in the window. "I always wanted a Cadillac," Fritzie said so I went in told the salesman that I was fighting Armstrong for the title and if I won I would be back to buy the car."

"I got my mind on the Cadillac and stopped worrying about the fight," Fritzie added.

In the dressing room, his manager kept telling him how to fight Armstrong, but Fritzie was still thinking about the Cadillac.

Not many of the fans attending the fight in Madison Square Garden knew of Zivic and as the boxers climbed into the ring, Zivic said Armstrong got a build up a "mile long" and if you didn't listen closely you wouldn't have known that Zivic was introduced.

Once the championship bout got under way, Zivic was taking a pretty good pounding from Armstrong and the Cadillac seemed further and further away.

About the fifth round Zivic started coming back and then went on to decision Armstrong to become the welter champ in 1940.

Fritzie summed up the story by saying he didn't buy the Cadillac after all, but a high-pressured salesman talked him into a new Oldsmobile.

AN ANSWER to many inquiries about East Liverpool's Bernie Allen. It looks like Bernie is going to return for another season of football at Purdue instead of signing a major league contract this summer.

The only thing that would change his mind would be an offer just too good to turn down.

Bernie is playing a lot of baseball for Cox Construction in the City League and Midland USW in the Steel Valley Loop.

Another Threat Of Rain Hangs Over Fight

Promoter In Hassle Over Tickets

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Another threat of rain and a ticket - rhubarb today hung over the once-postponed Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight—probably the most harassed heavyweight promotion ever.

The fighters and promoter Bill Rosensohn peered anxiously at the glowering sky, wondering whether the 15-round show would be able to go on tonight at 10:30 p. m. (East Liverpool time) at Yankee Stadium.

The forecast was far from promising. The weatherman predicted another warm, humid day with scattered thundershowers this afternoon and night.

It was virtually the same forecast that was made Thursday and came true. Rain muddied the field at the stadium, forcing Rosensohn to announce the postponement at 1:05 p.m.

Ironically, the rain stopped in the evening. At the scheduled fight time, it was cool but a heavy mist shrouded the tops of the skyscrapers. The $100 "deluxe, red carpet" customers, however, would have been ankle deep in mud.

Another bad break like that may delay the long-awaited scrap until Monday. Rosensohn and Irving Kahn, president of TelePrompTer which is running the closed circuit telecast to theaters, said that if the weather was bad today and the forecast was not optimisic for Saturday, they might put it over until Monday.

The ticket hassle may come to a showdown today. Rosensohn refused to make refunds Thursday after the postponement was announced despite an order to do so by Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the State Athletic Commission.

Krulewitch said the commission rules required the promoter to make refunds on demand. Rosensohn said his lawyer's interpretation of the rules indicated no refund was mandatory.

"I don't want to hurt any people but I've got to protect the promotion," said the weary Rosensohn.

The commission rule is vague, but it has been observed by other promoters in the past. Krulewitch said he would take it up with a lawyer.

If another postponement is required, however, Rosensohn said the return policy would be reviewed. He said that he is making refunds for hardship cases.

That would have to include Swedes and other out-of-towners who have booked transportation today.

As for the fighters, they took the delay calmly enough. After all this was just one of many incidents that have plagued the promotion. There have been law suits, a threat by Patterson's manager to take the fight out of New York, and probably anything else you can name.

After the weigh-in ceremony — Johansson weighed 196 to Patterson's 182—the fighters, their managers, the promoter and virtually everyone else connected with the promotion were served with legal papers on behalf of California contender Eddie Machen and the Chicago Stadium Corp.

Machen obtained a writ of attachment in federal court to tie up Johansson's purse. Machen and the Chicago Stadium are seeking $1,229,375 damages because Johansson allegedly violated a contract to give Machen a return bout.

"I will be stronger," said Johansson who did some shadow boxing Thursday, his first lick of work since last Saturday.

"Certainly I don't like the delay," he said, "but I'm sure the delay will not bother me. I feel fine now and I will not lose my edge."

The 26-year-old unbeaten European champion had a steak dinner at his midtown hotel, then took a stroll through the streets. He topped off the evening by taking in a movie with his pretty fiance, Birgit Lundgren.

Patterson loosened up somewhere in town. Manager Cus D'Amato wouldn't say where. Then the 24-year-old champ went into seclusion.

Face Does It Again For 12th Straight Victory

TWO JUBILANT Pittsburgh Pirates are shown in their dressing room after Thursday's victory at San Francisco. Roman Mejias holds up two fingers to denote his two-run, 12th-inning home run which defeated the Giants, 3-1. His two digits, coupled with those of relief pitcher Elroy Face, denote the 12 wins Face has compiled so far this season without a defeat. (UPI Telephoto)

Mejias Belts 12th-Inning Homer To Nip Giants, 3-1

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those dead Los Angeles Dodgers of last season have come alive, moving within one percentage point of second place on a three - hitter by Don Drysdale backed by Duke Snider and Gil Hodges home runs for a 5-2 victory over Philadelphia Thursday night.

Drysdale (8-5), who also homered, had a no-hitter for six innings while winning his third in a row in a 9-out-of-12 rally that has hoisted the Dodgers from fifth place to two games shy of the league lead. A bloop single by Harry Anderson, leading off the seventh inning, and Wally Post's follow-up 10th homer junked Drysdale's no-hit and shutout bid.

Second place San Francisco blew a chance to move within a game of first, losing 3-1 in 12 innings to Pittsburgh when Ramon Mejias' two-run homer gave reliever Roy Face his 17th consecutive victory. First place Milwaukee gave St. Louis three unearned runs and lost 3-2 to the Cards. Chicago's Cubs rapped Cincinnati 6-2.

Snider and Hodges connected in a four-run first inning against loser Robin Roberts (6-6).

The Cards, gaining a tie with two runs in the sixth after Felix Mantilla's two-out error, won it in the seventh when Hank Aaron bobbled the ball on Joe Cunningham's single and Ken Boyer followed with an RBI single. Lew Burdette (11-6) was the victim after getting a 2-0 lead on Hank Aaron's 21st homer. Lindy McDaniel (6-8) was the winner with four innings of hitless relief.

Face, top winner in the majors at 12-0 and unbeaten since May 30, 1958, worked three shutout innings in relief of Harvey Haddix. Ed Bressoud homered for the Giants in the fourth inning, but bounced to Face for the final out with the bases loaded. Rookie Ed Fisher lost it in relief.

A single by Lee Walls scored the clincher for the Cubs in a four-run eighth. Reliever Bill Henry saved the victory for Bob Anderson (4-6). Bob Purkey (6-9) was the loser.

Bucs' Murtaugh Throws Bouquets At Elroy Face

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"This little guy sure helps us. . .He's faster than most people realize. . just amazing. . .That's 12 and zero now."

Manager Danny Murtaugh again waxed enthusiastic over his 152-pound relief pitching ace, Elroy Face, who blanked the San Francisco Giants for three innings Thursday as the Pirates won 3-1 in the 12th.

The bases were loaded with two out in the Giants half of the inning when Elroy coolly threw a slider to Eddie Bressoud. Eddie bounced it right back to the pitcher for the final out. Eddie had homered in the third and poled a long fly near the left center field fence in the tenth.

"Face has been in those spots before. He knows what to do," the manager declared.

The 5-foot-7 right-hander has run up 17 consecutive victories, all in relief, since he last lost a game on May 30, 1958. His 1959 record is 12-0, the best in the major leagues.

He's given up just five earned runs in the 52 innings he's pitched.

And he says he'll be ready to go tonight against the Dodgers in Los Angeles if needed.

"I appeared in nine in a row in 1956," he explains. "I pitched two innings Wednesday and three yesterday. Sure, I could go again tonight."

Blister Sidelines Purkey As Reds Bow To Chicago

Purkey lasted seven innings against the Cubs Thursday night. The Reds were trailing 2-1 at the time, but Purkey had struck out six, walked one and issued but five of the 10 hits Chicago eventually got to win 6-2, for the rubber game of the series.

Purkey has been bothered by the blistered finger for the last three weeks.

When may it be possible to start him again?

"Only three people know the answer to that one," reported Gabe Paul, Reds' vice president after the game: "Purkey, 'Doc' Anderson and Mayo Smith."

None of these was available. But it's no secret that hurling has been one of the Reds' weakest points this year, particularly on road trips. With Purkey again missing his regular rotation, it's likely that hurlers like Don Newcombe (8-4) who will perform tonight against the St. Louis Cardinals, and Jim Brosnan, received in trade from the Cards just two weeks ago, will find themselves as more frequent starters—along with Joe Nuxhall and Brooks Lawrence.

The Cubs got away early Thursday night, scoring one in the second off Purkey on singles by Walt Moryn, Bobby Thomson and Sammy Taylor. The Reds tied it in the fourth on two singles and a sacrifice fly, but Ernie Banks' 20th homer in the sixth again put the Cubs ahead 2-1.

Chicago batted around in the eighth, stretching their lead to 6-1. With Orlando Pena pitching, Tony Taylor doubled and Alvin Dark singled. Lee Walls scored Taylor with a single, routing Pena. Willard Schmidt relieved and made Banks ground out and walked Dale Long intentionally to fill the bases. Moryn singled Dark and Walls home, however, and Thomson grounded out, Long scoring.

The Reds pushed one more run across in their eighth on singles by Vada Pinson and Whitey Lockman and Gus Bell's sacrifice fly.

Thursday's Little Loop Games Set For Saturday

Arcaro At Waterford? . . .

Arcaro was injured in a fall on June 13 in the 91st running of the Belmont Stakes and, according to his doctors, will be able to ride again within the next week.

Wade has been unable to contact Arcaro as yet. If he doesn't make his comeback at Waterford Park, Wade will still attempt to obtain the great rider sometime before the summer meet ends.

Although Arcaro couldn't be reached, Wade learned that the top jockey in the nation is vacationing in Canada, an indication that he may ride in the Queen's Cup on a Canadian track.

Like several jockeys with whom we have talked at Waterford Park, Arcaro agrees that the safety helmet, which is required, saved him. He said in his hospital room that "if it hadn't been for the helmet, the horse that hit me would have torn my head off."

Fritzie And His Cadillac . . .

WE HOPE the Curbstone Coaches of Post 70 in Wellsville put on more shows like they held Wednesday night when Fritzie Zivic was the featured guest.

It was a well-planned night of entertainment, with Zivic, the former welterweight champion, making a big hit with those attending.

George Mueller of East Liverpool did a bang-up job as master of ceremonies to keep the program moving.

Fritzie could have talked all night about his experiences in the ring. One of the funniest stories he told was about the day he was fight Henry Armstrong for the welterweight championship.

Armstrong, a holder of three titles and with a record of 42 straight victories, was a heavy 4-1 favorite. The way Fritzie tells the story, all of his friends came up to him on the day of the fight and wished him well, but told him not to get hurt.

His manager and seconds kept telling him what to expect from Armstrong. This kept up all day and Fritzie couldn't get his mind off the fight.

He recalled that he took a walk up Broadway and spotted a shiny new Cadillac in the window. "I always wanted a Cadillac," Fritzie said so I went in told the salesman that I was fighting Armstrong for the title and if I won I would be back to buy the car."

"I got my mind on the Cadillac and stopped worrying about the fight," Fritzie added.

In the dressing room, his manager kept telling him how to fight Armstrong, but Fritzie was still thinking about the Cadillac.

Not many of the fans attending the fight in Madison Square Garden knew of Zivic and as the boxers climbed into the ring, Zivic said Armstrong got a build up a "mile long" and if you didn't listen closely you wouldn't have known that Zivic was introduced.

Once the championship bout got under way, Zivic was taking a pretty good pounding from Armstrong and the Cadillac seemed further and further away.

About the fifth round Zivic started coming back and then went on to decision Armstrong to become the welter champ in 1940.

Fritzie summed up the story by saying he didn't buy the Cadillac after all, but a high-pressured salesman talked him into a new Oldsmobile.

AN ANSWER to many inquiries about East Liverpool's Bernie Allen. It looks like Bernie is going to return for another season of football at Purdue instead of signing a major league contract this summer.

The only thing that would change his mind would be an offer just too good to turn down.

Bernie is playing a lot of baseball for Cox Construction in the City League and Midland USW in the Steel Valley Loop.

Another Threat Of Rain Hangs Over Fight

Promoter In Hassle Over Tickets

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Another threat of rain and a ticket - rhubarb today hung over the once-postponed Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight—probably the most harassed heavyweight promotion ever.

The fighters and promoter Bill Rosensohn peered anxiously at the glowering sky, wondering whether the 15-round show would be able to go on tonight at 10:30 p. m. (East Liverpool time) at Yankee Stadium.

The forecast was far from promising. The weatherman predicted another warm, humid day with scattered thundershowers this afternoon and night.

It was virtually the same forecast that was made Thursday and came true. Rain muddied the field at the stadium, forcing Rosensohn to announce the postponement at 1:05 p.m.

Ironically, the rain stopped in the evening. At the scheduled fight time, it was cool but a heavy mist shrouded the tops of the skyscrapers. The $100 "deluxe, red carpet" customers, however, would have been ankle deep in mud.

Another bad break like that may delay the long-awaited scrap until Monday. Rosensohn and Irving Kahn, president of TelePrompTer which is running the closed circuit telecast to theaters, said that if the weather was bad today and the forecast was not optimisic for Saturday, they might put it over until Monday.

The ticket hassle may come to a showdown today. Rosensohn refused to make refunds Thursday after the postponement was announced despite an order to do so by Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the State Athletic Commission.

Krulewitch said the commission rules required the promoter to make refunds on demand. Rosensohn said his lawyer's interpretation of the rules indicated no refund was mandatory.

"I don't want to hurt any people but I've got to protect the promotion," said the weary Rosensohn.

The commission rule is vague, but it has been observed by other promoters in the past. Krulewitch said he would take it up with a lawyer.

If another postponement is required, however, Rosensohn said the return policy would be reviewed. He said that he is making refunds for hardship cases.

That would have to include Swedes and other out-of-towners who have booked transportation today.

As for the fighters, they took the delay calmly enough. After all this was just one of many incidents that have plagued the promotion. There have been law suits, a threat by Patterson's manager to take the fight out of New York, and probably anything else you can name.

After the weigh-in ceremony — Johansson weighed 196 to Patterson's 182—the fighters, their managers, the promoter and virtually everyone else connected with the promotion were served with legal papers on behalf of California contender Eddie Machen and the Chicago Stadium Corp.

Machen obtained a writ of attachment in federal court to tie up Johansson's purse. Machen and the Chicago Stadium are seeking $1,229,375 damages because Johansson allegedly violated a contract to give Machen a return bout.

"I will be stronger," said Johansson who did some shadow boxing Thursday, his first lick of work since last Saturday.

"Certainly I don't like the delay," he said, "but I'm sure the delay will not bother me. I feel fine now and I will not lose my edge."

The 26-year-old unbeaten European champion had a steak dinner at his midtown hotel, then took a stroll through the streets. He topped off the evening by taking in a movie with his pretty fiance, Birgit Lundgren.

Patterson loosened up somewhere in town. Manager Cus D'Amato wouldn't say where. Then the 24-year-old champ went into seclusion.

Face Does It Again For 12th Straight Victory

TWO JUBILANT Pittsburgh Pirates are shown in their dressing room after Thursday's victory at San Francisco. Roman Mejias holds up two fingers to denote his two-run, 12th-inning home run which defeated the Giants, 3-1. His two digits, coupled with those of relief pitcher Elroy Face, denote the 12 wins Face has compiled so far this season without a defeat. (UPI Telephoto)

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those dead Los Angeles Dodgers of last season have come alive, moving within one percentage point of second place on a three - hitter by Don Drysdale backed by Duke Snider and Gil Hodges home runs for a 5-2 victory over Philadelphia Thursday night.

Drysdale (8-5), who also homered, had a no-hitter for six innings while winning his third in a row in a 9-out-of-12 rally that has hoisted the Dodgers from fifth place to two games shy of the league lead. A bloop single by Harry Anderson, leading off the seventh inning, and Wally Post's follow-up 10th homer junked Drysdale's no-hit and shutout bid.

Second place San Francisco blew a chance to move within a game of first, losing 3-1 in 12 innings to Pittsburgh when Ramon Mejias' two-run homer gave reliever Roy Face his 17th consecutive victory. First place Milwaukee gave St. Louis three unearned runs and lost 3-2 to the Cards. Chicago's Cubs rapped Cincinnati 6-2.

Snider and Hodges connected in a four-run first inning against loser Robin Roberts (6-6).

The Cards, gaining a tie with two runs in the sixth after Felix Mantilla's two-out error, won it in the seventh when Hank Aaron bobbled the ball on Joe Cunningham's single and Ken Boyer followed with an RBI single. Lew Burdette (11-6) was the victim after getting a 2-0 lead on Hank Aaron's 21st homer. Lindy McDaniel (6-8) was the winner with four innings of hitless relief.

Face, top winner in the majors at 12-0 and unbeaten since May 30, 1958, worked three shutout innings in relief of Harvey Haddix. Ed Bressoud homered for the Giants in the fourth inning, but bounced to Face for the final out with the bases loaded. Rookie Ed Fisher lost it in relief.

A single by Lee Walls scored the clincher for the Cubs in a four-run eighth. Reliever Bill Henry saved the victory for Bob Anderson (4-6). Bob Purkey (6-9) was the loser.

Bucs' Murtaugh Throws Bouquets At Elroy Face

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"This little guy sure helps us. . .He's faster than most people realize. . just amazing. . .That's 12 and zero now."

Manager Danny Murtaugh again waxed enthusiastic over his 152-pound relief pitching ace, Elroy Face, who blanked the San Francisco Giants for three innings Thursday as the Pirates won 3-1 in the 12th.

The bases were loaded with two out in the Giants half of the inning when Elroy coolly threw a slider to Eddie Bressoud. Eddie bounced it right back to the pitcher for the final out. Eddie had homered in the third and poled a long fly near the left center field fence in the tenth.

"Face has been in those spots before. He knows what to do," the manager declared.

The 5-foot-7 right-hander has run up 17 consecutive victories, all in relief, since he last lost a game on May 30, 1958. His 1959 record is 12-0, the best in the major leagues.

He's given up just five earned runs in the 52 innings he's pitched.

And he says he'll be ready to go tonight against the Dodgers in Los Angeles if needed.

"I appeared in nine in a row in 1956," he explains. "I pitched two innings Wednesday and three yesterday. Sure, I could go again tonight."

Blister Sidelines Purkey As Reds Bow To Chicago

Purkey lasted seven innings against the Cubs Thursday night. The Reds were trailing 2-1 at the time, but Purkey had struck out six, walked one and issued but five of the 10 hits Chicago eventually got to win 6-2, for the rubber game of the series.

Purkey has been bothered by the blistered finger for the last three weeks.

When may it be possible to start him again?

"Only three people know the answer to that one," reported Gabe Paul, Reds' vice president after the game: "Purkey, 'Doc' Anderson and Mayo Smith."

None of these was available. But it's no secret that hurling has been one of the Reds' weakest points this year, particularly on road trips. With Purkey again missing his regular rotation, it's likely that hurlers like Don Newcombe (8-4) who will perform tonight against the St. Louis Cardinals, and Jim Brosnan, received in trade from the Cards just two weeks ago, will find themselves as more frequent starters—along with Joe Nuxhall and Brooks Lawrence.

The Cubs got away early Thursday night, scoring one in the second off Purkey on singles by Walt Moryn, Bobby Thomson and Sammy Taylor. The Reds tied it in the fourth on two singles and a sacrifice fly, but Ernie Banks' 20th homer in the sixth again put the Cubs ahead 2-1.

Chicago batted around in the eighth, stretching their lead to 6-1. With Orlando Pena pitching, Tony Taylor doubled and Alvin Dark singled. Lee Walls scored Taylor with a single, routing Pena. Willard Schmidt relieved and made Banks ground out and walked Dale Long intentionally to fill the bases. Moryn singled Dark and Walls home, however, and Thomson grounded out, Long scoring.

The Reds pushed one more run across in their eighth on singles by Vada Pinson and Whitey Lockman and Gus Bell's sacrifice fly.

Francona Keeps Indians On Top In Victory Over Orioles

Outfielder Leads Way With Pair Of Homers

CLEVELAND (AP)—There are three men mighty happy today that the Cleveland Indians traded outfielder Larry Doby to the Detroit Tigers for Tito Francona—General Manager Frank Lane, Manager Joe Gordon and Francona, of course.

The spring training deal for Tito and cash was not well accepted in most quarters. It was felt Lane was either trying to trim the payroll or had made one of his infrequent bad trades.

Francona, however, continues to make the deal one of Lane's best. He rapped two home runs and a pair of singles Thursday to beat the Baltimore Orioles 3-2. The second homer broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning and presented Mike Garcia with his first pitching triumph after five losses.

"I made the deal for several reasons," Lane explained. "I liked his youth and his attitude. He's only 25 and it was plain to see he wanted to play.

"Joe and I figured he could help us as a pinch-hitter and utility man. Now maybe we've come up with something even better than that." Francona is hitting .360 on 89 at bats.

Gordon, who used Francona as his top left-handed pinch-hitter earlier in the season and now as his regular center fielder for slumping Jimmy Piersall, says Tito has not hurt the team defensively, either.

"He gets a pretty good jump on a fly ball," Gordon said. "And I rate him pretty close to our other two center fielders (Piersall and Carroll Hardy)."

Cleveland's victory—a game they had to win to remain atop the American League standings—gave the Indians a one-game lead over runnerup Chicago and dumped Baltimore into third place.

Cal McLish (7-3), back on the beam again, faces Boston's Jerry Casale (6-4) in the opener of a four-game series with the Red Sox tonight.

Francona gave the Indians a 1-0 lead with a first inning homer off Baltimore's knuckleball ace, Hoyt Wilhelm. The Indians added an unearned run off Wilhelm in the sixth because of two errors by shortstop Willie Miranda.

The Orioles, shut out for seven innings by rookie Bobby Locke who had a four-hitter, scored two runs to tie the game in the eighth. Locke gave up a single and a walk and was replaced by Garcia, who walked another batter and saw two runs cross the plate on Joe Ginsberg's bloop single to center.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Tito Francona, Indians, was 4-for-4 with his second home run of game breaking a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning for 3-2 victory over Orioles.

Pitching —Barry Latman, White Sox, held the homering Senators to five hits for a 4-1 victory after getting another chance as a starter off 18 scoreless innings in relief.

Second Base Spot Continues As Big Headache For Braves

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) —There's a chink in the Milwaukee Braves' armor and it's proving mighty costly in the National League pennant fight.

The Braves' big problem is at second base. Trying to fill the shoes of the ailing Red Schoendienst has turned out to be a monumental task.

With Schoendienst recuperating from tuberculosis, no less than six players have been tested at second. All have been found wanting by Manager Fred Haney.

From the lot, Felix Mantilla, a .145 hitter, has been adjudged the best. And the slender Puerto Rican is finding it rough.

Mantilla, who came up to the Braves in 1956, was responsible for two unearned runs Thursday as the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Braves 3-2. An error by usually reliable Hank Aaron led to the winning run.

Mantila was guilty of sloppy fielding on two straight ground balls in the sixth inning and the Cards tied the score at 2-2. With one out and a runner on first, he fired wide to shortstop Johnny Logan and only a force out was made on a double play grounder.

Then Mantilla couldn't find the handle on another grounder. That set the stage for a pinch single and a pinch double good for two runs.

Haney is disturbed by the second base problem, but there's little he can do about it.

"Why take out Mantilla when there's no one else?" he asked. "The others aren't any better at bat or in the field. I have to go with him. And I'm certainly not going to take him out because of an error. After all, Aaron made an error and I can't bench him."

Of the others tried at second base this season, three are still with the club. They are Johnny O'Brien (.211), Casey Wise (.173) and Mel Roach (.071). Two other spring aspirants — Chuck Cottier and Joe Morgan — have been shipped to Louisville in the American Assn.

Eddie Arcaro was the first racehorse jockey to win the Kentucky Derby five times.

Pairings Set For July Cup

Pairings have been announced for the Women's July Cup. All matches will be played under 85 per cent difference of handicaps.

The pairings for the first division follow: Miss Barbara Hartt vs. Mrs. J. N. Porter; Mrs. Virginia Kelly, bye; Mrs. Ann Laughlin vs. Mrs. John Mountford; Mrs. June Westfall, bye; Miss Pam Porter vs. Mrs. W. L. Smith; Mrs. Bob Patterson, Bye; Mrs. William Pickin vs. Mrs. R. V. Beatty, and Mrs. Gordon Weese, Bye.

In the second division: Mrs. C. W. McCutcheon vs. Mrs. W. A. Porter; Mrs. H. A. Smith, bye; Mrs. George Mueller vs. Mrs. Arthur Doak; Mrs. William J. Horger, bye; Mrs. R. J. Schiff vs. Mrs. J. R. Francona Keeps Indians On Top In Victory Over Orioles

Outfielder Leads Way With Pair Of Homers

CLEVELAND (AP)—There are three men mighty happy today that the Cleveland Indians traded outfielder Larry Doby to the Detroit Tigers for Tito Francona—General Manager Frank Lane, Manager Joe Gordon and Francona, of course.

The spring training deal for Tito and cash was not well accepted in most quarters. It was felt Lane was either trying to trim the payroll or had made one of his infrequent bad trades.

Francona, however, continues to make the deal one of Lane's best. He rapped two home runs and a pair of singles Thursday to beat the Baltimore Orioles 3-2. The second homer broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning and presented Mike Garcia with his first pitching triumph after five losses.

"I made the deal for several reasons," Lane explained. "I liked his youth and his attitude. He's only 25 and it was plain to see he wanted to play.

"Joe and I figured he could help us as a pinch-hitter and utility man. Now maybe we've come up with something even better than that." Francona is hitting .360 on 89 at bats.

"He gets a pretty good jump on a fly ball," Gordon said. "And I rate him pretty close to our other two center fielders (Piersall and Carroll Hardy)."

Cleveland's victory—a game they had to win to remain atop the American League standings—gave the Indians a one-game lead over runnerup Chicago and dumped Baltimore into third place.

Cal McLish (7-3), back on the beam again, faces Boston's Jerry Casale (6-4) in the opener of a four-game series with the Red Sox tonight.

Francona gave the Indians a 1-0 lead with a first inning homer off Baltimore's knuckleball ace, Hoyt Wilhelm. The Indians added an unearned run off Wilhelm in the sixth because of two errors by shortstop Willie Miranda.

The Orioles, shut out for seven innings by rookie Bobby Locke who had a four-hitter, scored two runs to tie the game in the eighth. Locke gave up a single and a walk and was replaced by Garcia, who walked another batter and saw two runs cross the plate on Joe Ginsberg's bloop single to center.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Tito Francona, Indians, was 4-for-4 with his second home run of game breaking a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning for 3-2 victory over Orioles.

Pitching —Barry Latman, White Sox, held the homering Senators to five hits for a 4-1 victory after getting another chance as a starter off 18 scoreless innings in relief.

Second Base Spot Continues As Big Headache For Braves

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) —There's a chink in the Milwaukee Braves' armor and it's proving mighty costly in the National League pennant fight.

The Braves' big problem is at second base. Trying to fill the shoes of the ailing Red Schoendienst has turned out to be a monumental task.

With Schoendienst recuperating from tuberculosis, no less than six players have been tested at second. All have been found wanting by Manager Fred Haney.

Mantilla, who came up to the Braves in 1956, was responsible for two unearned runs Thursday as the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Braves 3-2. An error by usually reliable Hank Aaron led to the winning run.

Mantila was guilty of sloppy fielding on two straight ground balls in the sixth inning and the Cards tied the score at 2-2. With one out and a runner on first, he fired wide to shortstop Johnny Logan and only a force out was made on a double play grounder.

Then Mantilla couldn't find the handle on another grounder. That set the stage for a pinch single and a pinch double good for two runs.

"Why take out Mantilla when there's no one else?" he asked. "The others aren't any better at bat or in the field. I have to go with him. And I'm certainly not going to take him out because of an error. After all, Aaron made an error and I can't bench him."

Of the others tried at second base this season, three are still with the club. They are Johnny O'Brien (.211), Casey Wise (.173) and Mel Roach (.071). Two other spring aspirants — Chuck Cottier and Joe Morgan — have been shipped to Louisville in the American Assn.

Yanks Only 2 Games From Top After Nipping Kansas City

Meet Chicago In Important Weekend Set

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees aren't the swaggering champs of old, yet, but there's no sign of any more staggering as they come into Chicago for the opener of a four-game weekend series tonight.

They roll into Comiskey Park in fourth place, just two games shy of the American League lead on an 8-out-of-11 spurt that began with a three-game sweep over the second place White Sox 11 days ago.

Then they were fifth, five games out of first and four games back of Chicago. Now they're within a single game of the White Sox after finishing a fattening four-game series in Kansas City with a 5-4 victory over the A's.

The Yankees swung for 50 hits, nine of them homers, and 29 runs while winning three of the four at Kansas City.

While the Yanks were bashing the A's, the White Sox managed to win two of three from Washington, regaining second place Thursday with a 4-1 victory. Cleveland beat back Baltimore's bid for first place by skidding the Orioles to third, 3-2, and regaining a one-game lead.

Elston Howard and Norm Siebern hit home runs for the Yankees, with Siebern's leadoff shot scoring the clincher in the eighth inning. Relievers Bobby Shantz and Ryne Duren put it away for winner Duke Maas (6-4), who left for a pinch-hitter in the sixth. Ex-Yank Tom Sturdivant (1-4) lost it.

Latman (1-2) extended his shutout string to 21 innings before the Nats scored in the fourth on Bob Allison's triple and Roy Sievers' single. Then the White Sox, also held to five hits, beat Pete Ramos (7-7) in a two-run Fifth. Earl Torgeson hit a two-run homer in the sixth.

Tito Francona's fourth hit and second home run of the game broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth for the Indians. Rookie Jack Fisher (0-1) was the loser in relief of Hoyt Wilhelm. Reliever Mike Garcia won it.

Rocky Bridges first major league grand slam settled things in a five run third inning for the Tigers. Al Kaline and relief pitcher Tom Morgan also homered. Jim Bunning won it for a 7-6 record. Tom Brewer (5-4) was the loseer.

SENATORS' first baseman Roy Sievers slides toward second base on grounder hit by Jim Lemon in the sixth inning of the game with the White Sox Thursday at Chicago. Sox shortstop Luis Aparicio tagged him out just before jumping into the air to avoid a collision. (UPI Telephoto)

Dykes Always Improves Cellar Dwelling Teams

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

When the Detroit Tigers were in New York for their first trip this spring, the phone rang and the caller said to 62-year-old Jimmie Dykes:

"I'm not in the habit of calling a last - place manager."

"I am not a last - place manager," thundered the Detroit Tiger manager. "If we can stick two games behind the Yankees we'll be all right. The Yankees hit before and they'll hit again. And we'll move right with them."

Dykes became manager of the Detroit Tigers this spring when they were in the cellar and sporting two victories in their first 17 games under Bill Norman.

Dykes has made it a practice to take over a last place club. That's how he got his three previous big league managerial jobs.

Twenty-five years ago when the Chicago White Sox were in last place under Lew Fonseca, Dykes took over. The Sox finished fifth the following season.

In 1950 the Philadelphia Athletics won 52 games and Dykes got the nod. He moved them to sixth in '51.

In 1953 the Browns said goodbye to St. Louis with 54 wins and a last place club. Dykes took over when the team moved to Baltimore. The Orioles made seventh place under him in 1954.

JIMMIE DYKES
"We'll Be All Right."

Now he has the Tigers and has designs on a first division finish, especially since the Tigers missed fourth place last year by an eyelash. Detroit, without a doubt, is the best last place club Dykes has ever fallen heir to.

"Greasy loves to play golf," Dykes was saying. "One day I called him, told him I was a sports writer and asked if he would consider returning to his alma mater, West Virginia, to coach football.

" 'No,' was his curt reply.

"Then I asked him if he was well fixed so that he could remain retired."

" 'I think I am,' replied Greasy.

" 'Then when we get out on that first tee tomorrow will you please refrain from asking me for strokes.'

"Greasy was fuming over the phone and called me all kinds of names. 'That's the dirtiest trick anybody ever played on me,' Greasy said."

But nobody stays angry at Dykes. It only seems that way when baseball people continue to turn over to him a problem club.

Slim Margin Held In AAU Decathlon By Oregon Athlete

KINGSBURG, Calif. (AP) — A blonde sophomore from the University of Oregon held a slim lead today over Nationalist China's decathlon champion as the National AAU decathlon moved into its final evening.

Yang's 10.6 seconds in the opener of the 10-event meet tied Johnson's AAU record for the 100-meter dash.

Yang nipped Edstrom in the 400-meter run but both recieved 836 points for the event with identical times of 50.1 seconds. Edstrom captured the shot put with a heave of 46 feet 10½ inches.

The big surprise Thursday night was a young man from Brooklyn, N. Y., competing in his first decathlon. Mike Herman took his broad jump specialty with a leap of 24 feet 3¾ inches and moved into third place at the halfway mark of the meet.

Columbus Golfer Leads In Pre-Seniors Tourney

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Byron Jilek of Columbus is an odds-on favorite to win Ohio's fourth Pre-Seniors golf championship today.

The 46-year-old home - builder fashioned a two-under-par 70 in Thursday's opening round and boasted a three-stroke edge as the field of 129 teed off today for the final 18 holes over Brookside Country Club's 6,681 - yard, par 72 course.

Jilek, three-time Columbus district champion and an entry in this "in between" tournament for the first time, had four birdies and two bogies in the trip over his home course.

In second place with 73 is M. L. Gabriel, also of Columbus, who scrambled all over the course but made up for it on the greens where he required only 24 putts against a regulation 36.

Defending champion E. W. (Hoagy) Charmichael of Springfield wound up in a four-way tie for third at 75 strokes. He lost three strokes to Jilek on the 527-yard No. 11 hole where he took a double bogey 7 to Jilek's birdie 4.

The field of 129 is the greatest ever attracted by the tournament, last year's 88 being the previous high.

Should Jilek win, it would mark the fourth straight time the title has gone to a host-course player. Carmichael won it last year at Springfield, Hamilton Hedges at Columbus Country Club in 1957, and Dr. E. E. Pinnell at Dayton in 1956.

Pinnell had 82 and Hedges 83 in Thursday's opener.

Pott Takes Lead In Chicago Open

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Pott, a recent bridegroom seeking his first pro tourney victory, today marched into the second round of the $57,000 Chicago Open with a one-stroke lead after a record-smashing 63.

Pott, 23, former Louisiana State star who turned pro in 1957, said he was still "on my honeymoon and higher in the clouds than ever" after his 7-under-par attack on Gleneagles 6,350-yard acreage.

Swimming Marks Fall

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three U. S. records fell as the three-day Invitational Swimming meet opened Thursday.

Gary Heinrich, Oakland, Calif., swam the 400-meter individual medly in 5:13.3 to break his own record of 5:20.2 set last year.

Yanks Only 2 Games From Top After Nipping Kansas City

Meet Chicago In Important Weekend Set

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees aren't the swaggering champs of old, yet, but there's no sign of any more staggering as they come into Chicago for the opener of a four-game weekend series tonight.

They roll into Comiskey Park in fourth place, just two games shy of the American League lead on an 8-out-of-11 spurt that began with a three-game sweep over the second place White Sox 11 days ago.

Then they were fifth, five games out of first and four games back of Chicago. Now they're within a single game of the White Sox after finishing a fattening four-game series in Kansas City with a 5-4 victory over the A's.

The Yankees swung for 50 hits, nine of them homers, and 29 runs while winning three of the four at Kansas City.

While the Yanks were bashing the A's, the White Sox managed to win two of three from Washington, regaining second place Thursday with a 4-1 victory. Cleveland beat back Baltimore's bid for first place by skidding the Orioles to third, 3-2, and regaining a one-game lead.

Detroit salvaged the final game of a three-game set with Boston, ending a four-game slump with a 10-5 burst against the Red Sox.

Elston Howard and Norm Siebern hit home runs for the Yankees, with Siebern's leadoff shot scoring the clincher in the eighth inning. Relievers Bobby Shantz and Ryne Duren put it away for winner Duke Maas (6-4), who left for a pinch-hitter in the sixth. Ex-Yank Tom Sturdivant (1-4) lost it.

Latman (1-2) extended his shutout string to 21 innings before the Nats scored in the fourth on Bob Allison's triple and Roy Sievers' single. Then the White Sox, also held to five hits, beat Pete Ramos (7-7) in a two-run Fifth. Earl Torgeson hit a two-run homer in the sixth.

Tito Francona's fourth hit and second home run of the game broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth for the Indians. Rookie Jack Fisher (0-1) was the loser in relief of Hoyt Wilhelm. Reliever Mike Garcia won it.

Rocky Bridges first major league grand slam settled things in a five run third inning for the Tigers. Al Kaline and relief pitcher Tom Morgan also homered. Jim Bunning won it for a 7-6 record. Tom Brewer (5-4) was the loseer.

SENATORS' first baseman Roy Sievers slides toward second base on grounder hit by Jim Lemon in the sixth inning of the game with the White Sox Thursday at Chicago. Sox shortstop Luis Aparicio tagged him out just before jumping into the air to avoid a collision. (UPI Telephoto)

Daily Double Returns $152

Jill Girl and Chop Maid combined for a 2-5 daily double payoff of $152.00 Thursday at Waterford Park.

Jill Girl, a longshot, paid $31.60, $16.60 and $23, with J. Minento in the saddle. Jockey G. Hilts brought Chop Maid under the wire in the second to return $8, $4.40 and $4.20.

The best bet of the day was on a 23-to-1 shot named Crystal Sandal, which Jockey Nick Fernicola drove home in the eighth race. Crystal Sandal returned its backers $50.40, $21.20 and $7.

Dykes Always Improves Cellar Dwelling Teams

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

When the Detroit Tigers were in New York for their first trip this spring, the phone rang and the caller said to 62-year-old Jimmie Dykes:

"I'm not in the habit of calling a last - place manager."

"I am not a last - place manager," thundered the Detroit Tiger manager. "If we can stick two games behind the Yankees we'll be all right. The Yankees hit before and they'll hit again. And we'll move right with them."

Dykes became manager of the Detroit Tigers this spring when they were in the cellar and sporting two victories in their first 17 games under Bill Norman.

Dykes has made it a practice to take over a last place club. That's how he got his three previous big league managerial jobs.

Twenty-five years ago when the Chicago White Sox were in last place under Lew Fonseca, Dykes took over. The Sox finished fifth the following season.

In 1950 the Philadelphia Athletics won 52 games and Dykes got the nod. He moved them to sixth in '51.

In 1953 the Browns said goodbye to St. Louis with 54 wins and a last place club. Dykes took over when the team moved to Baltimore. The Orioles made seventh place under him in 1954.

JIMMIE DYKES
"We'll Be All Right."

Now he has the Tigers and has designs on a first division finish, especially since the Tigers missed fourth place last year by an eyelash. Detroit, without a doubt, is the best last place club Dykes has ever fallen heir to.

Dykes is the kind of a manager who keeps a team loose. He's like Casey Stengel in that he's one of the best story tellers around.

"Greasy loves to play golf," Dykes was saying. "One day I called him, told him I was a sports writer and asked if he would consider returning to his alma mater, West Virginia, to coach football.

" 'No,' was his curt reply.

"Then I asked him if he was well fixed so that he could remain retired."

" 'I think I am,' replied Greasy.

" 'Then when we get out on that first tee tomorrow will you please refrain from asking me for strokes.'

"Greasy was fuming over the phone and called me all kinds of names. 'That's the dirtiest trick anybody ever played on me,' Greasy said."

But nobody stays angry at Dykes. It only seems that way when baseball people continue to turn over to him a problem club.

Slim Margin Held In AAU Decathlon By Oregon Athlete

KINGSBURG, Calif. (AP) — A blonde sophomore from the University of Oregon held a slim lead today over Nationalist China's decathlon champion as the National AAU decathlon moved into its final evening.

Dave Edstrom, who finished second to world champ Rafer Johnson in last year's nationals, had 4,287 points after five events.

A back injury suffered in an automobile mishap last week forced Johnson out of this year's event being held in his home town.

Yang's 10.6 seconds in the opener of the 10-event meet tied Johnson's AAU record for the 100-meter dash.

Yang nipped Edstrom in the 400-meter run but both recieved 836 points for the event with identical times of 50.1 seconds. Edstrom captured the shot put with a heave of 46 feet 10½ inches.

The big surprise Thursday night was a young man from Brooklyn, N. Y., competing in his first decathlon. Mike Herman took his broad jump specialty with a leap of 24 feet 3¾ inches and moved into third place at the halfway mark of the meet.

Columbus Golfer Leads In Pre-Seniors Tourney

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Byron Jilek of Columbus is an odds-on favorite to win Ohio's fourth Pre-Seniors golf championship today.

The 46-year-old home - builder fashioned a two-under-par 70 in Thursday's opening round and boasted a three-stroke edge as the field of 129 teed off today for the final 18 holes over Brookside Country Club's 6,681 - yard, par 72 course.

Jilek, three-time Columbus district champion and an entry in this "in between" tournament for the first time, had four birdies and two bogies in the trip over his home course.

In second place with 73 is M. L. Gabriel, also of Columbus, who scrambled all over the course but made up for it on the greens where he required only 24 putts against a regulation 36.

Defending champion E. W. (Hoagy) Charmichael of Springfield wound up in a four-way tie for third at 75 strokes. He lost three strokes to Jilek on the 527-yard No. 11 hole where he took a double bogey 7 to Jilek's birdie 4.

The field of 129 is the greatest ever attracted by the tournament, last year's 88 being the previous high.

Should Jilek win, it would mark the fourth straight time the title has gone to a host-course player. Carmichael won it last year at Springfield, Hamilton Hedges at Columbus Country Club in 1957, and Dr. E. E. Pinnell at Dayton in 1956.

Pinnell had 82 and Hedges 83 in Thursday's opener.

Other scores included:

Eugene Hanhart, New Philadelphia 43-46—89
George Harvey, New Philadelphia 43-42—85
William Phillips, New Philadelphia 44-40—84
Ralph Heffner, Lima 38-40—78
Lester Bishop, Massillon 39-41—80
Frank Roberts, Lima 40-39—79
John Jacob, Canton 39-36—75
Arthur Bowers, Steubenville 43-44—87
Albert Sunseri, Steubenville 42-46—88
Dale Rose, Mansfield 40-41—81
Gene Zediker, Mansfield 40-41—81
P. J. Linster, Mansfield 40-45—85
Carl Rupp, Mansfield 43-43—86
M. D. Ward, Mansfield 44-41—85
Walter Hartsock, Salem 44-41—85
Cliff Sweeney, Middletown 39-44—83
M. B. Sanderson, Middletown 40-40—80

Pott Takes Lead In Chicago Open

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Pott, a recent bridegroom seeking his first pro tourney victory, today marched into the second round of the $57,000 Chicago Open with a one-stroke lead after a record-smashing 63.

Pott, 23, former Louisiana State star who turned pro in 1957, said he was still "on my honeymoon and higher in the clouds than ever" after his 7-under-par attack on Gleneagles 6,350-yard acreage.

Swimming Marks Fall

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three U. S. records fell as the three-day Invitational Swimming meet opened Thursday.

Gary Heinrich, Oakland, Calif., swam the 400-meter individual medly in 5:13.3 to break his own record of 5:20.2 set last year.

Marianne Hargreaves, Los Angeles, did the 300-meter women's breaststroke in 2:57.6, surpassing her record 2:58.3 of last year.

In Face Of Faubus Warning

Little Rock's School Board Makes Integration Official

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock school board, in the face of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' warning of possible violence, Thursday night officially announced plans to operate Little Rock's high schools on an integrated basis this fall.

Faubus said at a press conference less than 36 hours before that he felt integrated schools could not be operated here without the backing of federal force.

The governor was not available for comment on Thursday night's action.

The five-man board announced the unanimous decision in a terse statement after a brief executive decision.

Unofficial plans to open the schools under a token program of integration were announced last Thursday after a three-judge federal court struck down a Faubus-sponsored school closing law and returned control of the schools to the board.

Faubus shut the four high schools last Sept. 12 after the U. S. Supreme Court rejected a bid for a delay in integration. Federal troops enforced integration of Central High School during the 1957-58 term and special federal marshals had been recruited to protect seven Negroes eligible to attend Central last fall.

There was no immediate indication of how many Negroes would be admitted to white schools when schools are opened. The board said it would operate under the Arkansas pupil placement law in assigning students.

4-H Club News

Some 17 attended a meeting of the Kendall 4-H Club Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Robert Dawson of Georgetown.

Mrs. Nadine Brown, Beaver County assistant home economist, was a guest. The basic steps of sewing were demonstrated. Lunch was served at noon. Miss Mary Lee Hobbs, president, conducted business.

Next meeting will be June 30 at the home of Miss Hobbs.

Demonstrations on salad and sandwiches were given by Nancy and Evelyn Shenton when the Sunshine Girls 4-H Club met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Robert Dornick of Salineville Rd., Wellsville.

Devotions were led by Nancy Shenton, who read Ps. 54 and prayer was offered by Mrs. Dornick. The pledge of allegiance was given and roll call response was a favorite book in the Bible. Money-making projects were discussed. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The meeting July 6 will be at the home of Nancy and Evelyn Shenton on the Old Irondale Rd.

The No. 16 Agriculture 4-H Club voted to contribute toward the expenses of Jim Wellington at 4-H Camp Aldersgate, Leesville, when the group met Tuesday night in Oak Ridge Presbyterian Church.

Gerald Bentz, president, presided and Jim Falconer, devotion leader, read Ps. 100. The placing of stop signs and numberings of roads was discussed. A talk on safety by Ernest Johnson and a health talk by Gerald Bentz featured the meeting. Refreshments were served 15. The club will meet July 7 at the church.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I relieve the pain of burning feet?

A. Prepare a foot bath of water as hot as can be borne. This will be found a great relief. Baths of sand, warm and moist, are also good. Bury the feet in this up to the ankles, and allow to remain from twenty to thirty minutes.

Q. How can I relieve the pain of hives?

A. By taking a teaspoonful of milk of magnesia two or three times daily. Or, dissolve one teaspoonful cream of tartar in a half glass of water and take before each meal.

Q. How can I prevent window screens from sticking, when it is desired to slide them up and down?

A. Rub laundry soap along the rods on which the screens slide, then run the screens up and down a few times.

Air Force Establishes College Grad Program

The Air Force has established an officer training school program to commission college graduates who meet its needs and standards, Sgt. Charles Ward, recruiter at City Hall, said today.

The new program was set up because many colleges do not have an Air Force Reserve Officer Training Program; Sgt. Ward explained. The new training is separate from Officer Candidate School, he added.

Accepted applicants will be sent to Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., for three months' training. Graduates will be commissioned as Air Force second lieutenants.

Sgt. Ward said men interested in the new program may obtain further information at the Air Force office on the third floor of City Hall.

Indian Chief Dies

Birth Flashed To Pole In Matter Of Minutes

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — George A. Doumani, 10,000 miles away at the South Pole, got news of the birth of his first son almost quicker than if he'd been here at home.

The Doumanis have a daughter, Sandra, 15 months.

Hammondsville Bible Class Ends With Picnic

Air Force Establishes College Grad Program

The Air Force has established an officer training school program to commission college graduates who meet its needs and standards, Sgt. Charles Ward, recruiter at City Hall, said today.

The new program was set up because many colleges do not have an Air Force Reserve Officer Training Program; Sgt. Ward explained. The new training is separate from Officer Candidate School, he added.

Accepted applicants will be sent to Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., for three months' training. Graduates will be commissioned as Air Force second lieutenants.

Sgt. Ward said men interested in the new program may obtain further information at the Air Force office on the third floor of City Hall.

Indian Chief Dies

Birth Flashed To Pole In Matter Of Minutes

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — George A. Doumani, 10,000 miles away at the South Pole, got news of the birth of his first son almost quicker than if he'd been here at home.

Children Have A Hand In Wisconsin Church

MIDDLETON, Wis. (AP) — The children of St. Bernard's Catholic Church had a hand in building the new parish.

Behind the green and white Italian marble altar is a mosaic wall 30 feet wide and 30 feet high, which they made.

An estimated 150,000 pieces of tile were placed on 15-inch squares of cardboard by 382 children in the school's seven grades. The squares later were affixed to plywood panels and arranged on the wall.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 23, 1959

AN ORDINANCE EXTENDING THE LIFE OF THE POSITION OF TEMPORARY ELECTRICIAN OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio.

SECTION 1. That the life of the position of Temporary Electrician of said City be extended for an additional period of time until July 31, 1959, at a salary of Three Hundred Eighty-six Dollars ($386.00) per month, payable semi-monthly.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that if the continuity of said job is broken, the efficiency of the various departments of the City will suffer, and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 21, 1959

AN ORDINANCE DETERMINING TO PROCEED WITH THE IMPROVEMENT OF PARTS OF BEECHWOOD STREET, CAMP ALLEY, CENTER STREET, DIVISION ALLEY, REYNOLDS STREET, BUXTON ALLEY, HAYWOOD STREET, VERNIA STREET AND BROAD STREET BY CONSTRUCTING THEREIN A SANITARY SEWER OF HARD BURNED VITRIFIED SEWER PIPE.

SECTION 1. That it is hereby determined to proceed with the improvement of Haywood Street from a point in front of Lot 36 east to a point in front of Lot 407, Camp Alley from a point in back of Lot 128 east to a point in back of Lot 406, Center Street from a point in front of Lot 129 east to a point in Division Alley, Division Alley from a point in Camp Alley north to a point in Center Street, Reynolds Street from a point in front of Lot 232 east to a point in Beechwood Street, Buxton Alley from a point in back of Lot 233 east to a point in Beechwood Street, Beechwood Street from a point in front of Lot 1 east to a point in Vernia Street, Vernia Street from a point in front of Lot 16 north to a point in Beechwood Street and Broad Street from a point in Haywood Street north to a point in Beechwood Street by constructing therein a sanitary sewer of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe, together with all necessary manholes, flush tanks, branch connections and doing everything else necessary or essential for the proper completion of said improvements, in accordance with Resolution Number 4, 1959, passed March 16, 1959, and in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles heretofore approved and now on file in the office of the Director of Public Service-Safety.

SECTION 2. That all claims for damages resulting therefrom shall be judicially inquired into before commencing of the proposed improvement, and the Solicitor be and he is hereby authorized and directed to institute proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction to inquire into such claim.

SECTION 3. That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fiftieth and the costs of intersections, shall be assessed by the foot front upon the following described lots (all of said property to be assessed being subdivided into lots and all assessed for taxation) to-wit: All lots bounding and abutting on the south side of Haywood Street, the south side of Camp Alley, the south side of Center Alley, the south side of Reynolds Street, the south side of Buxton Alley, the west side of Vernia Street, Division Alley, Beechwood Street and Broad Street between the points hereinabove set forth and described, which said lots are hereby determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the serving of said notices, the cost of construction, together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments and all other necessary expenditures.

SECTION 4. That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in five annual installments, with interest on deferred payments at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof, provided, that the owner of any property assessed may, at his option pay such assessment in cash within thirty days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

SECTION 5. That the bonds of the City of East Liverpool shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto; and notes of said City shall be issued in anticipation of the issue of such bonds.

SECTION 6. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement, not specially assessed, including the cost of intersections, together with the cost of any real estate or interest therein, purchased or appropriated, and the costs and expenses of any appropriation proceeding therefor, and the damage awarded any owner of adjoining lands and interest thereon, and the costs and expenses of any such award, shall be paid by the issuance of bonds in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 7. The City Engineer be and he is hereby directed to prepare and file with this Council a tentative assessment showing the amount to be assessed on each lot or parcel of land to be assessed.

SECTION 8. That the Director of Public Service-Safety be and he is hereby authorized and directed, as soon as the funds therefore are available, to make and execute a contract for said improvement with the lowest and best bidder after advertisement, according to law.

SECTION 9. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that the condition of the septic tanks and other means of disposing of sewage in said area is not adequate and is generally unhealthy and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 22, 1959

AN ORDINANCE TO BORROW MONEY AND ISSUE NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE CITY'S SHARE AND IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE LEVY OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF PARTS OF BEECHWOOD STREET, CAMP ALLEY, CENTER STREET, DIVISION ALLEY, REYNOLDS STREET, BUXTON ALLEY, HAYWOOD STREET, VERNIA STREET AND BROAD STREET BY CONSTRUCTING THEREIN A SANITARY SEWER OF HARD BURNED VITRIFIED SEWER PIPE.

WHEREAS, this Council has requested the City Auditor to issue his certificate as to the estimated life of the improvements to be constructed from the proceeds of the bonds hereinafter referred to and of the notes to be issued in anticipation of the said bonds, and the City Auditor has certified to this Council such estimated life as ten (10) years and has further certified maximum maturity of such bonds as ten years and such notes as five years.

NOW, THEREFORE,

SECTION 1. That it is deemed necessary to issue the bonds of the City of East Liverpool in the principal sum of Sixty Thousand Dollars ($60,000.00) in order to provide a fund for the purpose of paying the City's share of the cost and in anticipation of the collections of special assessments for the following permanent improvement, to-wit:

HAYWOOD STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 36 EAST TO A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 407, CAMP ALLEY FROM A POINT IN BACK OF LOT 128 EAST TO A POINT IN BACK OF LOT 406, CENTER STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 129 EAST TO A POINT IN DIVISION ALLEY, DIVISION ALLEY FROM A POINT IN CAMP ALLEY NORTH TO A POINT IN CENTER STREET, REYNOLDS STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 232 EAST TO A POINT IN BEECHWOOD STREET, BUXTON ALLEY FROM A POINT IN BACK OF LOT 233 EAST TO A POINT IN BEECHWOOD STREET, BEECHWOOD STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 1 EAST TO A POINT IN VERNIA STREET, VERNIA STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 16 NORTH TO A POINT IN BEECHWOOD STREET AND BROAD STREET FROM A POINT IN HAYWOOD STREET NORTH TO A POINT IN BEECHWOOD STREET by constructing therein a sanitary sewer of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe, in accordance with Resolution Number 4, 1959, passed March 16, 1959, and Ordinance Number 21, 1959, passed June 19, 1959.

SECTION 2. That said bonds of the City of East Liverpool shall be issued in said principal sum of Sixty Thousand Dollars ($60,000.00) for the purpose aforesaid. Said bonds shall be in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) each and shall be dated approximately the first day of July, 1959; shall bear interest at not to exceed five per centum per annum; said bonds shall mature as follows:

In substantially equal annual installments over a period of five years from 1960 to 1964 inclusive.

SECTION 3. That it is necessary and this Council hereby determines that notes shall be issued in anticipation of the issue of said bonds.

SECTION 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount of Sixty Thousand Dollars ($60,000.00), which sum does not exceed the amount of the bond issue, shall be issued under and by virtue of the authority of Sections 133.31 and 133.32 of the Revised Code of the State of Ohio. Such notes shall be dated the date of issuance and shall be in the denomination as fixed by the Auditor and Mayor of the City of East Liverpool, and shall be numbered as determined by the said Auditor and Mayor.

Said notes shall bear interest at the rate of not exceeding five per cent per annum until paid and the interest on said notes shall be payable at maturity until the principal sum of said notes is paid. Said notes shall not be issued for a longer period of time than one year from date thereof, and shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool upon presentation and surrender of said notes as they respectively mature.

Said notes shall be due and payable as follows: One (1) year after dates of issuance thereof.

Said notes shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor of said City and sealed with the corporate seal of the City.

Each note shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued and that it is issued in pursuance of this ordinance and under authority of the Revised Code and the General Laws of the State of Ohio and particularly Sections 133.31 and 133.32 of the Revised Code of Ohio; and said notes shall bear the name of the improvement for which they are issued legibly written or printed upon them as follows:

"BEECHWOOD AREA SEWER IMPROVEMENT NOTES"

SECTION 5. That said money so received by the issuance of said notes shall be placed to the credit of the following funds and in the amounts therein stated:

BEECHWOOD AREA SEWER IMPROVEMENT FUND, $60,000.00.

and shall be deemed appropriated for the use for which it was borrowed and shall not be used for any other purpose.

SECTION 6. That the Director of Public Service-Safety be and he is hereby authorized and directed to issue vouchers to the City Auditor for payments due under said contracts from said funds.

SECTION 7. For the payment of the principal and interest of said notes, the full faith, credit and revenues of the City of East Liverpool, be and they are hereby irrevocably pledged.

SECTION 8. Said notes shall be first offered to the Sinking Fund Trustees of the City and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said Trustees shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon (and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes), shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accured interest (and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity) shall be transferred to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund to be applied by them in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 9. The proceeds of the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments and all payments of assessments and of installments of assessments and all portions thereof, together with interest thereon, and the proceeds of the bonds to be issued to pay the City's share of said improvement, and all unexpended balance remaining unpaid in the fund after the cost and expenses of the improvement have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and interest thereon as the same shall become due and to no other purposes whatsoever, until all of said notes and said interest have been fully paid.

SECTION 10. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of notes, promptly when and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said notes at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all the taxable property in said City of East Liverpool, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period for which said notes are to run, in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said notes as and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said notes at maturity, which said tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11 of the Article XII of the Constitution.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, extended and levied upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said notes when and as the same fall due.

SECTION 11. That said tax shall be reduced or withheld from the tax duplicate to the extent that the money received in payment of said special assessments or the money received as the proceeds of the bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of said assessments or the money received as the proceeds of the bonds issued to pay the City's share of the cost of said improvement is actually in the fund available for the payment, and appropriated only for payment of said notes and interest.

SECTION 12. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 13. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that the condition of the septic tanks and other means of disposing of sewage in said area is not adequate and is generally unhealthy and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

Children Have A Hand In Wisconsin Church

MIDDLETON, Wis. (AP) — The children of St. Bernard's Catholic Church had a hand in building the new parish.

Behind the green and white Italian marble altar is a mosaic wall 30 feet wide and 30 feet high, which they made.

An estimated 150,000 pieces of tile were placed on 15-inch squares of cardboard by 382 children in the school's seven grades. The squares later were affixed to plywood panels and arranged on the wall.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 23, 1959

AN ORDINANCE EXTENDING THE LIFE OF THE POSITION OF TEMPORARY ELECTRICIAN OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio.

SECTION 1. That the life of the position of Temporary Electrician of said City be extended for an additional period of time until July 31, 1959, at a salary of Three Hundred Eighty-six Dollars ($386.00) per month, payable semi-monthly.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that if the continuity of said job is broken, the efficiency of the various departments of the City will suffer, and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 21, 1959

AN ORDINANCE DETERMINING TO PROCEED WITH THE IMPROVEMENT OF PARTS OF BEECHWOOD STREET, CAMP ALLEY, CENTER STREET, DIVISION ALLEY, REYNOLDS STREET, BUXTON ALLEY, HAYWOOD STREET, VERNIA STREET AND BROAD STREET BY CONSTRUCTING THEREIN A SANIARY SEWER OF HARD BURNED VITRIFIED SEWER PIPE.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That it is hereby determined to proceed with the improvement of Haywood Street from a point in front of Lot 36 east to a point in front of Lot 407, Camp Alley from a point in back of Lot 128 east to a point in back of Lot 406, Center Street from a point in front of Lot 129 east to a point in Division Alley, Division Alley from a point in Camp Alley north to a point in Center Street, Reynolds Street from a point in front of Lot 232 east to a point in Beechwood Street, Buxton Alley from a point in back of Lot 233 east to a point in Beechwood Street, Beechwood Street from a point in front of Lot 1 east to a point in Vernia Street, Vernia Street from a point in front of Lot 16 north to a point in Beechwood Street and Broad Street from a point in Haywood Street north to a point in Beechwood Street by constructing therein a sanitary sewer of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe, together with all necessary manholes, flush tanks, branch connections and doing everything else necessary or essential for the proper completion of said improvements, in accordance with Resolution Number 4, 1959, passed March 16, 1959, and in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles heretofore approved and now on file in the office of the Director of Public Service-Safety.

SECTION 2. That all claims for damages resulting therefrom shall be judicially inquired into before commencing of the proposed improvement, and the Solicitor be and he is hereby authorized and directed to institute proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction to inquire into such claim.

SECTION 3. That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fiftieth and the costs of intersections, shall be assessed by the foot front upon the following described lots (all of said property to be assessed being subdivided into lots and all assessed for taxation) to-wit: All lots bounding and abutting on the south side of Haywood Street, the south side of Camp Alley, the south side of Center Alley, the south side of Reynolds Street, the south side of Buxton Alley, the west side of Vernia Street, Division Alley, Beechwood Street and Broad Street between the points hereinabove set forth and described, which said lots are hereby determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the serving of said notices, the cost of construction, together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments and all other necessary expenditures.

SECTION 4. That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in five annual installments, with interest on deferred payments at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof, provided, that the owner of any property assessed may, at his option pay such assessment in cash within thirty days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

SECTION 5. That the bonds of the City of East Liverpool shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto; and notes of said City shall be issued in anticipation of the issue of such bonds.

SECTION 6. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement, not specially assessed, including the cost of intersections, together with the cost of any real estate or interest therein, purchased or appropriated, and the costs and expenses of any appropriation proceeding therefor, and the damage awarded any owner of adjoining lands and interest thereon, and the costs and expenses of any such award, shall be paid by the issuance of bonds in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 7. The City Engineer be and he is hereby directed to prepare and file with this Council a tentative assessment showing the amount to be assessed on each lot or parcel of land to be assessed.

SECTION 8. That the Director of Public Service-Safety be and he is hereby authorized and directed, as soon as the funds therefore are available, to make and execute a contract for said improvement with the lowest and best bidder after advertisement, according to law.

SECTION 9. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that the condition of the septic tanks and other means of disposing of sewage in said area is not adequate and is generally unhealthy and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

Passed this 19th day of June, 1959.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 22, 1959

AN ORDINANCE TO BORROW MONEY AND ISSUE NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE CITY'S SHARE AND IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE LEVY OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF PARTS OF BEECHWOOD STREET, CAMP ALLEY, CENTER STREET, DIVISION ALLEY, REYNOLDS STREET, BUXTON ALLEY, HAYWOOD STREET, VERNIA STREET AND BROAD STREET BY CONSTRUCTING THEREIN A SANIARY SEWER OF HARD BURNED VITRIFIED SEWER PIPE.

WHEREAS, this Council has requested the City Auditor to issue his certificate as to the estimated life of the improvements to be constructed from the proceeds of the bonds hereinafter referred to and of the notes to be issued in anticipation of the said bonds, and the City Auditor has certified to this Council such estimated life as ten (10) years and has further certified maximum maturity of such bonds as ten years and such notes as five years.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That it is deemed necessary to issue the bonds of the City of East Liverpool in the principal sum of Sixty Thousand Dollars ($60,000.00) in order to provide a fund for the purpose of paying the City's share of the cost and in anticipation of the collections of special assessments for the following permanent improvement, to-wit:

HAYWOOD STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 36 EAST TO A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 407, CAMP ALLEY FROM A POINT IN BACK OF LOT 128 EAST TO A POINT IN BACK OF LOT 406, CENTER STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 129 EAST TO A POINT IN DIVISION ALLEY, DIVISION ALLEY FROM A POINT IN CAMP ALLEY NORTH TO A POINT IN CENTER STREET, REYNOLDS STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 232 EAST TO A POINT IN BEECHWOOD STREET, BUXTON ALLEY FROM A POINT IN BACK OF LOT 233 EAST TO A POINT IN BEECHWOOD STREET, BEECHWOOD STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 1 EAST TO A POINT IN VERNIA STREET, VERNIA STREET FROM A POINT IN FRONT OF LOT 16 NORTH TO A POINT IN BEECHWOOD STREET AND BROAD STREET FROM A POINT IN HAYWOOD STREET NORTH TO A POINT IN BEECHWOOD STREET by constructing therein a sanitary sewer of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe, in accordance with Resolution Number 4, 1959, passed March 16, 1959, and Ordinance Number 21, 1959, passed June 19, 1959.

SECTION 2. That said bonds of the City of East Liverpool shall be issued in said principal sum of Sixty Thousand Dollars ($60,000.00) for the purpose aforesaid. Said bonds shall be in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) each and shall be dated approximately the first day of July, 1959; shall bear interest at not to exceed five per centum per annum; said bonds shall mature as follows:

In substantially equal annual installments over a period of five years from 1960 to 1964 inclusive.

SECTION 3. That it is necessary and this Council hereby determines that notes shall be issued in anticipation of the issue of said bonds.

SECTION 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount of Sixty Thousand Dollars ($60,000.00), which sum does not exceed the amount of the bond issue, shall be issued under and by virtue of the authority of Sections 133.31 and 133.32 of the Revised Code of the State of Ohio. Such notes shall be dated the date of issuance and shall be in the denomination as fixed by the Auditor and Mayor of the City of East Liverpool, and shall be numbered as determined by the said Auditor and Mayor.

Said notes shall bear interest at the rate of not exceeding five per cent per annum until paid and the interest on said notes shall be payable at maturity until the principal sum of said notes is paid. Said notes shall not be issued for a longer period of time than one year from date thereof, and shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool upon presentation and surrender of said notes as they respectively mature.

Said notes shall be due and payable as follows: One (1) year after dates of issuance thereof.

Said notes shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor of said City and sealed with the corporate seal of the City.

Each note shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued and that it is issued in pursuance of this ordinance and under authority of the Revised Code and the General Laws of the State of Ohio and particularly Sections 133.31 and 133.32 of the Revised Code of Ohio; and said notes shall bear the name of the improvement for which they are issued legibly written or printed upon them as follows:

"BEECHWOOD AREA SEWER IMPROVEMENT NOTES"

SECTION 5. That said money so received by the issuance of said notes shall be placed to the credit of the following funds and in the amounts therein stated:

BEECHWOOD AREA SEWER IMPROVEMENT FUND, $60,000.00,

and shall be deemed appropriated for the use for which it was borrowed and shall not be used for any other purpose.

SECTION 6. That the Director of Public Service-Safety be and he is hereby authorized and directed to issue vouchers to the City Auditor for payments due under said contracts from said funds.

SECTION 7. For the payment of the principal and interest of said notes, the full faith, credit and revenues of the City of East Liverpool, be and they are hereby irrevocably pledged.

SECTION 8. Said notes shall be first offered to the Sinking Fund Trustees of the City and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said Trustees shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon (and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes), shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accured interest (and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity) shall be transferred to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund to be applied by them in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 9. The proceeds of the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments and all payments of assessments and of installments of assessments and all portions thereof, together with interest thereon, and the proceeds of the bonds to be issued to pay the City's share of said improvement, and all unexpended balance remaining unpaid in the fund after the cost and expenses of the improvement have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and interest thereon as the same shall become due and to no other purposes whatsoever, until all of said notes and said interest have been fully paid.

SECTION 10. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of notes, promptly when and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said notes at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all the taxable property in said City of East Liverpool, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period for which said notes are to run, in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said notes as and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said notes at maturity, which said tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11 of the Article XII of the Constitution.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, extended and levied upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said notes when and as the same fall due.

SECTION 11. That said tax shall be reduced or withheld from the tax duplicate to the extent that the money received in payment of said special assessments or the money received as the proceeds of the bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of said assessments or the money received as the proceeds of the bonds issued to pay the City's share of the cost of said improvement is actually in the fund available for the payment, and appropriated only for payment of said notes and interest.

SECTION 12. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 13. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that the condition of the septic tanks and other means of disposing of sewage in said area is not adequate and is generally unhealthy and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

More Bills Advanced In Assembly

By DUANE E. CROFT

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The Ohio House passed Thursday a bill to shuffle the powers of the Department of Liquor Control and to boost the salaries of the Board of Liquor Control.

It also approved state reclamation of land strip mined before 1958 but rejected an amendment by Rep. Joseph Loha (D-Jefferson) to extend present reclamation requirements on strippers.

Meanwhile the Senate passed unanimously a bill to increase the benefits and contributions in the three major public retirement systems.

The Liquor Control Bill, a watered-down version of a reorganization measure fought by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, was deemed to be in trouble because of last-minute opposition work by prohibitionists, but a pre-session Democratic caucus apparently saved it and it received an 83-38 vote.

It would take from the board and give to the director virtually all the powers concerned with the administration of the state's 250-million-dollar retail liquor business.

It raises the board members' and the chairman's pay from $6,500 to $11,000 to permit better enforcement of the requirement that they devote full time to their jobs. Under the bill, future chairmen would have to be lawyers with at least five years' practice.

It also would give to the department the right to buy, instead of lease, its stores and warehouse properties.

Loha carried to the floor the fight he had made in committee to extend the present reclamation law to cover the last cut which strippers are not now required to replace.

He argued that the additional cost would be no more than a penny a ton and said the strippers had a moral obligation to return all the land, which they mine for profit, to some usable state for Ohio's citizens.

But opponents of his amendment, including Rep. Robert Longsworth (R-Carroll), charged that the cost would be prohibitive and would destroy the Ohio coal industry's competitive position.

Loha's amendment went down to defeat by a 76-38 vote.

The bill itself, which was passed 85-30, would transfer the Division of Reclamation from the Agriculture Department to the Department of Natural Resources and would let the state buy up or receive by gift some 45,000 acres of land not covered by the present reclamation law which went into effect in 1948.

The state could reclaim the lands and either keep them for public use or resell them to private owners.

INCREASE employes' contributions from 6 to 7 per cent.

INCREASE the minimum monthly benefit from $63 to $72.

INCREASE survivors' benefits by decreasing the eligibility requirement from 3 to 1½ years.

DECREASE the years of service for full benefit from 40 to 35.

The bill carries an emergency clause to put it into effect immediately after final enactment by the House and signature by the governor.

The total cost to the state and local governments for their share of the contribution is estimated at $10,547,000 a year. Broken down among the systems, the government cost for the teachers would be $4,107,000; for the school employes, $768,000; for public employes, $5,762,000.

Mrs. Klumpp Back On Stand

CINCINNATI (AP) — Edythe Klythe Klumpp goes back to the witness stand at her murder trial here today—this time under the biting cross-examination of Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hover and his aides.

Mrs. Klumpp, blonde 41-year-old divorcee accused of killing Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32, last Oct. 30, was on the witness stand in her own behalf for more than three hours Thursday. That was in direct examination under the questioning of defense attorney William F. Hopkins.

Hopkins, always a showman in front of a jury, frequently was snappish at Mrs. Klumpp as she told her story of her illicit romance with Mrs. Bergen's estranged husband, William.

He was at his showman's best as he and Mrs. Klumpp reenacted her version of the shooting of Mrs. Bergen on a secluded park street here. The reenactment was done on and behind the front seat of Mrs. Klumpp's car. The seat had been set up on the courtroom floor in front of the jury.

Hopkins dramatically pointed the gun at Mrs. Klumpp as she knelt behind him. Then he had her demonstrate how she says she grabbed the weapon. He had her push him down on the seat as she says she did Mrs. Bergen, and show how the gun was pushed under Mrs. Bergen's chin where, Mrs. Klumpp says, it was discharged accidentally in the struggle.

Mrs. Klumpp is accused of shooting and beating Mrs. Bergen to death and then burning her body the next day at Lake Cowan in nearby Clinton County. The state says she wanted to marry Bergen, 10 years her junior, with whom she had been living for several months.

During the long direct examination, Mrs. Klumpp covered these points:

She denied she ever told Bergen she was pregnant in May of last year, as he had testified. He said that led to their living together as man and wife.

She said she met Mrs. Bergen several times and that the meetings always were friendly.

She said Bergen had "gotten kinda cool to me" last fall and that she suspected there was a third woman in his life.

She said she did not go to authorities or tell Bergen about the fatal shooting of Mrs. Bergen because "I didn't think they would believe me."

She denied any premeditation or intention of killing Mrs. Bergen.

She claimed again that police promised her she would be charged only with manslaughter and released under bond if she would make a statement about the slaying.

And she said Mrs. Bergen told her she (Mrs. Bergen) had been going out with a married man and "with a big hillbilly" and that she had no intention of reunion with her legal husband — as Bergen testified previously he desired.

How To Prepare Child For School

You who have a child who will enter kindergarten or first grade next fall are thinking now of ways to get him ready. From your PTA or conference with the school principal, kindergarten or first grade teacher, you have gained much guidance for doing so. Accordingly, you want to have your child strong and healthy. You have had him checked by your dentist and doctor and are making sure that any dental or surgical needs are supplied at once. If, for instance, your doctor advises the child's tonsils be removed he will tell you when it should be done.

By Garry Meyers

YOU HAVE heard the teachers emphasize the importance of self reliance in the youngster—looking after himself, taking care of his own things and working and playing happily with other children of his own age.

You have heard them say how important it is for the child entering school to put on his own sweater, coat or rubbers and to learn to pay attention to what is explained or told to all the children he is with, and also to learn to obey some simple rules made for his group.

Again, you may have heard a teacher say that some children entering school are so tied to their mothers that they are not happy there, or demand undue attention from the teacher.

PERHAPS THEY want to be near her most of the time, not even wishing to join the other children in play at recess. And when other children draw, color, mold with clay or, later, print or write, read or spell, this type of child does nothing unless the teacher stands right by him and tells him what to do next.

"Some children are like that for several years in school," the teacher may have said.

You have concluded that for your child to get on well at school he will need to do some things all by himself and to stick to the job till it's done.

Therefore, you will resolve to do your best with this child from now on to cultivate in him self-help, self-reliance and good habits of conforming to some family rules and regulations.

YOU WILL want him to learn to feel comfortable out of your sight and hearing for short or longer periods of time and to find ways for fun with other children of his age, also by himself. You will want him to learn at home to respect the rights and possessions of other persons there and elsewhere.

Fortunate will your child be if you parents have been reading to him daily for several years and keep on doing so.
